The Editor's Column

HEARD A DISCUSSION over the radio Saturday from Northwestern University on the question, "Do we have a free press in this country?" One group claimed that the big dailies are not free because their news stories are controlled by the policies of the publishers.

THE AFFIRMATIVE took the stand that it is the publisher's investment that makes possible the newspaper and the fact that he is free to control the policies of his newspaper is proof that American newspapers are free.

NEWSPAPERS of today were criticised because they publish what the public wants to read, not what the public should read. The debaters contradicted themselves when they stated that editorial opinion should be strictly reserved for the editorial page and only facts should appear in the news stories. The next moment they stated that newspapers should censor the bad happenings that are occuring all around the world and publish more of the cultural events.

THIS EDITOR is not taking sides on the question, but he does know that readers of this paper enjoy reading complimentary words and sentences in news stories about their favorite charity and about their friends. We believe that every newspaper has a civic obligation to advance the welfare of the community and whatever is helpful to the community even if it takes news stories with a tinge of editorialism.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS come into the category of the free press, or do the policies of its publishers place it with the "controlled" press? The debaters at Northwestern University could not agree on the status of the metropolitan press and we leave the status of our papers up to our readers.

WE HEAR A LOT about the cause of juvenile delinquency. The blame is usually placed on parents. Too many parents think that as soon as a son gets his first date he is on his own and as soon as the girl learns how to use lipstick her future is up to her.

For the benefit of those parents who are so busy that they have adopted the above policy, one speaker at Sunday's N. U. roundtable stated that the future of the child depends upon the training that he receives during the first six years of his life.

SO, PARENTS, your responsibility for the future of your boy or girl ends when he or she is six years old. You do not have to wait until the daughter has learned to use lipstick or the boy discovers it is fun holding a girl's hand. The future of our offspring is up to the schools and society.

"TRICKS OR TREATS" was their demand at the first house visited. The lady of the house tried to explain that she had purchased candy for the young children of the neighborhood that she had expected to call that evening, but she had nothing else. The boys grew loud in their demands and the woman produced the candy. The big boys deny to the police that they got even the next night by wrecking some of the landscaping that had just been completed.

THREE YEARS AGO boys of similar age would have been facing army draft and about to become acquainted the hard way with their obligations to society and their government. Evidently the 1947 budding crop of manhood are still only kids. If a universal draft or World War III arrives, it will at least introduce our 1947 teeners to their responsibilities.

RICHARD TONNE, 7223 Paltine ave., Chicago, called at our office this week, renewing his paper for the 49th time. He has been reading Paddock Publications ever since H. C. Paddock with his horse and buggy called at his farm near Devon ave., Elk Grove township.

Mr. Tonne is of the Busse clan, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary of arrival in America next July. Referring to the large number of descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Johann Busse, Mr. Tonne said, "we are as numerous as the stars in heaven."

WE HAVE HEARD over the radio many invitations from Aunt Jemima to enjoy pancakes. We are not only going to eat pancakes, but watch Aunt Jemima make them Monday night at the Methodist church. It is the annual pancake and sausage supper of Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts. Service will be in order of arrival, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

E. J. Krause business man dies suddenly

A second Arlington Heights business man died within a week. E. J. Krause, familiarly called "Jake," passed away suddenly Monday morning. His death is attributed to acute coronary occlusion. He had made a delivery with his truck and was on his way home when stricken.

AS HE PASSED Vail street, on Campbell, he waved to Max Warson. The attack must have come immediately afterwards, but he had the presence of mind to shut off his motor and drive to the side of the road. The car had sufficient headway to crash into an obstruction.

Discovery of his condition was made by employees of Knaack Motor Sales, who, driving out of the service road, found their way obstructed by Mr. Krause's truck. Jake was slumped to the side of the car. Dr. Carr, who was immediately called, stated that he had been dead about ten minutes.

MR. KRAUSE conducted a meat market on Campbell street from 1928 to 1943 when, due to rationing restrictions, he sold to his uncle, Otto Krause. He has since that time dealt in the purchase of cattle, following the footsteps of his father, the late Waldemar Krause. His home was at the west end of Campbell street.

Deceased enjoyed hunting. He was one of the organizers of the Arlington Sportsmen's Club. He cooperated with the state conservation department and for a time raised pheasants.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home with interment in Randhill cemetery. Rev. Kossack, a life-long friend of Jake and himself an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman, will conduct the services and say the last words over the remains of his friend.

All is well

Hallowe'en no longer means a night of deviltry and fear in Arlington Heights. The younger generation has shown that they really enjoy a sane celebration. No one can tell us that the coming generation is going to the dogs—not Arlington Heights young people.

The majority of the celebrations that replaced the old-time deviltry were planned by the young people themselves.

Radio commentators and writers may spread new war rumors, but all is peaceful in Arlington Heights.

Adults as happy as the children over Hallowe'en festivities

All residents, adults and children alike, enjoyed Hallowe'en. The children because of the parties planned for them and the adults because of respect of private property shown by the younger generation. Even windows in the business district escaped their periodical "soaping."

The police report that it was an uneventful night. "We had divided the town into districts and were prepared to act promptly in cases of wanton destruction," states Chief Skoog, "but the evening was quieter than usual."

Pupils of the lower grades of the schools had their party Friday afternoon. The parades at the south and north school were very colorful. The sixth grade held their party Thursday from four o'clock until seven, each pupil bringing his own supper. The upper grades celebrated Friday evening.

Brownies, girl scouts and cub scouts all had parties Friday evening. The Brownies and Girl Scouts, with witches, goblins, and ghosts in great array of pumpkins and other Hallowe'en colors made merry at the Presbyterian church. The Cub Scouts celebrated at their various den meetings.

The largest Hallowe'en party was at the Youth Center, which was an even greater success than a year ago. Story appears elsewhere.

Indoor circus at high school in two performances Sunday

The circus is coming! The calliope will whistle its merry tunes. There will be popcorn, peanuts, and big red ballons. The clowns will cavort in the sawdust ring, aerialists will thrill the crowd. Trained horses, monkeys, dogs, ponies and lions will prance and leap on an especially designed protective ring pad which covers highly polished floors. The cowboys and cowgirls will spin ropes, crack their whips and throw knives.

IT IS THE Ayres and Kathryn Davies Indoor Circus, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Youth Center at the high school gym Sunday, November 9, for two performances, 3:30 and 7:30.

Tickets at 76c for adults and 50c for children and students, will be on sale at the public elementary schools and the Lutheran school Thursday and Friday, from 3:00 to 4:15, and at the St. James Thursday and Friday from 12 noon to 12:30. Tickets are also available at the public schools of Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights, and at the high school and youth center.

Friendly Circle play

All women will be in the cast of "The Little Red Schoolhouse," which is the title of the play to be given tonight, Thursday, and Friday night, by the Friendly Circle of St. John's church, Arlington Heights. The curtain goes up at 8 p.m.

Besides the play, musical entertainment will be given during the intermission between acts.

Home of seven badly damaged by Sunday fire

The family of Vernon Koepke, who reside southwest of Central and Arlington Heights road, Arlington Heights, were driven from their home at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. When a door to the garage-utility room was opened by a member of the family, a mass of flames entered the living room. The family made no attempt to save anything, except their lives.

The youngest of the five children is only 16 months old. Others are three boys, 4, 10 and 13 years and a girl of eight years.

MT. PROSPECT and Prospect Heights rural fire departments answered the call for help and were able to save the residence, but the interior is greatly damaged. Included in the loss is the refrigerator, a new electric stove, household furniture, bedding and considerable clothing.

Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary has announced a benefit dance to be held in the Legion Hall Saturday, November 15. Donations of 50c will be accepted. Persons who have clothing suitable for the years mentioned should call 1769-W.

The cause of the fire is unknown, except that a hot water heater was burning. The family is residing with a relative until their home can be made habitable.

A call to Arlington Heights was unanswered because that village has no effective equipment for fighting rural fires.

Open bids on northside well improvement

The village of Arlington Hgts. has heavy investments in its water system. A substantial part of the operating profits must frequently be used for major investments on new improvement. Bids opened by the board Monday evening for new equipment and building alterations total over $12,000, an amount which more than equals the normal profits of the water department over a number of years.

ACCUMULATED PROFITS make possible such a major improvement without the issuance of a special bond issue, but it is only a question of time before it will be necessary to raise water rates to the larger consumers, who are at present receiving water on a non-profit basis to the village.

The base bids opened Monday evening are:

Weisenbach & Bach (building only), $1,680.

J. P. Miller Artesian Well Co., pump, $8,695; building, $1,600; electric, $3,525.

Standard Power and Equipment Co., pump, $8,150; electric, $3,440.

A special meeting will be held Monday to receive recommendation of engineers.

FIVE TRUCK BIDS were also opened Monday night. They are:

Evanston Mack Truck, EFS model, $4,690; EES $4,373.

Diamond T, 2 ton truck, $3,027.67.

Geo. C. Poole, $2,533.30; $3,045.95.

Lattof Motor Sales, $2,834 (without sales tax).

Reiland & Bree, International, $3,952.80.

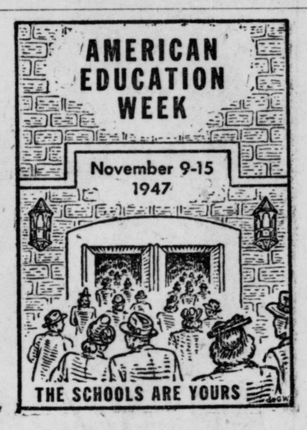
Delivery dates varied from three weeks to 45 days. Bids were taken under advisement.

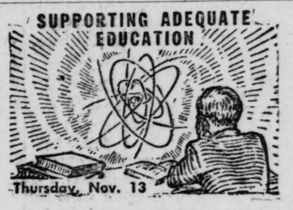
TWENTY-FOUR PUPILS, members of the eighth grade of the north school with their instructor, Miss Lucile Hagman, got an insight in municipal government by attending the earlier part of Monday night's session.

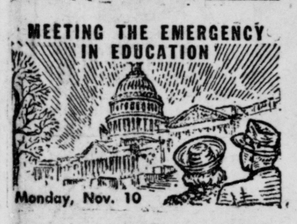
Boy Scouts' pancake supper Monday night

Pancakes and sausages are on the menu for many Arlington Heights families for Monday night, November 10, when local boy scouts of troop 7 are sponsoring their second annual pancake and sausage supper. Aunt Jemima will be on hand to flip the flapjacks at the Methodist Meeting House.

The boy scout troop, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club, will use the funds received at the dinner for further youth activities in the community. With serving honors slated for 5:30 to 7 p.m., a good crowd is foreseen, giving many mothers "a night out" from cooking chores.







Fred W. Gieseke, Heights' foremost business man, dies

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road. His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church. Remains are resting at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

MR. GIESEKE'S activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road, south of Euclid road, also the area south of South street, west of State road.

Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter church. The present chimes in that church were given by him as a memorial. He was a devoted husband and father.

THE DECEASED was one of the organizers, directors and later president of the Peoples State Bank. He had a wide acquaintance, especially among the farmers of adjoining townships who not only accorded him their business, but also looked upon him as their friend and counselor whose advice could be asked at any time.

Mr. Gieseke was one of eleven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gieseke of Schaumburg and and is the first one of them to pass away.

Brothers are John H. and Edwin W. of Roselle; Louis of Hebron; Herman and Arthur of Crystal Lake; Emil of Chicago and William of Schaumburg. Sisters are Mrs. Clara Fasse, Roselle; Mrs. Emilie Wilke, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Alma Rohlwing, Elk Grove.

He leaves his wife, Emma, nee Pfingsten. Children are Mrs. Helen Winkelman, Mrs. Henrietta Lemke and Fred Jr., of Arlington Heights; Miss Loretta Fenz and John W. Fenz and eight grandchildren.

FRED HAD lived his entire life in Cook county. Born March 16, 1883, in Schaumburg, he came to Arlington following his marriage to Miss Hermine Fenz. She passed away Sept. 28, 1942. He married Emma Pfingsten July 8, 1945.

Armistice day observance

The American Legion and Arlington Post V. F. W. announce that memorial services in commemoration of the honored dead, will be conducted Armistice day, November 11, between 10:30 and 11 o'clock a. m. in Railroad Park, Dunton and Davis sts. The Rev. C. Victor Brown of the Presbyterian church, always a forceful and inspiring orator, will be the speaker on this occasion. All ex-servicemen are urged to attend and participate in these ceremonies.

CLIFTON HYLAND, NOTED photographer, will talk on photographic lighting Tuesday, November 11th, at 8:00 p. m. in the Arlington Heights high school.

Few go to polls

Only 500 of the registered voters in Wheeling township went to the polls Tuesday. So little interest was shown that no record of local voting was retained by the election officials.

There was an average of 38 votes to a precinct. All of the bond propositions were carried and the Coalition ticket was successful, although only 25,000 votes separate Wilbert F. Crowley, low man on that ticket and Prof. Homer F. Carey, who made one of the greatest independent runs for the judiciary in Cook county.

Return home to find garage razed by fire

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Immerman, who reside northeast of Arlington Heights, returned home near midnight the other evening, they discovered that not only had their garage burned down, but all of the material collected to complete the interior finishing of their home had also been destroyed. One corner of their house was badly scorched.

The fire, cause unknown, was discovered by neighbors who stated that the garage seemed to be a mass of flames at one time. They called several fire companies and Palatine rural league responded, although the place was outside of its regular district.

WHEN THE FIREMEN arrived neighbors had removed all furnishings of the house, expecting the residence would also be destroyed. Firemen soon had the blaze under control, completing the job after taking water from one of the Arlington fire hydrants.

The subdivision in which the Immerman home is located is without any fire protection. The willingness of Palatine to answer their call saved their house.

Local banks to close Tuesday

All local banks will be closed Tuesday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

Mother killed on way home from visit to daughter

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, 1812 Sherman ave., Evanston, mother of Mrs. E. C. Bussert, 8. So. Louis, Mt. Prospect, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, a short time after she had been hit by a car driven by Mrs. Mary Glaeser, 618½ Sheridan road, Evanston.

Mrs. Russell had taken care of her grandchildren in Mt. Prospect while her daughter, Mrs. Bussert spent the day in Chicago. She was crossing Northwest Highway to wait for the east bound Evanston bus when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time.

Chief Whittenberg was on the scene almost as soon as the accident occurred. While on his way to the station to call for an ambulance, word of the accident came over the radio. Death from a broken neck came a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Deceased was the widow of Dr. W. B. Russell, who was a missonary in China many years. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Bussert, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Kapsy Webster and Boyd Russell.

Businessmen join aldermen in side-stepping parking solution

Members of the village board elected last spring are not the only ones who are side-stepping the parking problem. Secretary Doug. Brown of the Chamber of Commerce advertised a meeting for last Monday night when parking meters were to be discussed. Only 18 businessmen were sufficiently interested to show up and some of them were unfavorable to meters.

A village board meeting kept its members away. With such a small number in attendance no vote was taken and no recommendation was made to the village board.

The speaker, Robt. Hardman, knew all the answers and had all the "pros" and "cons" at his finger tips.

Hunting season opens at noon next Tuesday

Illinois Department of Conservation has asked newspapers to warn hunters that the 1947 season does not open until 12:00 o'clock noon, November 11—not at daylight. After the opening day hunting can start at sunrise. The restriction until noon on opening day applies to hunting all kinds of game and is not restricted to pheasants. The season extends to Nov. 25th.

Local game wardens have been appointed and have authority to make arrests.

Arlington to ask for its share of sales tax

Attorney Hugo J. Thal was instructed Monday evening by the village of Arlington Heights to join other cities in asking that a part of the state sales tax be turned back to the municipalities in which it is collected.

Petitions will be circulated in Arlington asking the state commerce commission to direct the Northwestern R. R. to issue 46-ride monthly tickets, selling them at $9.70, the price charged prior to Nov. 1 for the 54-ride tickets.

Public invited to visit schools during observance

The Arlington Heights Township High School and the Public Elementary Schools will observe American Education Week during the week of Nov. 9-15. American Education Week is sponsored jointly by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Both school systems extend a special invitation to the patrons to visit their schools during this week.

EDUCATIONAL exhibits will be placed in some of the windows in the business section of Arlington Heights by the various departments of the high school. These displays are being exhibited in order that the persons in the community who cannot visit the school may learn the nature of the high school activities. Following is a list of the departments represented and the business concerns where these exhibits are located:

Agriculture: Krause and Kehe; Social Science, Smith's Tailor Shop; English, Suburban Cleaners; Commercial, Hartmann's Shoe Store; Mathematics, Warson Beauty Shop; Machine Shop and Mechanical Drawing, Reese Hardware; Athletics, Millay Ice Cream; Library, Rodewald's News Agency; Home Economics, Silhouette Shop.

Art, Emery Cole and Co.; Latin and Spanish, Gieseke's Department Store; Dramatics Department (Class Play), Krause's Meat Market; Audio Visual Education, Electronics; Journalism, Arlington Restaurant.

THROUGH the courtesy of the local theater, a two minute trailer entitled, "The Schools Are Yours," will be shown during this period. This film features the importance of teaching and is narrated by Lowell Thomas.

The local schools are making a continuous effort to bring about the participation of the members of the community in the program of the schools.

THESE PUBLIC schools belong to the people and every citizen is a shareholder in the enterprise. School buildings are built and equipped in response to ballot-box directions. Teachers are employed by boards of education elected by the voters. The schools are financed from public funds. American Education Week provides opportunities for planning together to build a better world through education for all.

The theme of this year's observance is "The Schools Are Yours." The Boards of Education and the staff of the two local public school systems urge the people of this community to join with them in providing good schools, to meet the needs of this atomic age.

MT. PROSPECT and Prospect Heights rural fire departments answered the call for help and were able to save the residence, but the interior is greatly damaged. Included in the loss is the refrigerator, a new electric stove, household furniture, bedding and considerable clothing.

Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary has announced a benefit dance to be held in the Legion Hall Saturday, November 15. Donations of 50c will be accepted. Persons who have clothing suitable for the years mentioned should call 1769-W.

The cause of the fire is unknown, except that a hot water heater was burning. The family is residing with a relative until their home can be made habitable.

A call to Arlington Heights was unanswered because that village has no effective equipment for fighting rural fires.

Open bids on northside well improvement

The village of Arlington Hgts. has heavy investments in its water system. A substantial part of the operating profits must frequently be used for major investments on new improvement. Bids opened by the board Monday evening for new equipment and building alterations total over $12,000, an amount which more than equals the normal profits of the water department over a number of years.

ACCUMULATED PROFITS make possible such a major improvement without the issuance of a special bond issue, but it is only a question of time before it will be necessary to raise water rates to the larger consumers, who are at present receiving water on a non-profit basis to the village.

The base bids opened Monday evening are:

Weisenbach & Bach (building only), $1,680.

J. P. Miller Artesian Well Co., pump, $8,695; building, $1,600; electric, $3,525.

Standard Power and Equipment Co., pump, $8,150; electric, $3,440.

A special meeting will be held Monday to receive recommendation of engineers.

FIVE TRUCK BIDS were also opened Monday night. They are:

Evanston Mack Truck, EFS model, $4,690; EES $4,373.

Diamond T, 2 ton truck, $3,-027.67.

Geo. C. Poole, $2,533.30; $3,-045.95.

Lattof Motor Sales, $2,834 (without sales tax).

Reiland & Bree, International, $3,952.80.

Delivery dates varied from three weeks to 45 days. Bids were taken under advisement.

TWENTY-FOUR PUPILS, members of the eighth grade of the north school with their instructor, Miss Lucile Hagman, got an insight in municipal government by attending the earlier part of Monday night's session.

Boy Scouts' pancake supper Monday night

Pancakes and sausages are on the menu for many Arlington Heights families for Monday night, November 10, when local boy scouts of troop 7 are sponsoring their second annual pancake and sausage supper. Aunt Jemima will be on hand to flip the flapjacks at the Methodist Meeting House.

The boy scout troop, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club, will use the funds received at the dinner for further youth activities in the community. With serving honors slated for 5:30 to 7 p.m., a good crowd is foreseen, giving many mothers "a night out" from cooking chores.

Fred W. Gieseke, Heights' foremost business man, dies

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road. His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church. Remains are resting at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

MR. GIESEKE'S activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road, south of Euclid road, also the area south of South street, west of State road.

Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter church. The present chimes in that church were given by him as a memorial. He was a devoted husband and father.

THE DECEASED was one of the organizers, directors and later president of the Peoples State Bank. He had a wide acquaintance, especially among the farmers of adjoining townships who not only accorded him their business, but also looked upon him as their friend and counselor whose advice could be asked at any time.

Mr. Gieseke was one of eleven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gieseke of Schaumburg and and is the first one of them to pass away.

Brothers are John H. and Edwin W. of Roselle; Louis of Hebron; Herman and Arthur of Crystal Lake; Emil of Chicago and William of Schaumburg. Sisters are Mrs. Clara Fasse, Roselle; Mrs. Emilie Wilke, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Alma Rohlwing, Elk Grove.

He leaves his wife, Emma, nee Pfingsten. Children are Mrs. Helen Winkelman, Mrs. Henrietta Lemke and Fred Jr., of Arlington Heights; Miss Loretta Fenz and John W. Fenz and eight grandchildren.

FRED HAD lived his entire life in Cook county. Born March 16, 1883, in Schaumburg, he came to Arlington following his marriage to Miss Hermine Fenz. She passed away Sept. 28, 1942. He married Emma Pfingsten July 8, 1945.

The Rev. C. Victor Brown of the Presbyterian church, always a forceful and inspiring orator, will be the speaker on this occasion. All ex-servicemen are urged to attend and participate in these ceremonies.

Few go to polls

Only 500 of the registered voters in Wheeling township went to the polls Tuesday. So little interest was shown that no record of local voting was retained by the election officials.

There was an average of 38 votes to a precinct. All of the bond propositions were carried and the Coalition ticket was successful, although only 25,000 votes separate Wilbert F. Crowley, low man on that ticket and Prof. Homer F. Carey, who made one of the greatest independent runs for the judiciary in Cook county.

Return home to find garage razed by fire

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Immerman, who reside northeast of Arlington Heights, returned home near midnight the other evening, they discovered that not only had their garage burned down, but all of the material collected to complete the interior finishing of their home had also been destroyed. One corner of their house was badly scorched.

The fire, cause unknown, was discovered by neighbors who stated that the garage seemed to be a mass of flames at one time. They called several fire companies and Palatine rural league responded, although the place was outside of its regular district.

WHEN THE FIREMEN arrived neighbors had removed all furnishings of the house, expecting the residence would also be destroyed. Firemen soon had the blaze under control, completing the job after taking water from one of the Arlington fire hydrants.

The subdivision in which the Immerman home is located is without any fire protection. The willingness of Palatine to answer their call saved their house.

Local banks to close Tuesday

All local banks will be closed Tuesday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

Mother killed on way home from visit to daughter

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, 1812 Sherman ave., Evanston, mother of Mrs. E. C. Bussert, 8. So. Louis, Mt. Prospect, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, a short time after she had been hit by a car driven by Mrs. Mary Glaeser, 618½ Sheridan road, Evanston.

Mrs. Russell had taken care of her grandchildren in Mt. Prospect while her daughter, Mrs. Bussert spent the day in Chicago. She was crossing Northwest Highway to wait for the east bound Evanston bus when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time.

Chief Whittenberg was on the scene almost as soon as the accident occurred. While on his way to the station to call for an ambulance, word of the accident came over the radio. Death from a broken neck came a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Deceased was the widow of Dr. W. B. Russell, who was a missonary in China many years. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Bussert, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Kapsy Webster and Boyd Russell.

Businessmen join aldermen in side-stepping parking solution

Members of the village board elected last spring are not the only ones who are side-stepping the parking problem. Secretary Doug. Brown of the Chamber of Commerce advertised a meeting for last Monday night when parking meters were to be discussed. Only 18 businessmen were sufficiently interested to show up and some of them were unfavorable to meters.

A village board meeting kept its members away. With such a small number in attendance no vote was taken and no recommendation was made to the village board.

The speaker, Robt. Hardman, knew all the answers and had all the "pros" and "cons" at his finger tips.

Hunting season opens at noon next Tuesday

Illinois Department of Conservation has asked newspapers to warn hunters that the 1947 season does not open until 12:00 o'clock noon, November 11—not at daylight. After the opening day hunting can start at sunrise. The restriction until noon on opening day applies to hunting all kinds of game and is not restricted to pheasants. The season extends to Nov. 25th.

Local game wardens have been appointed and have authority to make arrests.

Arlington to ask for its share of sales tax

Attorney Hugo J. Thal was instructed Monday evening by the village of Arlington Heights to join other cities in asking that a part of the state sales tax be turned back to the municipalities in which it is collected.

Petitions will be circulated in Arlington asking the state commerce commission to direct the Northwestern R. R. to issue 46-ride monthly tickets, selling them at $9.70, the price charged prior to Nov. 1 for the 54-ride tickets.

Public invited to visit schools during observance

The Arlington Heights Township High School and the Public Elementary Schools will observe American Education Week during the week of Nov. 9-15. American Education Week is sponsored jointly by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Both school systems extend a special invitation to the patrons to visit their schools during this week.

EDUCATIONAL exhibits will be placed in some of the windows in the business section of Arlington Heights by the various departments of the high school. These displays are being exhibited in order that the persons in the community who cannot visit the school may learn the nature of the high school activities. Following is a list of the departments represented and the business concerns where these exhibits are located:

Agriculture: Krause and Kehe; Social Science, Smith's Tailor Shop; English, Suburban Cleaners; Commercial. Hartmann's Shoe Store; Mathematics, Warson Beauty Shop; Machine Shop and Mechanical Drawing, Reese Hardware; Athletics, Millay Ice Cream; Library, Rodewald's News Agency; Home Economics, Silhouette Shop.

Art, Emery Cole and Co.; Latin and Spanish, Gieseke's Department Store; Dramatics Department (Class Play), Krause's Meat Market; Audio Visual Education, Electronics; Journalism, Arlington Restaurant.

THROUGH the courtesy of the local theater, a two minute trailer entitled, "The Schools Are Yours," will be shown during this period. This film features the importance of teaching and is narrated by Lowell Thomas.

The local schools are making a continuous effort to bring about the participation of the members of the community in the program of the schools.

THESE PUBLIC schools belong to the people and every citizen is a shareholder in the enterprise. School buildings are built and equipped in response to ballot-box directions. Teachers are employed by boards of education elected by the voters. The schools are financed from public funds. American Education Week provides opportunities for planning together to build a better world through education for all.

The theme of this year's observance is "The Schools Are Yours." The Boards of Education and the staff of the two local public school systems urge the people of this community to join with them in providing good schools, to meet the needs of this atomic age.

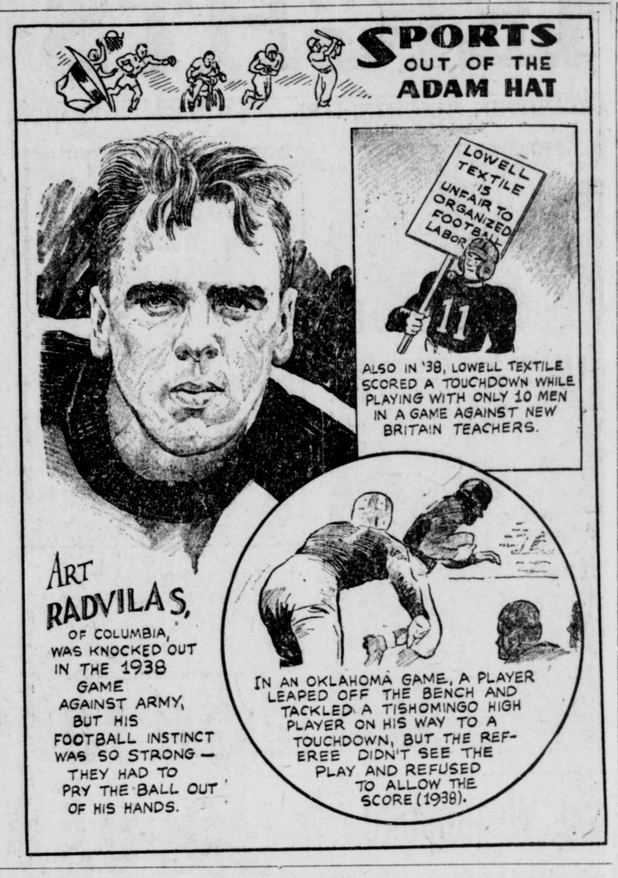
Elk Grove fire league gives ample protection, say farmers



Elk Grove volunteer — lud —

Nearly fifty of the people from rural areas who were present Monday evening at the farm bureau auditorium to discuss the organization of a fire protection district, were members of the Elk Grove rural fire league. They had only to explain the manner in which their organization operated to convince proponents of the proposed fire protection district that Elk Grove township and parts of the rural areas of Wheeling township have fire protection services that rival those of districts supported by a direct tax. Albert Kraemer was their spokesman.

AT THE conclusion of Kraemer's talk and with a study of a map prepared by E. A. Carncross it was found that with the exception of a few areas, all of northwestern Cook county has excellent fire protection. It is served by four legally organized districts, five voluntary districts and departments of adjoining municipalities.

The tax districts are Barrington operating in that township; Palatine district that extends from the county line to the northern part of Schaumburg on the south and Rand road on the east; Long Grove, including a strip along the northern part of Palatine and Wheeling townships and Prospect Heights, covering that village.

THE VOLUNTEER districts are Bartlett, Elk Grove, Bensenville and Glenview. The city of Des Plaines will answer all rural calls whose owners have reported that they carry insurance policies guaranteeing payment of $100 for each call answered. Arlington Heights makes no attempt to provide rural fire protection and its equipment does not include water storage tanks.

The Elk Grove Rural Fire League is self supporting. An original assessment is levied of $15 for farms and $7 for residences in subdivisions. There has been no other direct assessment during the eleven years of its existence. There are between 400 and 500 members.

THE AREA covered is divided into seven districts, four south of Central road and three north. The area of influence extends to Devon ave. on the south with a west line at Arlington Hts. and Tonne roads, extending beyond Salt Creek on Higgins road; east line is Mt. Prospect road, or City of Des Plaines. The north boundary is Palatine road between Rand and Wolf roads.

In addition to the regular officers, each district has seven chairmen, each of whom has three assistants. In case of fire these chairmen and assistants are responsible for the hauling of water to the scene of the fire. Working agreements with neighboring municipal departments insure their aid in time of need. The regular officers are: Alfred Landmeier, president; Arthur Busse, secretary; Edwin Meyer, treasurer; Albert Kraemer, vice-president.

BESIDES THE membership fee, funds are derived from yearly celebrations held in cooperation with the Mt. Prospect village department and an independent picnic. Rural fire equipment is manned by members of the Mt. Prospect department who receive remuneration for attendance at rural fires.

Plans are in the making for the purchase of an auxiliary 1,000 to 1,500 mobile water tank as soon as such equipment is available.

OTHER FARMERS present at Monday night's meeting admitted that Elk Grove has an excellent set-up and that the unprotected territory in the Arlington area is too small to organize a district on its own. The Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural departments have never refused to answer any fire call, within or without their districts.

An effort will be made to have the board of underwriters give the same rating to the Mt. Prospect area that is now enjoyed by property owners in the Palatine, Barrington and Long Grove districts.

Carncross it was found that with the exception of a few areas, all of northwestern Cook county has excellent fire protection. It is served by four legally organized districts, five voluntary districts and departments of adjoining municipalities.

The tax districts are Barrington operating in that township; Palatine district that extends from the county line to the northern part of Schaumburg on the south and Rand road on the east; Long Grove, including a strip along the northern part of Palatine and Wheeling townships and Prospect Heights, covering that village.

THE VOLUNTEER districts are Bartlett, Elk Grove, Bensenville and Glenview. The city of Des Plaines will answer all rural calls whose owners have reported that they carry insurance policies guaranteeing payment of $100 for each call answered. Arlington Heights makes no attempt to provide rural fire protection and its equipment does not include water storage tanks.

The Elk Grove Rural Fire League is self supporting. An original assessment is levied of $15 for farms and $7 for residences in subdivisions. There has been no other direct assessment during the eleven years of its existence. There are between 400 and 500 members.

THE AREA covered is divided into seven districts, four south of Central road and three north. The area of influence extends to Devon ave. on the south with a west line at Arlington Hts. and Tonne roads, extending beyond Salt Creek on Higgins road; east line is Mt. Prospect road, or City of Des Plaines. The north boundary is Palatine road between Rand and Wolf roads.

In addition to the regular officers, each district has seven chairmen, each of whom has three assistants. In case of fire these chairmen and assistants are responsible for the hauling of water to the scene of the fire. Working agreements with neighboring municipal departments insure their aid in time of need. The regular officers are: Alfred Landmeier, president; Arthur Busse, secretary; Edwin Meyer, treasurer; Albert Kraemer, vice-president.

BESIDES THE membership fee, funds are derived from yearly celebrations held in cooperation with the Mt. Prospect village department and an independent picnic. Rural fire equipment is manned by members of the Mt. Prospect department who receive remuneration for attendance at rural fires.

Plans are in the making for the purchase of an auxiliary 1,000 to 1,500 mobile water tank as soon as such equipment is available.

OTHER FARMERS present at Monday night's meeting admitted that Elk Grove has an excellent set-up and that the unprotected territory in the Arlington area is too small to organize a district on its own. The Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural departments have never refused to answer any fire call, within or without their districts.

An effort will be made to have the board of underwriters give the same rating to the Mt. Prospect area that is now enjoyed by property owners in the Palatine, Barrington and Long Grove districts.

Games, spooks and prizes absorb 500 at youth center Hallowe'en party

The second annual Ramble Inn Hallowe'en carnival was an outstanding success in Arlington Heights. Everyone, from the smallest freshman to the weariest adult, had a wonderful time. From the first rush at the doors to the last call of "Bingo," it was a big evening.

With mathematical precision, Dave Kurtz estimated the cubic content of a bowl of beans, and came up with a guess of 3582, just two less than the actual number, which won for him a fine leather suitcase. Similarly, Paul Mueller, with a guess of 2001 took home Mr. Raupp's donation, a jar containing 2002 beans and $5.00.

TWO PAIRS OF TICKETS to "Annie Get Your Gun" and four pairs of football tickets, contributed by the Scarsdale and Stonegate Associations, were awarded at drawings scattered throughout the evening. An album of records from A. H. Entertainers, an Eversharp CA Pen from Sweazey's Jewelers, and a $10 portrait sitting from the Community Camera Shop were other special prizes.

A camp stove donated by Tibbits Cameron, a large assortment of merchandise from Gieseke's, a rug from Mayfair Rug Cleaners, two dozen ball point pens from the Diversey Machine Works of Chicago were won at bingo and other games. There were many more fine contributions of local merchants, too numerous to list.

AMONG THE CASH donations received were $10.00 from the Park Lane Laundry, $10.00 from the Stonegate association and many $5.00 and smaller gifts. This money was used to purchase scarves, mittens, sox, costume jewelry, ties and other popular items. The well-filled prize tables testified to the generosity and cooperation of the merchants of Wheeling, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Arlington Heights.

From 8:00 to 12:00, over 500 youth center members played bingo, danced, played dart and ball games, had their fortunes told, went through the eerie spook house, drank pop, ate popcorn, candy and hot dogs, and to top off the evening were entertained by a Gay Nineties Barbershop Quartette directed by Mr. Bryson, and some popular numbers presented by the Ragland Ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schmidt of Arlington Heights provided popcorn, and presented their profit to the youth center.

Mrs. A. Mason Brown was the popular Gypsy fortune teller. Mrs. Beatrice Boyles headed the Snack Bar committee, consisting of Mrs. Walter Hermesdorf, Mrs. Gus Schaefer, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. H. G. Unger and Mrs. Albert Meyer. Wallie Luettschwager was in charge of the pop concession. Robert Carney was at the microphone for the drawings and announcements and also handled the bingo tables, assisted by Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Jean Hefner.

Other adults who put in a strenuous four hours were Mr. and Mrs. George Hauff, Jean Hefner, Marian Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lull, Max Warson, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lyman, Mrs. Donald Cox, K. W. Kennedy, Walter Hermesdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weber, Albert Meyer, A. Mason Brown, William N. Walton and Robert Blackburn.

The decorations, spook house and booths were set up by the youth center members assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell and Max Warson and the clean-up committee had a major project that night and Saturday morning.

The carnival was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, directors of the youth center, with the assistance of the adult advisory committee.

Rudolph Mohr to speak before Garden club

The meeting on November 13 of the Arlington Heights Garden Club will feature Rudolph Mohr, head of the Garfield Park Conservatory, as guest speaker. His subject will be, "Putting the Garden to Bed."

Mr. Mohr is a recognized authority in horticulture and is a graduate of the St. Louis Botannical Garden. The subject, putting the garden to bed, should be of interest to all, as amateur gardeners rarely know just what to do or what not to do about perennials, roses, shrubbery, etc., to prepare them for the winter.

The Arlington Heights Garden Club's membership is open to anyone interested in joining. Plan to attend this meeting, which will be held at the North school, at 8 p. m., November 13.

Lutheran schools

of St. Peter school. Members of the Board of Christian Education are Messrs. Irving Boettcher, chairman, Walter Moehling, Fred Mueller and Walter Rudolph.

The public has been cordially invited to attend all of these functions at St. Peter church.

Believing that "the soul of education is education of the soul", the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, has always placed great emphasis on Christian education. It therefore also maintains a far-flung system of Christian day schools at high cost because it is convinced that only through constant and careful instruction and training in a Christian atmosphere can one avoid the fearful pitfalls of juvenile delinquency and build a noble Christian character, equipped to render useful service in both church and state. For this reason, too, St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, has for 83 years been willing to underwrite the cost of its Parochial school which today has risen to an annual operating cost of approximately $25,000, staffed by ten teachers (one of them half days only) and attended by over 300 pupils, many of them from unchurched or non-Lutheran homes. The pastor instructs forty children in the confirmation class daily from 8:15 to 9:30 a.m. for church membership.

Girl Scout and Brownie troop news

Troop 9

Thursday, October 30, Troop 9 of the Arlington Heights North school had a Hallowe'en party instead of their regular troop meeting. The south room of the fieldhouse was gayly decorated in black witches for the occasion. Pumpkins and orange nut cups with black owls completed the table decorations.

Refreshments of sweet cider and doughnuts were served.

The afternoon was spent in playing games.

Troop 12

Eighth Grade Girl Scouts, South School, Arlington Heights, have had two indoor meetings. They are working on their dancer badge. Each girl has fulfilled the first three requirements of this badge which are to list their favorite bands, favorite popular songs and favorite composers.

Mrs. Krell is helping the girls with the writer and Bibliophile badge outside the regular troop badge work.

Joan Winterbauer has received her first class rank and housekeeper badge.

Troop 13

Troop 13, North school, Arlington Heights are working on their photography badge. The girls fulfilled one of the first requirements of this badge by visiting the local Camera Shop where they received much helpful information from Don Knapp.

The girls are also working on puppets.

Troop 14

Troop 14, North School, Arlington Heights, are working on their second class rank.

The girls had an interesting trip recently to Dundee where they visited the Haager pottery.

They were escorted through the plant by a girl guide and saw the clay from its beginning to the finished product, even to the point where it is packed for shipping.

Each girl was given some clay and they have been working with pottery making in their troop meetings.

Noted photographer to speak at high school

The Arlington Heights Camera Club has scheduled a talk by Clifton Hyland, photographic lighting expert, at the Arlington Heights High School at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, November 11, and invites all camera enthusiasts from the northwestern suburban territory to attend.

Mr. Hyland has an unusual background of 24 years as a news reel and still camera man and, as a news reel photographer, has been around the world 7½ times during which time he filmed some of the great events in history. The Invasion of Ethiopia and the coronation of King George VI of England in 1937 are among historic events which he has photographed. In 1936, he filmed the Olympic games in Berlin. Mr. Hyland also has to his credit a very unusual film scoop in that he photographed the assassination of Trotsky in Mexico. For the past six years, Mr. Hyland has been associated with the General Electric Co. in their Lamp Division as a specialist in photographic lighting about which he will talk. His lecture will be supplemented by an actual demonstration of lighting technique.

In addition to his talk, Mr. Hyland will bring with him his sound motion picture, "The Family Album," which will graphicaily demonstrate the fundamentals of his photographic lighting technique.

This lecture should be extremely interesting to all residents in this territory and should be of benefit to anyone interested either in still or movie photography. There will be no admission charge and everyone is urged to attend this lecture.

Earl Hatje guest speaker at Presbyterian Men's club meeting

Earl Hatje of the Chicago Crime Commission and president of the village of Barrington, will be the guest speaker at the first meeting of the reorganized Presbyterian Men's club of Arlington Heights, which will be held this Friday evening, at 8 p. m., at the church.

His subject, "Crime and its Prevention," is timely and those who attend will find Mr. Hatje's talk both interesting and informative.

Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever flourishes best in the north temperate zone. In the United States, as well as in other countries with comparable climates, it is especially prevalent in the winter and spring months. Most of its victims are found among the needy population of our larger cities where overcrowding, undernutrition and unfavorable hygienic surroundings prevail. More than one member of a family often is affected. The disease usually begins in childhood, but it may occur (and often does recur) in adult life.

Games, spooks and prizes absorb 500 at youth center Hallowe'en party

The second annual Ramble Inn Hallowe'en carnival was an outstanding success in Arlington Heights. Everyone, from the smallest freshman to the weariest adult, had a wonderful time. From the first rush at the doors to the last call of "Bingo," it was a big evening.

With mathematical precision, Dave Kurtz estimated the cubic content of a bowl of beans, and came up with a guess of 3582, just two less than the actual number, which won for him a fine leather suitcase. Similarly, Paul Mueller, with a guess of 2001 took home Mr. Raupp's donation, a jar containing 2002 beans and $5.00.

TWO PAIRS OF TICKETS to "Annie Get Your Gun" and four pairs of football tickets, contributed by the Scarsdale and Stonegate Associations, were awarded at drawings scattered throughout the evening. An album of records from A. H. Entertainers, an Eversharp CA Pen from Sweazey's Jewelers, and a $10 portrait sitting from the Community Camera Shop were other special prizes.

A camp stove donated by Tibbits Cameron, a large assortment of merchandise from Gieseke's, a rug from Mayfair Rug Cleaners, two dozen ball point pens from the Diversey Machine Works of Chicago were won at bingo and other games. There were many more fine contributions of local merchants, too numerous to list.

AMONG THE CASH donations received were $10.00 from the Park Lane Laundry, $10.00 from the Stonegate association and many $5.00 and smaller gifts. This money was used to purchase scarves, mittens, sox, costume jewelry, ties and other popular items. The well-filled prize tables testified to the generosity and cooperation of the merchants of Wheeling, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Arlington Heights.

From 8:00 to 12:00, over 500 youth center members played bingo, danced, played dart and ball games, had their fortunes told, went through the eerie spook house, drank pop, ate popcorn, candy and hot dogs, and to top off the evening were entertained by a Gay Nineties Barbershop Quartette directed by Mr. Bryson, and some popular numbers presented by the Ragland Ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schmidt of Arlington Heights provided popcorn, and presented their profit to the youth center.

Mrs. A. Mason Brown was the popular Gypsy fortune teller. Mrs. Beatrice Boyles headed the Snack Bar committee, consisting of Mrs. Walter Hermesdorf, Mrs. Gus Schaefer, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. H. G. Unger and Mrs. Albert Meyer. Wallie Luettschwager was in charge of the pop concession. Robert Carney was at the microphone for the drawings and announcements and also handled the bingo tables, assisted by Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Jean Hefner.

Other adults who put in a strenuous four hours were Mr. and Mrs. George Hauff, Jean Hefner, Marian Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lull, Max Warson, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lyman, Mrs. Donald Cox, K. W. Kennedy, Walter Hermesdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weber, Albert Meyer, A. Mason Brown, William N. Walton and Robert Blackburn.

The decorations, spook house and booths were set up by the youth center members assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell and Max Warson and the clean-up committee had a major project that night and Saturday morning.

The carnival was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, directors of the youth center, with the assistance of the adult advisory committee.

Rudolph Mohr to speak before Garden club

The meeting on November 13 of the Arlington Heights Garden Club will feature Rudolph Mohr, head of the Garfield Park Conservatory, as guest speaker. His subject will be, "Putting the Garden to Bed."

Mr. Mohr is a recognized authority in horticulture and is a graduate of the St. Louis Botannical Garden. The subject, putting the garden to bed, should be of interest to all, as amateur gardeners rarely know just what to do or what not to do about perennials, roses, shrubbery, etc., to prepare them for the winter.

The Arlington Heights Garden Club's membership is open to anyone interested in joining. Plan to attend this meeting, which will be held at the North school, at 8 p. m., November 13.

Lutheran schools

of St. Peter school. Members of the Board of Christian Education are Messrs. Irving Boettcher, chairman, Walter Moehling, Fred Mueller and Walter Rudolph.

The public has been cordially invited to attend all of these functions at St. Peter church.

Believing that "the soul of education is education of the soul', the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, has always placed great emphasis on Christian education. It therefore also maintains a far-flung system of Christian day schools at high cost because it is convinced that only through constant and careful instruction and training in a Christian atmosphere can one avoid the fearful pitfalls of juvenile delinquency and build a noble Christian character, equipped to render useful service in both church and state. For this reason, too, St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, has for 83 years been willing to underwrite the cost of its Parochial school which today has risen to an annual operating cost of approximately $25,000, staffed by ten teachers (one of them half days only) and attended by over 300 pupils, many of them from unchurched or non-Lutheran homes. The pastor instructs forty children in the confirmation class daily from 8:15 to 9:30 a.m. for church membership.

Troop 9

Thursday, October 30, Troop 9 of the Arlington Heights North school had a Hallowe'en party instead of their regular troop meeting. The south room of the fieldhouse was gayly decorated in black witches for the occasion. Pumpkins and orange nut cups with black owls completed the table decorations.

Refreshments of sweet cider and doughnuts were served.

The afternoon was spent in playing games.

Troop 12

Eighth Grade Girl Scouts, South School, Arlington Heights, have had two indoor meetings. They are working on their dancer badge. Each girl has fulfilled the first three requirements of this badge which are to list their favorite bands, favorite popular songs and favorite composers.

Mrs. Krell is helping the girls with the writer and Bibliophile badge outside the regular troop badge work.

Joan Winterbauer has received her first class rank and housekeeper badge.

Frances Hubbard has received her housekeeper and wild plant finder badge.

Troop 13

Troop 13, North school, Arlington Heights are working on their photography badge. The girls fulfilled one of the first requirements of this badge by visiting the local Camera Shop where they received much helpful information from Don Knapp.

The girls are also working on puppets.

The following troop mothers are assisting with extra badge work in their homes: Mrs. Chas. Heiss, Mrs. Martin Maher, Mrs. Raymond Chidley and Mrs. Arden Scott.

Troop 14

Troop 14, North School, Arlington Heights, are working on their second class rank.

The girls had an interesting trip recently to Dundee where they visited the Haager pottery.

They were escorted through the plant by a girl guide and saw the clay from its beginning to the finished product, even to the point where it is packed for shipping.

Each girl was given some clay and they have been working with pottery making in their troop meetings.

Noted photographer to speak at high school

The Arlington Heights Camera Club has scheduled a talk by Clifton Hyland, photographic lighting expert, at the Arlington Heights High School at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, November 11, and invites all camera enthusiasts from the northwestern suburban territory to attend.

Mr. Hyland has an unusual background of 24 years as a news reel and still camera man and, as a news reel photographer, has been around the world 7½ times during which time he filmed some of the great events in history. The Invasion of Ethiopia and the coronation of King George VI of England in 1937 are among historic events which he has photographed. In 1936, he filmed the Olympic games in Berlin. Mr. Hyland also has to his credit a very unusual film scoop in that he photographed the assassination of Trotsky in Mexico. For the past six years, Mr. Hyland has been associated with the General Electric Co. in their Lamp Division as a specialist in photographic lighting about which he will talk. His lecture will be supplemented by an actual demonstration of lighting technique.

In addition to his talk, Mr. Hyland will bring with him his sound motion picture, "The Family Album," which will graphically demonstrate the fundamentals of his photographic lighting technique.

This lecture should be extremely interesting to all residents in this territory and should be of benefit to anyone interested either in still or movie photography. There will be no admission charge and everyone is urged to attend this lecture.

Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever flourishes best in the north temperate zone. In the United States, as well as in other countries with comparable climates, it is especially prevalent in the winter and spring months. Most of its victims are found among the needy population of our larger cities where overcrowding, undernutrition and unfavorable hygienic surroundings prevail. More than one member of a family often is affected. The disease usually begins in childhood, but it may occur (and often does recur) in adult life.

Community-wide church services Thanksgiving eve at high school

A community-wide Thanksgiving service with all local churches invited to participate will be held the night before Thanksgiving at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium. Guest speaker for the 8 p. m. service will be Dr. Frederick Keller Stamm, nationally known for his summer "Highlights of the Bible" radio programs.

Two Arlington graduates in music recitals

Arlington Heights citizens will have an opportunity to hear two talented young people of the village in recitals at the St. John church on November 16 and November 23, at three o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Florence Lunning will be presented at this time in a vocal recital and will be accompanied by Dick Everett at the piano, who will also play several selections as his part of the recital.

Miss Lunning has been preparing her songs for these two recitals for the past eight months. She is a dramatic soprano and has been studying for five and one half years under C. E. Bryant in the Fine Arts Building, Chicago. Several of her arias will be sung in German.

Mr. Everett is studying at the Chicago Musical college under Mr. Passmoore. He has been playing the piano since he was eight years old. Both he and Miss Lunning are 17 years old and they are both graduates of Arlington Heights high school.

The general public is invited to attend these recitals. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken, the receipts of which will be used to help pay for the St. John's church new organ.

Miss Lunning and Mr. Everett will be presented in a joint recital at Kimball Hall in February, at which time Miss Lunning plans to sing several arias in French.

Two Arlington graduates in music recitals

Arlington Heights citizens will have an opportunity to hear two talented young people of the village in recitals at the St. John church on November 16 and November 23, at three o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Florence Lunning will be presented at this time in a vocal recital and will be accompanied by Dick Everett at the piano, who will also play several selections as his part of the recital.

Miss Lunning has been preparing her songs for these two recitals for the past eight months. She is a dramatic soprano and has been studying for five and one half years under C. E. Bryant in the Fine Arts Building, Chicago. Several of her arias will be sung in German.

Mr. Everett is studying at the Chicago Musical college under Mr. Passmoore. He has been playing the piano since he was eight years old. Both he and Miss Lunning are 17 years old and they are both graduates of Arlington Heights high school.

The general public is invited to attend these recitals. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken, the receipts of which will be used to help pay for the St. John's church new organ.

Miss Lunning and Mr. Everett will be presented in a joint recital at Kimball Hall in February, at which time Miss Lunning plans to sing several arias in French.

Marion Blume and Ray Roper exchange vows

Community Camera

The St. John Evangelical and Reformed church of Arlington Heights was the scene October 25 of the wedding of Miss Marion Blume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blume of Arlington Heights, and Raymond Roper, son of Mrs. Augusta Roper of Palatine. Glowing candles and baskets of white pom poms and lavender mums formed the altar setting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel.

Gowned in tradtiional white satin, that was styled with fitted bodice, having high neckline, buttons to waist and chiffon yoke trimmed with lace; and full skirt ending in a lace trimmed train, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a fingertip veil that was held in place by a beaded tiara, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Lorraine Blume, who wore a lavender taffeta gown styled with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, and a skirt with bustle back. She also wore a blusher to match her gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's sister, Bernice Blume, and cousin, Evelyn Bork, served as bridesmaids. They were dressed identical to the maid of honor in peacock blue and fuchsia taffeta gowns respectively. They also wore matching blushers and carried bouquets of yellow roses. The bride and her attendants all wore pearl necklaces, and the bride presented her attendants with rhinestone bracelets.

Harold Roper, brother of the bridegroom served as best man, and Robert Toppel and Arthur Hafferkamp acted as ushers.

The bride's mother was gowned in a dress of Kelley green, trimmed with sequins, while the groom's mother chose to wear a black dress trimmed with sequins. Both mothers had corsages of pink carnations and sweetpeas.

About 135 guests attended the reception, which was held at the Legion Hall following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Roper enjoyed a few days honeymoon in Wisconsin and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents.

Marion Blume and Ray Roper exchange vows

Community Camera

The St. John Evangelical and Reformed church of Arlington Heights was the scene October 25 of the wedding of Miss Marion Blume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blume of Arlington Heights, and Raymond Roper, son of Mrs. Augusta Roper of Palatine. Glowing candles and baskets of white pom poms and lavender mums formed the altar setting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel.

Gowned in tradtiional white satin, that was styled with fitted bodice, having high neckline, buttons to waist and chiffon yoke trimmed with lace; and full skirt ending in a lace trimmed train, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a fingertip veil that was held in place by a beaded tiara, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Lorraine Blume, who wore a lavender taffeta gown styled with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, and a skirt with bustle back. She also wore a blusher to match her gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's sister, Bernice Blume, and cousin, Evelyn Bork, served as bridesmaids. They were dressed identical to the maid of honor in peacock blue and fuchsia taffeta gowns respectively. They also wore matching blushers and carried bouquets of yellow roses. The bride and her attendants all wore pearl necklaces, and the bride presented her attendants with rhinestone bracelets.

Harold Roper, brother of the bridegroom served as best man, and Robert Toppel and Arthur Hafferkamp acted as ushers.

The bride's mother was gowned in a dress of Kelley green, trimmed with sequins, while the groom's mother chose to wear a black dress trimmed with sequins. Both mothers had corsages of pink carnations and sweetpeas.

About 135 guests attended the reception, which was held at the Legion Hall following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Roper enjoyed a few days honeymoon in Wisconsin and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents.

Barbed wire to protect high school fence

There are a lot of knot holes in a wire fence, but they do not keep some people from climbing the one surrounding the football field in order to get a closer view of the game. The high school board have nothing against those who want to see the games from the outside, but they do object to damages to the fence caused by those who climb over it. They requested permission from the village board Monday night to install a barbed wire at its top. The board gave its consent.

Barbed wire to protect high school fence

There are a lot of knot holes in a wire fence, but they do not keep some people from climbing the one surrounding the football field in order to get a closer view of the game. The high school board have nothing against those who want to see the games from the outside, but they do object to damages to the fence caused by those who climb over it. They requested permission from the village board Monday night to install a barbed wire at its top. The board gave its consent.

First Ad Agency

Volney B. Palmer founded the first advertising agency in America at Philadelphia in 1840. Palmer merely bought space in newspapers and other publications and sold it at the best prices he could get. Gradually his clients wanted help in preparing their ads. Palmer assisted them. From this simple beginning the modern advertising agency developed.

Church night program at South church November 12

The South Church will hold a full evening Church Night program Wednesday, November 12.

At 6:30 p. m. members and friends of the church will gather in the Fellowship Room for a family potluck supper. These events are of a social nature, affording opportunity for neighborly visiting and getting acquainted. Each family brings food adequate for its numbers present. Each family brings its own table service. The church social life committee, Mrs. A. R. Holmes, chairman, provides coffee, cream, sugar and milk, for which an offering is received. The Board of Trustees, of which Mr. R. F. LaMar is chairman, is arranging to provide helpers for serving and cleaning up. Community singing will make up a part of the brief supper program.

Immediately following the supper, at 7:20 p. m., the smaller children will be shown movies for their entertainment while parents participate in the Fall Business Meeting of the Church. Here brief reports from all officers and Board chairmen and organizational presidents will be heard and six months financial reports received. Both members and friends of the Church are invited to be present for this meeting.

Promptly at 8:00 p. m. the senior choir will begin its regular weekly rehearsal in the sanctuary of the church.

This is the church's first attempt to schedule a full evening's program, embracing three different activities, and it is expected that a good number will be present.

Railway Payroll

Railroads of the United States are among the largest employers of labor in America, and by far the most important item in their operating budget is their payroll. In 1933, the worst year of the depression, the payroll of Class I railroads (roads with annual revenues of more than $1,000,000 each) was $1,404,000,000. With more traffic to handle, their 1940 payroll totaled $1,964,000,000. In 1946 their payroll reached the all-time high peak of $4,086,000,000, or more than $11,000,000 a day!

Don Payne to participate in 'Exercise Snowdrop'

Prospect Heights Paratrooper, Donald J. Payne, arrived at Pine Camp, New York, this week, to participate in the cold weather

"Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Payne, son of Wm. Payne, 709 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Hgts., Ill., has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shoeing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in deep snow.

The 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team will climax their maneuvers in February of 1948, with an unprecedented sub-zero weather airhead attack, proceded by a mass battalion parachute drop. The rugged paratroopers will then deploy and operate independently, for a 72-hour duration.

"Exercise Snowdrop" is a progressive step by the Army Ground Forces to improve airborne technique, and stabilize the modern army.

Protection for Mortgage

A life insurance policy that will pay off the balance of the mortgage in case of death is highly desirable for any home buyer. The premium is relatively low and most lenders encourage the idea.

72-year-old given one more chance

Judge Wm. Neumann and Wm. Ritchford, assistant state's attorney agreed Wednesday on the disposition of the case against Chas. Lynck, a 72-year-old resident of Arlington Heights, who was charged with molesting a 4-year-old girl. The incident occurred September 9.

The invitation of the elderly man to the young girl to come to his room, was witnessed by an outsider, who notified the police. Chief Skoog arrived in the room before the young girl had been harmed, although the man had kissed her.

The girl was so young that it was difficult to get the exact story. Due to the desire of her parents not to ask their daughter to go before the grand jury and subsequent court trial, the assistant state's attorney recommended the charge of molesting the girl be held open on Judge Neumann's docket. In case of a similar complaint, the man will be sent to the county jail at once.

On the charge of being drunk and disorderly, Judge Neumann inflicted a fine of $200, half of which was remitted for a period of six months. The judge also demanded and the prisoner consented to the appointment of a conservator who will collect his pension check, thus depriving him of funds with which he can patronize the taverns. The judge also ordered that he give up his private room and reside with one of his children.

CHARLES ROLOFF

The residue of his estate he ordered shared by his three children equally. They are: William Roloff, Bloomingdale, Ill.; Alfred Roloff, Roselle; and Eleanor Nelson, Arlington Heights.

Iowa Church Growth

From one miniature church built of logs in 1834 to more than 4,000 places of worship in 1947—small wonder that Iowa frequently is referred to as a "Bible Commonwealth." Dominating force behind the building of that first church was Barton Randle, the first circuit rider of the Dubuque region, who went from house to house for contributions ranging from 12½ cents to 25 dollars until he had $250. When completed, it was dedicated by a two-day meeting with a membership of 12 persons.

Church night program at South church November 12

The South Church will hold a full evening Church Night program Wednesday, November 12.

At 6:30 p. m. members and friends of the church will gather in the Fellowship Room for a family potluck supper. These events are of a social nature, affording opportunity for neighborly visiting and getting acquainted. Each family brings food adequate for its numbers present. Each family brings its own table service. The church social life committee, Mrs. A. R. Holmes, chairman, provides coffee, cream, sugar and milk, for which an offering is received. The Board of Trustees, of which Mr. R. F. LaMar is chairman, is arranging to provide helpers for serving and cleaning up. Community singing will make up a part of the brief supper program.

Immediately following the supper, at 7:20 p. m., the smaller children will be shown movies for their entertainment while parents participate in the Fall Business Meeting of the Church. Here brief reports from all officers and Board chairmen and organizational presidents will be heard and six months financial reports received. Both members and friends of the Church are invited to be present for this meeting.

Promptly at 8:00 p. m. the senior choir will begin its regular weekly rehearsal in the sanctuary of the church.

This is the church's first attempt to schedule a full evening's program, embracing three different activities, and it is expected that a good number will be present.

Basic Materials

From seven basic raw materials, salt, sulphur, components of the atmosphere, water, limestone, petroleum and coal, the chemical industry produces dyes and organic chemicals, heavy chemicals, drugs and pharmaceuticals, explosives, electro-chemicals for use in the process industries such as ceramics and glass, coke, fertilizers, leather, manufactured gas, medicines and cosmetics, oils and fats, paint and varnish, petroleum, rubber, soap, sugar, textile processing which serve the fundamental human needs for food, clothing, transportation and security.

Railway Payroll

Railroads of the United States are among the largest employers of labor in America, and by far the most important item in their operating budget is their payroll. In 1933, the worst year of the depression, the payroll of Class I railroads (roads with annual revenues of more than $1,000,000 each) was $1,404,000,000. With more traffic to handle, their 1940 payroll totaled $1,964,000,000. In 1946 their payroll reached the all-time high peak of $4,086,000,000, or more than $11,000,000 a day!

Don Payne to participate in 'Exercise Snowdrop'

Prospect Heights Paratrooper, Donald J. Payne, arrived at Pine Camp, New York, this week, to participate in the cold weather

"Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Payne, son of Wm. Payne, 709 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Hgts., Ill., has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shoeing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in deep snow.

The 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team will climax their maneuvers in February of 1948, with an unprecedented sub-zero weather airhead attack, proceded by a mass battalion parachute drop. The rugged paratroopers will then deploy and operate independently, for a 72-hour duration.

"Exercise Snowdrop" is a progressive step by the Army Ground Forces to improve airborne technique, and stabilize the modern army.

Protection for Mortgage

A life insurance policy that will pay off the balance of the mortgage in case of death is highly desirable for any home buyer. The premium is relatively low and most lenders encourage the idea.

72-year-old given one more chance

Judge Wm. Neumann and Wm. Ritchford, assistant state's attorney agreed Wednesday on the disposition of the case against Chas. Lynck, a 72-year-old resident of Arlington Heights, who was charged with molesting a 4-year-old girl. The incident occurred September 9.

The invitation of the elderly man to the young girl to come to his room, was witnessed by an outsider, who notified the police. Chief Skoog arrived in the room before the young girl had been harmed, although the man had kissed her.

The girl was so young that it was difficult to get the exact story. Due to the desire of her parents not to ask their daughter to go before the grand jury and subsequent court trial, the assistant state's attorney recommended the charge of molesting the girl be held open on Judge Neumann's docket. In case of a similar complaint, the man will be sent to the county jail at once.

On the charge of being drunk and disorderly, Judge Neumann inflicted a fine of $200, half of which was remitted for a period of six months. The judge also demanded and the prisoner consented to the appointment of a conservator who will collect his pension check, thus depriving him of funds with which he can patronize the taverns. The judge also ordered that he give up his private room and reside with one of his children.

CHARLES ROLOFF

Charles F. Roloff, of Barrington, who died Sept. 27, left an estimated $3,000 estate. He left $100 each to eight grandchildren and $500 to Mrs. Olga Roloff, of Barrington, his daughter-in-law. The residue of his estate he ordered shared by his three children equally. They are: William Roloff, Bloomingdale, Ill.; Alfred Roloff, Roselle; and Eleanor Nelson, Arlington Heights.

Iowa Church Growth

From one miniature church built of logs in 1834 to more than 4,000 places of worship in 1947—small wonder that Iowa frequently is referred to as a "Bible Commonwealth." Dominating force behind the building of that first church was Barton Randle, the first circuit rider of the Dubuque region, who went from house to house for contributions ranging from 12½ cents to 25 dollars until he had $250. When completed, it was dedicated by a two-day meeting with a membership of 12 persons.

Alka-Seltzer being a combination of painrelieving and alkalizing ingredients has gained wide usage and popularity for the relief of Acid Indigestion, Cold Symptoms, "Morning After" misery and Muscular Pains. And be sure to try Alka-Seltzer for that tired feeling following hard work or strenuous exercise.

Liquor licenses belong to individual, not to location

Arlington Heights village board unofficially recognizes that the right of a renewal of a liquor license goes to the individual and not to the location. That point was definitely stated Monday night when Mr. Gruppe, original holder of the license at the Town Pump was told that the transfer of said license to his renter, Harold Lamb, gave Mr. Lamb future control over said license.

BY GERALD McELROY

The Northwest Conference season closed this past week-end with Bensenville and Grant, the standout teams, tied for first place. Our column picked Bensenville for first and Grant second before the season opened with Barrington, Palatine and Northbrook a toss up for third and Antioch definitely last. Palatine took the third spot a game ahead of Barrington and Northbrook, tied for fourth. Antioch as predicted was the cellar occupant without a victory.

Northbrook had best record against co-champs

Bensenville with a scoring record of 148 points to opponents' 29 and Grant's record of 105 and 23 were far ahead of any other teams. In offense Barrington was third, Northbrook fourth, Palatine fifth, and Antioch last. In defense Northbrook was third, Barrington fourth, Palatine fifth and Antioch last. Aside from the co-champs Northbrook was the only outfit to score more points than their opponents and they had the best record against the champs. Northbrook beat Grant 6-2 and lost to Bensenville by only 13-7. Barrington, Palatine and Antioch were drubbed badly by both the champs.

Bob Thollander broke league scoring record to pace Bison team

Coach Tom Meneguin of Bensenville fashioned a powerful grid machine this year but lacked reserve strength and in one game, that with Grant, had poor calling of plays.

The Bison line was without a peer in the league. Bob Pittman at tackle and John Gaspar at guard were standouts which this columnist picks as best linemen in the league for 1947. Bob Thollander was the best individual in the league. His 85 points in five games sets a new league scoring mark which should stand a long time. Thollander is our nominee for all-state recognition on the basis of his all round ability.

Robertson, small passing star, was one of the big factors in the Bison offense. Little "Robbie" could also run. Coach Meneguin will have one side of his line, including the center, and two backfield regulars returning for next year. Look out in 1948.

Bensenville strongest eleven — Grant had strongest squad

Coaches Dan Werhan and Paul Lewis at Grant brought into action a very colorful football team this year. They had a bad case of fumbles at Northbrook and were upset but came back to nose out Bensenville 15-14 by alert defensive work. It was Kirkpatrick who intercepted three passes in the Bensenville game to stop the Bisons who had it all over Grant on the ground but always tried their pet pass plays when in scoring range. Kirkpatrick also intercepted three times in the Palatine game. Grant's team was made up of close to 30 boys, all capable of giving a good account of themselves. Werhan had at least eight good varsity backs. Of this group, Fred Haiman, all conference in 1946, and Fred Becker, conference and Lake County 100 yard dash champ, were the top boys along with aforementioned Kirkpatrick.

The Grant line was two deep with hefty boys at each position. Don Walker, 230 pound boxing star, was the best man, playing at left tackle. Walker missed the last two games with torn shoulder ligaments as did Hamer, a small but fleet footed end.

Both Bensenville and Grant had fine ball clubs worthy of championship honors. Our congratulations to the coaches of both schools for a fine season.

Lake Forest vs. Niles Friday for championship

The Northeast season ends Friday night. Last September we listed the probable order of finish as Lake Forest, Niles, Arlington, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Libertyville, Woodstock and Warren. With a week to go the only team out of that order is Warren ranking sixth. This week the championship is at stake at Lake Forest Friday afternoon when Lindenmeyer's Scouts, who have a tie clinched, have to beat off Niles for an undisputed title and their 18th straight victory.

Niles deserves a share of the championship on the basis of a very fine ball club but we will string with Lake Forest. Arlington's tie with Warren dropped them out of a chance to tie for first should Niles win Friday. Arlington will finish third by beating hapless Woodstock. Crystal Lake and Leyden should remain in a tie for third by beating Libertyville and Warren. Tough Warren may spoil Leyden's hopes by taking them into camp.

Expect to publish All-Northwest team next week

In a week or two we expect to list all-conference teams for both the Northwest and Northeast Conferences. Each coach has been asked to nominate players for first and second all-league teams from members of his own squad. Then all lists will be put together and each coach will pick a first and second team from among the boys on the list of nominations. Paddock Publications will compile the results and boys getting the most votes will be honored as all-conference.

High school summer baseball a possibility

Last spring the principals of the Northwest Conference went on record as favoring a spring sports plan which would eliminate conflict between baseball and track and bring baseball playing into a better season. The idea was to have track until the middle of May and then start a baseball schedule to run into July. Boys could thus compete in both sports and baseball would not suffer so much from the bad weather which is so common in April and May in this area. Your columnist was instructed to contact the state office and find out if such a plan would be approved. He found that it could not be allowed under present state association rules but that it was expected that the rules might be changed.

Last week we received a ballot, as principal of Palatine High School, for voting on an amendment to the constitution of the Illinois High School Association to permit summer baseball on a school basis. We hope that the measure will carry. It will mean a strong program of school sponsored baseball through much of the summer and one of the results will be the development of enough good talent to provide each community with a strong independent or semi-pro team for Sunday ball. It is a move in the direction of a complete year round athletic program for high school students under school supervision.

Al Kleiner in DeKalb lineup

Al Kleiner who never went out for football at Arlington high was in the starting lineup at DeKalb Teachers Saturday as they whipped Macomb by four touchdowns. Kleiner plays end and is coming along in fine shape. Bill Godknecht of Palatine who had no prep grid-iron experience, got into the Ripon College lineup Saturday against Lawrence as an end. We notice that Bob Kohler of Arlington and Gutnik of Bensenville are regulars at Lake Forest college at quarterback and end. Gene Ernsting of Bensenville was in the Lake Forest lineup also last Saturday.

Time for basketball to get going

Northwest schools all started practicing basketball this week. Barrington has been working out for the past month or more with boys not out for football. Ela and Wauconda have several weeks jump on the football schools with early practice. It is a little early to pick out the contenders, but our notes at the end of last season would list Bensenville, Grant, Ela and Barrington as the best four possibilities on the basis of material returning and frosh-soph moving to the varsity.

Cards can tie school record with victory

Ninety fathers of members of the three Arlington Heights football squads will be honored guests Friday night when the Cardinals play their final grid-iron classic against Woodstock. Coach Larsen's charges, after last week end's scoreless tie against Warren, are "out for blood" in this final contest of the Northeast league season.

The Dads will be guests of the high school athletic staff at this final game with half-time ceremonies planned to honor them. All of them have received complimentary tickets for the contest.

THE HEIGHTS boys will be out to equal the school football record of all time as they hope to take the measure of Woodstock's Blue Streaks. This will give the locals a six won, one loss and one tie for the year, equalling the previous "best season" for the grid Cards.

Woodstock, it will be remembered, pulled a 26-0 upset on the locals last year after the Cardinals thought the season was over before game time.

COACH LARSEN has cautioned his boys this year against such over optimism, and expects a hard contest for the local gridders.

Last Saturday's tie at Warren came as a surprise to many local fans with Arlington's chances for a co-championship this week end being washed down the drain on the Gurnee field.

If Niles beats Lake Forest, though, the Lakers are favored to win, the Cards could have had a share of the title, except for the Warren tie.

At any rate, Friday night's contest will be the last of the season for Arlington with a good sized crowd expected. Game time is 7:45 p. m.

Palatine bowlers take Arlington

Wilcox's Palatine Recreation Center Match Team rolled over Ed La Bant's Arlington Heights boys Saturday night, Nov. 1, on the newly decorated Palatine Bowling Lanes. The defeat was 135 pins with series of 2677 for Palatine to 2542 for Arlington.

High series and high game was by Wilcox's lead off man Emmett Doyle with 226 in the 3rd game for a 578 series, Harold Beyer had a 203 in the 2rd game & Ed Doyle hit the maples for a 209 which accounts for the high series for the Team. Ed La Bant was high for his boys hitting 520. C. DeWitt had high game with 195.

Palatine: Emmett Doyle 578, Otto Hajek 518, Albert Parkhurst 503, Ed Doyle 530, Harold Beyer 548, 872, 880, 925, 2677.

Arlington: C. Diwitt 507, Eddie LaBant, Jr. 520, Matt Raier 504, G. Callahan 503, A. Hoffman 508, 860, 843, 829, 2542.

Heights boys are football prospects at Northwestern U.

Two Arlington Heights young men, Bob Nelson and Allan Stroker, are standout candidates for positions on Northwestern University's 1947 freshman football team. Nelson, probably the most improved player on the squad, is rated as the No. 2 fullback. Stroker, recently shifted from center to a tackle spot, is improving rapidly as he learns his new position.

Crystal Lake junior high wins five games

Crystal Lake junior high school won two more games, Nos. 4 and 5, when they beat St. Thomas, 28-8, and Dundee, 21-6. The Junior High reserves also won from Dundee, 21-0.

Crystal Lake is known as a good "athletic" town, in light of coaches' salaries, sports interest, etc. Above scores of grade school ball further proves this.

Bisons beat Northbrook to cop NW co-championship

Bensenville high school's football Bisons tucked the co-championship of the Northwest conference in their hip pads Friday night when they finished on the top end of a 13-7 score against the Northbrook Vikings on the DuPage field.

This was the second year in a row that Northbrook had a chance to knock the locals from their football perch. Just last season the Vikings pulled a surprise victory over Coach Meneguin's boys, copping the championship for themselves.

BUT FRIDAY night, though, the Northbrook squad put up a good fight, Bensenville notched two touchdowns to win a co-championship with Grant, who was running at will over Palatine.

The time honored sleeper play was again successful on the Bison field Friday as Northbrook scored their only touchdown in the third period. The Viking sleeper ran 76 yards for pay dirt against the Bisons.

BOTH SQUADS performed creditably in the air with almost an equal amount of yardage gained by the ether. But the Bisons tripled Northbrook on the ground as they rolled up 230 yards from rushing, to the Vikings' 78.

First Bensenville touchdown came in the second period when Robertson took a pass from Keller for 13 yards and the score. Robertson also kicked the conversion.

THIRD QUARTER saw Thollander score for the victors on a 22 yard reverse. Muddy playing field greatly handicapped both squads, with the Bisons getting to the Viking 4 yard line three times and not being able to score.

Twelve hundred fans were on hand at the game for the finale of the Bison season. The locals attempted 17 passes, completing 9. Northbrook completed 6 of 16, with the Vikings fumbling 3 times, and the Bisons 6.

Grant mauls Pirates to cop share of title

Grant soundly trounced Palatine Saturday 38-6 to win a share of the conference football championship. The Bulldogs, who tied with Bensenville for the title, had it all over the Pirates. They scored four touchdowns in the first 15 minutes on 19 plays and then retired the varsity lineup with reserves playing the rest of the way until the closing minutes.

Palatine kicked off to Grant to start the game and the Bulldogs tallied in three plays with Becker racing the last 45 to the goal. Haiman placed kicked the conversion with the game a minute old. A few minutes later Palatine punted out of bounds at midfield. Five plays brought the second score with Haiman sprinting around end the last 20. Palatine received the kickoff but Kirkpatrick, who intercepted three passes, snared a Palatine aerial on the Pirate 42. Seven plays put over the third score with Murphy counting on a quarterback sneak.

AT THE FIRST period ended Palatine had received and again thrown a pass on first down which Kirkpatrick intercepted to pave the way for the fourth touchdown. Grant started on the 45. Calhoun ran for five yards, Haiman four, and Becker two for first down on the Palatine 34. Fred Haiman ran around the Palatine left end for the touchdown and Haiman converted for a 26-0 score. The Grant varsity was replayed by a JV team.

Grant's reserves went right to work. After intercepting a Palatine pass they put over a touchdown on 10 plays which included two 15 yard penalties on Grant. A pass to Francis took care of the last 34 yards. As the half ended Grant had driven to the Pirate 20 yard line after recovering a fumble.

In the third quarter Palatine fumbled on the third play and Grant recovered on the 45 yard line. Eight plays made the count 38-0. A 24 yard pass to Stroening set up the score with Kirkpatrick plunging over.

SOON AFTER Palatine got their score. Ury ran the kick off back 30 yards to the Palatine 37. On the first play Stephan got away for a 28 yard run. An offside penalty helped make a first down on the Grant 24. After an incomplete pass Stephan twisted his way 15 yards to the Grant nine yard stripe. On the third play from this point Stephan went over.

Soon after Palatine, for the 1st time, held the Bulldogs and forced them to punt. Palatine soon kicked back and Grant moved to the Palatine 30 where Newport recovered a fumble. Grant's varsity went into the game and Becker intercepted Stephan's pass on the Palatine 43. In four plays Grant had a first down on the Palatine five but the gun stopped the Bulldogs from putting over another touchdown.

HAIMAN piled up 95 yards and Becker 110 for Grant with averages of 13.6 and 10 yards a try respectively. Becker had five runs and Haiman four of 10 yards or more. Grant gained 301 yards on the ground and completed four of seven passes for 81 yards. Palatine lost the ball six times on pass interceptions and fumbles nearly all of which started Grant toward touchdowns. Palatine's Stephan gained 75 of their 94 yards and had a 8.3 yard average but carried the ball only twice in the first half. The Palatine line looked weak on defense and put up less resistance than in the Bensenville game.

Palatine lost Pepper, their field general, after a few plays. Pepper's sprained ankle, suffered in the Bensenville game, was not ready for action and the loss of his tackling and blocking was a heavy blow to the Pirates. Grant played without three regulars, Hamer, Walker, and Shoepler who were still ailing from hurts suffered in their game with Bensenville. Grant showed that they had the best reserves in the league by outplaying Palatine with underclass substitutes, who will be next year's varsity, during the 29 minutes they saw action.

Warren foils Cards in 0-0 tie

Lake Forest runs over Woodstock

Local fans who saw the Homecoming game at Woodstock Friday are now convinced why Ed Lindenmeyer's Lake Forest aggregation are riding high in the Northeast loop with six wins and no defeats. The Scouts bested the Blue Streaks in a 27 to 0 contest.

The Scouts jumped into a 7 to 0 lead at the quarter when Eddie Burns showed his heels to the Streaks in a 40 yard dash. It was in the second series of downs for the Scouts and on the first play of the second series. The extra point was made via a plunge through the line.

Bob Haake, husky fullback of the visitors, scored the second touchdown in the second period on a 45 yard romp. The try for the extra point failed.

WOODSTOCK'S best chance to score came near the end of the first half when Bob Nelson grabbed a pass and ran 68 yards before being brought down from behind on the 10 yard line. The Streaks were unable to score. The Scouts rushed back with a long pass which took the ball to the Woodstock 3-yard line as the half ended, 13 to 0.

Arnie Miller came out fighting in the second half and picked up a couple of first downs on ten yard crashes at the line, but the Scouts held and took over. Eddie Burris took off around end and raced 72 yards for what appeared to be another touchdown, but an off side penalty brought the ball back. Bob Scharer then grabbed a pass and zig-zagged through the whole Streak team for 77 yards and a touchdown. He reversed his field several times. The try for the extra point was good and the score 20 to 0.

Whalen took a pass and went 22 yards for the final score. The try for the extra point was good and the score, 27 to 0, at three quarters.

Lady Meat Balls take City Cabs for ride

The Lady Meat Balls of Arlington Frozen Foods took the City Cabs for a ride Sunday afternoon as the women keglers took the measure of the men on the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes. The girls, with Millie Huffman's 472 leading the way, copped the three game match easily, leading all the way.

Locals lose all hopes of tie for trophy

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Warren Blue Devils from Gurnee played the part of true devils last Saturday noon when they managed to battle a strong Arlington team to a 0-0 tie in four quarters of rough and rugged football and eliminated all hopes of the Cards of copping a co-championship in the final year of the Northeast Conference.

This contest was Warren's homecoming, and the Cards, who are known as the homecoming spoilers, having beaten Crystal Lake, strong Niles, and Libertyville on the locals' own homecoming, failed to add the Blue Devils to their list. As previously predicted, the Cards found Warren a lot tougher than expected and just couldn't capitalize on any of their touchdown drives.

It appeared as though the locals were on their way to a score early in the first phase after Ralph Engelking had returned the opening kickoff 17 yards to the 30. Led by the running of August Krause and Engelking, the Cards piled up two first downs in three plays up to the 45, but Warren's line dug in and forced Bill Robinson to punt on the 38. His kick sailed nicely down to the 2-yard line where it was downed. Maurice DeLoof, great Warren left half, punted on first down to Robinson who returned it five yards to the 28. Chuck Dresser skirted to the 21, but Heights once again was stopped and Warren took over.

DeLOOF ran thirteen yards to the 33 on the first play, but likewise the Blue Devils were forced to kick on last down. DeLoof's kick sailed beautifully fifty-one yards to the 16. Shortly afterwards the first period ended with Warren handling the ball on the 50.

The Blue Devils' best scoring opportunity came in the second phase, when they smeared Robinson, who fumbled the pass from center on an attempted punt, back on the Cards' 35. DeLoof smashed up to the 31 in two tries and on the third down Hamel faded back and tossed a sixteen yard aerial to Nadelhoffer on the 15. However Bill Wagner messed up another attempted pass by Hamel and intercepted on the 9 and ran up to the 25, ending this drive.

Arlington's big chance came late in this period. With the ball resting on the home team's 31, the Cards pulled off the center pass as John Shanley came out from center position, received a handoff from Robinson and flipped a long pass down to the 21, where Phil Roche, a likely candidate for All-Conference honors at end, made one of his sparkling catches and ran to the 12 where he was downed. However, before the locals had time to run off another play the official blew the whistle, announcing the end of the first half.

WARREN had the upper hand in the third period and although no serious touchdown drive was produced, the Blue Devils were constantly within Arlington's thirty yard line, largely through the fine running of DeLoof. The quarter ended where Nadelhoffer had intercepted a pass on his own 30 and returned it to the 48.

The Cards tried desperately to push over a touchdown in the final period, but it just wasn't their day, and they failed to capitalize on their good breaks. Shanley produced the first good break when he intercepted Streicher's pass on the Blue Devils' 42, but Robinson fumbled on the next play, and Goodwin recovered for Warren. Later in the period Bob Cubley intercepted another Warren pass and was downed on the home team's 31. Chuck Fisher moved it up to the 22 but a fourth down pass was knocked down and DeLoof punted out of danger on the Cards' 30, with 45 seconds remaining. The game ended in a 0-0 tie with Warren controlling the ball on Arlington's 21, after recovering a fumble.

Coach Larson's charges will be out for Conference victory No. 5 next Friday evening when they tackle the Woodstock Blue streaks in their final scheduled contest beginning at 7:45 on the home grounds.

Card frosh defeat Niles, lose to St. Mary's

The Card frosh won their sixth game of the year 14 to 6 under the lights at Niles Friday night. Arlington got off to a good start when George Kavocik took the opening kickoff and ran it back 70 yads for the first touchdown. On the try for point Roche fumbled but Thill recovered for the point.

The frosh had several other scoring opportunities but an epidemic of fumbles prevented any more scoring for them during the first half. A fumble set up a scoring opportunity for Niles and they crossed the goal for their only score late in the first quarter.

ARLINGTON drove into scoring territory time after time during the second half and finally succeeded in scoring their second touchdown when Roche went over from the three yard line. Thill made the extra point on an off-tackle plunge. The score ended 14 to 6 with the Card second string finishing the game. Bob Fasick's all round play, especially blocking and tackling was some of the finest ever seen this year in freshmen games.

Monday afternoon the frosh traveled to St. Mary's of Des Plaines and lost a 13 to 6 hard fought game to St. Mary's Frosh-Soph team. Arlington started off well and marched all the way down the field only ot lose the ball on downs when they were about to score. The home team suddenly came to life and pushed two touchdowns across before the Cards could wake up. One touchdown came after a long pass that netted 70 yards for St. Mary's.

THE CARD frosh came back fighting during the last half and completely reversed the picture, pushing St. Mary's frosh-sophs all over the field. However, the Cards could score only once although they were within the 20 yard line several times. The only score came when Roche caught a punt and returned it about 50 yards for a touchdown.

This game concluded a very tough 8 game schedule. The frosh won 6 of these games scoring 128 points to their opponents' 57. The Arlington fans will be watching these frosh and expect some good football from them in the next three years.

REG'LAR FELLERS — Something Like That Shot At Concord — By Gene Byrnes

DADS NIGHT AT ARLINGTON, WOODSTOCK GAME FRIDAY

MAC ★ SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

The Northwest Conference season closed this past week-end with Bensenville and Grant, the standout teams, tied for first place. Our column picked Bensenville for first and Grant second before the season opened with Barrington, Palatine and Northbrook a toss up for third and Antioch definitely last. Palatine took the third spot a game ahead of Barrington and Northbrook, tied for fourth. Antioch as predicted was the cellar occupant without a victory.

Northbrook had best record against co-champs

Bensenville with a scoring record of 148 points to opponents' 29 and Grant's record of 105 and 23 were far ahead of any other teams. In offense Barrington was third, Northbrook fourth, Palatine fifth, and Antioch last. In defense Northbrook was third, Barrington fourth, Palatine fifth and Antioch last. Aside from the co-champs Northbrook was the only outfit to score more points than their opponents and they had the best record against the champs. Northbrook beat Grant 6-2 and lost to Bensenville by only 13-7. Barrington, Palatine and Antioch were drubbed badly by both the champs.

Bob Thollander broke league scoring record to pace Bison team

Coach Tom Meneguin of Bensenville fashioned a powerful grid machine this year but lacked reserve strength and in one game, that with Grant, had poor calling of plays.

The Bison line was without a peer in the league. Bob Pittman at tackle and John Gaspar at guard were standouts which this columnist picks as best linemen in the league for 1947. Bob Thollander was the best individual in the league. His 85 points in five games sets a new league scoring mark which should stand a long time. Thollander is our nominee for all-state recognition on the basis of his all round ability.

Robertson, small passing star, was one of the big factors in the Bison offense. Little "Robbie" could also run. Coach Meneguin will have one side of his line, including the center, and two backfield regulars returning for next year. Look out in 1948.

Bensenville strongest eleven — Grant had strongest squad

Coaches Dan Werhan and Paul Lewis at Grant brought into action a very colorful football team this year. They had a bad case of fumbles at Northbrook and were upset but came back to nose out Bensenville 15-14 by alert defensive work. It was Kirkpatrick who intercepted three passes in the Bensenville game to stop the Bisons who had it all over Grant on the ground but always tried their pet pass plays when in scoring range. Kirkpatrick also intercepted three times in the Palatine game. Grant's team was made up of close to 30 boys, all capable of giving a good account of themselves. Werhan had at least eight good varsity backs. Of this group, Fred Haiman, all conference in 1946, and Fred Becker, conference and Lake County 100 yard dash champ, were the top boys along with aforementioned Kirkpatrick.

The Grant line was two deep with hefty boys at each position. Don Walker, 230 pound boxing star, was the best man, playing at left tackle. Walker missed the last two games with torn shoulder ligaments as did Hamer, a small but fleet footed end.

Both Bensenville and Grant had fine ball clubs worthy of championship honors. Our congratulations to the coaches of both schools for a fine season.

Lake Forest vs. Niles Friday for championship

The Northeast season ends Friday night. Last September we listed the probable order of finish as Lake Forest, Niles, Arlington, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Libertyville, Woodstock and Warren. With a week to go the only team out of that order is Warren ranking sixth. This week the championship is at stake at Lake Forest Friday afternoon when Lindenmeyer's Scouts, who have a tie clinched, have to beat off Niles for an undisputed title and their 18th straight victory.

Niles deserves a share of the championship on the basis of a very fine ball club but we will string with Lake Forest. Arlington's tie with Warren dropped them out of a chance to tie for first should Niles win Friday. Arlington will finish third by beating hapless Woodstock. Crystal Lake and Leyden should remain in a tie for third by beating Libertyville and Warren. Tough Warren may spoil Leyden's hopes by taking them into camp.

Expect to publish All-Northwest team next week

In a week or two we expect to list all-conference teams for both the Northwest and Northeast Conferences. Each coach has been asked to nominate players for first and second all-league teams from members of his own squad. Then all lists will be put together and each coach will pick a first and second team from among the boys on the list of nominations. Paddock Publications will compile the results and boys getting the most votes will be honored as all-conference.

High school summer baseball a possibility

Last spring the principals of the Northwest Conference went on record as favoring a spring sports plan which would eliminate conflict between baseball and track and bring baseball playing into a better season. The idea was to have track until the middle of May and then start a baseball schedule to run into July. Boys could thus compete in both sports and baseball would not suffer so much from the bad weather which is so common in April and May in this area. Your columnist was instructed to contact the state office and find out if such a plan would be approved. He found that it could not be allowed under present state association rules but that it was expected that the rules might be changed.

Last week we received a ballot, as principal of Palatine High School, for voting on an amendment to the constitution of the Illinois High School Association to permit summer baseball on a school basis. We hope that the measure will carry. It will mean a strong program of school sponsored baseball through much of the summer and one of the results will be the development of enough good talent to provide each community with a strong independent or semi-pro team for Sunday ball. It is a move in the direction of a complete year round athletic program for high school students under school supervision.

Al Kleiner in DeKalb lineup

Al Kleiner who never went out for football at Arlington high was in the starting lineup at DeKalb Teachers Saturday as they whipped Macomb by four touchdowns. Kleiner plays end and is coming along in fine shape. Bill Godknecht of Palatine who had no prep gridiron experience, got into the Ripon College lineup Saturday against Lawrence as an end. We notice that Bob Kohler of Arlington and Gutnik of Bensenville are regulars at Lake Forest college at quarterback and end. Gene Ernsting of Bensenville was in the Lake Forest lineup also last Saturday.

Time for basketball to get going

Northwest schools all started practicing basketball this week. Barrington has been working out for the past month or more with boys not out for football. Ela and Wauconda have several weeks jump on the football schools with early practice. It is a little early to pick out the contenders, but our notes at the end of last season would list Bensenville, Grant, Ela and Barrington as the best four possibilities on the basis of material returning and frosh-soph moving to the varsity.

Cards can tie school record with victory

Ninety fathers of members of the three Arlington Heights football squads will be honored guests Friday night when the Cardinals play their final gridiron classic against Woodstock. Coach Larsen's charges, after last week end's scoreless tie against Warren, are "out for blood" in this final contest of the Northeast league season.

The Dads will be guests of the high school athletic staff at this final game with half-time ceremonies planned to honor them. All of them have received complimentary tickets for the contest.

THE HEIGHTS boys will be out to equal the school football record of all time as they hope to take the measure of Woodstock's Blue Streaks. This will give the locals a six won, one loss and one tie for the year, equalling the previous "best season" for the grid Cards.

Woodstock, it will be remembered, pulled a 26-0 upset on the locals last year after the Cardinals thought the season was over before game time.

COACH LARSEN has cautioned his boys this year against such over optimism, and expects a hard contest for the local gridders.

Last Saturday's tie at Warren came as a surprise to many local fans with Arlington's chances for a co-championship this week end being washed down the drain on the Gurnee field.

If Niles beats Lake Forest, though, the Lakers are favored to win, the Cards could have had a share of the title, except for the Warren tie.

At any rate, Friday night's contest will be the last of the season for Arlington with a good sized crowd expected. Game time is 7:45 p. m.

Palatine bowlers take Arlington

Wilcox's Palatine Recreation Center Match Team rolled over Ed La Bant's Arlington Heights boys Saturday night, Nov. 1, on the newly decorated Palatine Bowling Lanes. The defeat was 135 pins with series of 2677 for Palatine to 2542 for Arlington.

High series and high game was by Wilcox's lead off man Emmett Doyle with 226 in the 3rd game for a 578 series, Harold Beyer had a 203 in the 2rd game & Ed Doyle hit the maples for a 209 which accounts for the high series for the Team. Ed La Bant was high for his boys hitting 520. C. DeWitt had high game with 195.

Palatine: Emmett Doyle 578, Otto Hajek 518, Albert Parkhurst 503, Ed Doyle 530, Harold Beyer 548, 872, 880, 925, 2677.

Arlington: C. Diwitt 507, Eddie LaBant, Jr. 520, Matt Raier 504, G. Callahan 503, A. Hoffman 508, 860, 843, 829, 2542.

Heights boys are football prospects at Northwestern U.

Two Arlington Heights young men, Bob Nelson and Allan Stroker, are standout candidates for positions on Northwestern University's 1947 freshman football team. Nelson, probably the most improved player on the squad, is rated as the No. 2 fullback. Stroker, recently shifted from center to a tackle spot, is improving rapidly as he learns his new position.

Crystal Lake junior high wins five games

Crystal Lake junior high school won two more games, Nos. 4 and 5, when they beat St. Thomas, 28-8, and Dundee, 21-6. The Junior High reserves also won from Dundee, 21-0.

Crystal Lake is known as a good "athletic" town, in light of coaches' salaries, sports interest, etc. Above scores of grade school ball further proves this.

Bisons beat Northbrook to cop NW co-championship

Bensenville high school's football Bisons tucked the co-championship of the Northwest conference in their hip pads Friday night when they finished on the top end of a 13-7 score against the Northbrook Vikings on the DuPage field.

This was the second year in a row that Northbrook had a chance to knock the locals from their football perch. Just last season the Vikings pulled a surprise victory over Coach Meneguin's boys, copping the championship for themselves.

BUT FRIDAY night, though, the Northbrook squad put up a good fight, Bensenville notched two touchdowns to win a co-championship with Grant, who was running at will over Palatine.

The time honored sleeper play was again successful on the Bison field Friday as Northbrook scored their only touchdown in the third period. The Viking sleeper ran 76 yards for pay dirt against the Bisons.

BOTH SQUADS performed creditably in the air with almost an equal amount of yardage gained by the ether. But the Bisons tripled Northbrook on the ground as they rolled up 230 yards from rushing, to the Vikings' 78.

First Bensenville touchdown came in the second period when Robertson took a pass from Keller for 13 yards and the score. Robertson also kicked the conversion.

THIRD QUARTER saw Thollander score for the victors on a 22 yard reverse. Muddy playing field greatly handicapped both squads, with the Bisons getting to the Viking 4 yard line three times and not being able to score.

Twelve hundred fans were on hand at the game for the finale of the Bison season. The locals attempted 17 passes, completing 9. Northbrook completed 6 of 16, with the Vikings fumbling 3 times, and the Bisons 6.

Warren foils Cards in 0-0 tie

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Warren Blue Devils from Gurnee played the part of true devils last Saturday noon when they managed to battle a strong Arlington team to a 0-0 tie in four quarters of rough and rugged football and eliminated all hopes of the Cards of copping a co-championship in the final year of the Northeast Conference.

This contest was Warren's homecoming, and the Cards, who are known as the homecoming spoilers, having beaten Crystal Lake, strong Niles, and Libertyville on the locals' own homecoming, failed to add the Blue Devils to their list. As previously predicted, the Cards found Warren a lot tougher than expected and just couldn't capitalize on any of their touchdown drives.

It appeared as though the locals were on their way to a score early in the first phase after Ralph Engelking had returned the opening kickoff 17 yards to the 30. Led by the running of August Krause and Engelking, the Cards piled up two first downs in three plays up to the 45, but Warren's line dug in and forced Bill Robinson to punt on the 38. His kick sailed nicely down to the 2-yard line where it was downed. Maurice DeLoof, great Warren left half, punted on first down to Robinson who returned it five yards to the 28. Chuck Dresser skirted to the 21, but Heights once again was stopped and Warren took over.

DeLOOF ran thirteen yards to the 33 on the first play, but likewise the Blue Devils were forced to kick on last down. DeLoof's kick sailed beautifully fifty-one yards to the 16. Shortly afterwards the first period ended with Warren handling the ball on the 50.

The Blue Devils' best scoring opportunity came in the second phase, when they smeared Robinson, who fumbled the pass from center on an attempted punt, back on the Cards' 35. DeLoof smashed up to the 31 in two tries and on the third down Hamel faded back and tossed a sixteen yard aerial to Nadelhoffer on the 15. However Bill Wagner messed up another attempted pass by Hamel and intercepted on the 9 and ran up to the 25, ending this drive.

Arlington's big chance came late in this period. With the ball resting on the home team's 31, the Cards pulled off the center pass as John Shanley came out from center position, received a handoff from Robinson and flipped a long pass down to the 21, where Phil Roche, a likely candidate for All-Conference honors at end, made one of his sparkling catches and ran to the 12 where he was downed. However, before the locals had time to run off another play the official blew the whistle, announcing the end of the first half.

WARREN had the upper hand in the third period and although no serious touchdown drive was produced, the Blue Devils were constantly within Arlington's thirty yard line, largely through the fine running of DeLoof. The quarter ended where Nadelhoffer had intercepted a pass on his own 30 and returned it to the 48.

The Cards tried desperately to push over a touchdown in the final period, but it just wasn't their day, and they failed to capitalize on their good breaks. Shanley produced the first good break when he intercepted Streicher's pass on the Blue Devils' 42, but Robinson fumbled on the next play, and Goodwin recovered for Warren. Later in the period Bob Cubley intercepted another Warren pass and was downed on the home team's 31. Chuck Fisher moved it up to the 22 but a fourth down pass was knocked down and DeLoof punted out of danger on the Cards' 30, with 45 seconds remaining. The game ended in a 0-0 tie with Warren controlling the ball on Arlington's 21, after recovering a fumble.

Coach Larson's charges will be out for Conference victory No. 5 next Friday evening when they tackle the Woodstock Blue streaks in their final scheduled contest beginning at 7:45 on the home grounds.

Grant mauls Pirates to cop share of title

Grant soundly trounced Palatine Saturday 38-6 to win a share of the conference football championship. The Bulldogs, who tied with Bensenville for the title, had it all over the Pirates. They scored four touchdowns in the first 15 minutes on 19 plays and then retired the varsity lineup with reserves playing the rest of the way until the closing minutes.

Palatine kicked off to Grant to start the game and the Bulldogs tallied in three plays with Becker racing the last 45 to the goal. Haiman placed kicked the conversion with the game a minute old. A few minutes later Palatine punted out of bounds at midfield. Five plays brought the second score with Haiman sprinting around end the last 20. Palatine received the kickoff but Kirkpatrick, who intercepted three passes, snared a Palatine aerial on the Pirate 42. Seven plays put over the third score with Murphy counting on a quarterback sneak.

AT THE FIRST period ended Palatine had received and again thrown a pass on first down which Kirkpatrick intercepted to pave the way for the fourth touchdown. Grant started on the 45. Calhoun ran for five yards, Haiman four, and Becker two for first down on the Palatine 34. Fred Haiman ran around the Palatine left end for the touchdown and Haiman converted for a 26-0 score. The Grant varsity was replayed by a JV team.

Grant's reserves went right to work. After intercepting a Palatine pass they put over a touchdown on 10 plays which included two 15 yard penalties on Grant. A pass to Francis took care of the last 34 yards. As the half ended Grant had driven to the Pirate 20 yard line after recovering a fumble.

In the third quarter Palatine fumbled on the third play and Grant recovered on the 45 yard line. Eight plays made the count 38-0. A 24 yard pass to Stroening set up the score with Kirkpatrick plunging over.

SOON AFTER Palatine got their score. Ury ran the kick off back 30 yards to the Palatine 37. On the first play Stephan got away for a 28 yard run. An offside penalty helped make a first down on the Grant 24. After an incomplete pass Stephan twisted his way 15 yards to the Grant nine yard stripe. On the third play from this point Stephan went over.

Soon after Palatine, for the 1st time, held the Bulldogs and forced them to punt. Palatine soon kicked back and Grant moved to the Palatine 30 where Newport recovered a fumble. Grant's varsity went into the game and Becker intercepted Stephan's pass on the Palatine 43. In four plays Grant had a first down on the Palatine five but the gun stopped the Bulldogs from putting over another touchdown.

HAIMAN piled up 95 yards and Becker 110 for Grant with averages of 13.6 and 10 yards a try respectively. Becker had five runs and Haiman four of 10 yards or more. Grant gained 301 yards on the ground and completed four of seven passes for 81 yards. Palatine lost the ball six times on pass interceptions and fumbles nearly all of which started Grant toward touchdowns. Palatine's Stephan gained 75 of their 94 yards and had a 8.3 yard average but carried the ball only twice in the first half. The Palatine line looked weak on defense and put up less resistance than in the Bensenville game.

Palatine lost Pepper, their field general, after a few plays. Pepper's sprained ankle, suffered in the Bensenville game, was not ready for action and the loss of his tackling and blocking was a heavy blow to the Pirates. Grant played without three regulars, Hamer, Walker, and Shoepler who were still ailing from hurts suffered in their game with Bensenville. Grant showed that they had the best reserves in the league by outplaying Palatine with underclass substitutes, who will be next year's varsity, during the 29 minutes they saw action.

Lake Forest runs over Woodstock

Local fans who saw the Homecoming game at Woodstock Friday are now convinced why Ed Lindenmeyer's Lake Forest aggregation are riding high in the Northeast loop with six wins and no defeats. The Scouts bested the Blue Streaks in a 27 to 0 contest.

The Scouts jumped into a 7 to 0 lead at the quarter when Eddie Burns showed his heels to the Streaks in a 40 yard dash. It was in the second series of downs for the Scouts and on the first play of the second series. The extra point was made via a plunge through the line.

Bob Haake, husky fullback of the visitors, scored the second touchdown in the second period on a 45 yard romp. The try for the extra point failed.

WOODSTOCK'S best chance to score came near the end of the first half when Bob Nelson grabbed a pass and ran 68 yards before being brought down from behind on the 10 yard line. The Streaks were unable to score. The Scouts rushed back with a long pass which took the ball to the Woodstock 3-yard line as the half ended, 13 to 0.

Arnie Miller came out fighting in the second half and picked up a couple of first downs on ten yard crashes at the line, but the Scouts held and took over. Eddie Burris took off around end and raced 72 yards for what appeared to be another touchdown, but an off side penalty brought the ball back. Bob Scharer then grabbed a pass and zig-zagged through the whole Streak team for 77 yards and a touchdown. He reversed his field several times. The try for the extra point was good and the score 20 to 0.

Whalen took a pass and went 22 yards for the final score. The try for the extra point was good and the score, 27 to 0, at three quarters.

Card frosh defeat Niles, lose to St. Mary's

The Card frosh won their sixth game of the year 14 to 6 under the lights at Niles Friday night. Arlington got off to a good start when George Kavocik took the opening kickoff and ran it back 70 yads for the first touchdown. On the try for point Roche fumbled but Thill recovered for the point.

The frosh had several other scoring opportunities but an epidemic of fumbles prevented any more scoring for them during the first half. A fumble set up a scoring opportunity for Niles and they crossed the goal for their only score late in the first quarter.

ARLINGTON drove into scoring territory time after time during the second half and finally succeeded in scoring their second touchdown when Roche went over from the three yard line. Thill made the extra point on an off-tackle plunge. The score ended 14 to 6 with the Card second string finishing the game. Bob Fasick's all round play, especially blocking and tackling was some of the finest ever seen this year in freshmen games.

Monday afternoon the frosh traveled to St. Mary's of Des Plaines and lost a 13 to 6 hard fought game to St. Mary's Frosh-Soph team. Arlington started off well and marched all the way down the field only ot lose the ball on downs when they were about to score. The home team suddenly came to life and pushed two touchdowns across before the Cards could wake up. One touchdown came after a long pass that netted 70 yards for St. Mary's.

THE CARD frosh came back fighting during the last half and completely reversed the picture, pushing St. Mary's frosh-sophs all over the field. However, the Cards could score only once although they were within the 20 yard line several times. The only score came when Roche caught a punt and returned it about 50 yards for a touchdown.

This game concluded a very tough 8 game schedule. The frosh won 6 of these games scoring 128 points to their opponents' 57. The Arlington fans will be watching these frosh and expect some good football from them in the next three years.

Let's Look At The Future

Today, in view of the ever-changing conditions, the thinking family will make deliberate provision for mortuary service before the need for it is compulsory.

Decisions arrived at while in a calm frame of mind often reduce expenditures, and enable actual preferences to be voiced, as well as conserving energy against a time when it will be sorely needed.

We invite and encourage discussion of this problem which at no time ever incurs obligation of any sort.

Assembly speaker inspires Arlington high students

by ANNE LYMAN

Had a chance visitor passed the high school auditorium on Thursday morning, October 23, he would have stopped. Why? Because he would have been much intrigued by some 700 quiet, earnest students. Each one seemed glued to his chair and was listening intently to a speaker — listening so intently in fact, that I'm sure any noise from without would have passed unnoticed.

The subject of the student's rabid attention was Mr. Goeffrey Morgan, who spoke on "The Marks of A Man." Mr. Morgan emphasized the importance of a person's trade marks. These trade marks will make or break a man. Nations rise and fall; social, economic, and industrial problems take place, but behind them all are men — men whose influences are for good or evil.

These good or evil influences are determined by four elements of a man's personality: Character, Courage, Courtesy, and Culture. These are the four "C's" that are a man's trade marks. Those who do not have these trade marks are the crude people whose influence is bad.

"THE RECORD you students are making now cannot be changed no matter how long you may live. Are you going to let this record be merely mediocre or are you going to make it a record of which to be proud?" Mr. Morgan challenged the teenagers.

Mr. Morgan, continuing his analysis of a good man, gave down-to-earth examples of students he had known in the past. These examples could have been applied to any of us. Often his keen wit brought bursts of laughter or applause from the appreciative audience.

One statement that impressed this writer was that learning is a two-way proposition; no matter how good the teacher and school may be, a student cannot learn unless he has a definite desire to learn. Long will Mr. Morgan's inspirational talk be remembered by all the students.

AS A PART of the educational program of our school, plans have been made to bring other worthwhile assemblies to A. H. T. H. S. The committee in charge of arranging these assemblies is composed of Jean Baldwin, Mary Lou Sander, and Barbara Tichy. This committee with the advice of Mr. Knoeppel expects to bring us two assemblies a month throughout the school year. One assembly per month will feature outside talent while the other assembly will be put on by the students themselves or by student organizations.

Programs scheduled for the future are:

November 21 — Colored films and lecture on the countries of the Orient by William B. Holmes.

January 27 — George Groman (actor, teacher, and authority on dialects) with lecture entitled "How Other People Talk."

March 2 — Arthur F Kane speaking on "After You, Marco Polo," story of his trip across Asiatic lands.

April 30 — Cartland and Cook with a demonstration of table tennis. Cortland offers a victory bond to anyone in the audience who can beat him.

More assemblies may be added to this list.

Five Youths In Smashup; Father And Son Are Hurt

Two auto accidents in north DuPage county resulted in the injury of four persons this week, and seven other accidents in the county, over the week end, according to a report from the sheriff's office at Wheaton, with five more injuries.

AN ACCIDENT, which might have had most tragic results, occurred on Grand ave., just west of York st., last Friday evening, when a car in which five boys were riding with Walter C. Robbins, overturned and struck a post.

Apparently blinded by the lights of an oncoming car, the driver lost control as the car left the road. Fortunately the boys were traveling at a very moderate speed.

TWO OF THE boys were hurt and were taken to the Memorial hospital, Elmhurst. They were Alfred Vetter, of Wood Dale, who received severe cuts on his head, and Harold Sargent, also of Wood Dale, who had an ankle injury and shock. The other boys, who were uninjured, were Larry Wagenecht, Carl Vetter and Robert Block, all of Wood Dale, and young Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robbins, S. York st., Bensenville.

The car, a new one belonging to the Robbins, was completely demolished.

Karl F. LaBorn and his son, Walter, Keeneyville, suffered injuries Sunday evening at 7:30 when their car overturned after leaving the pavement on Lake st. west of Bloomingdale. They were on their way home from the Bloomingdale school house where Mr. LaBorn is caretaker.

Mr. LaBorn, who suffered cuts about the head and a badly bruised right side, returned home from the Elmhurst hospital Monday afternoon. Walter, who is 9 years of age, is still in the hospital with a possible skull concussion.

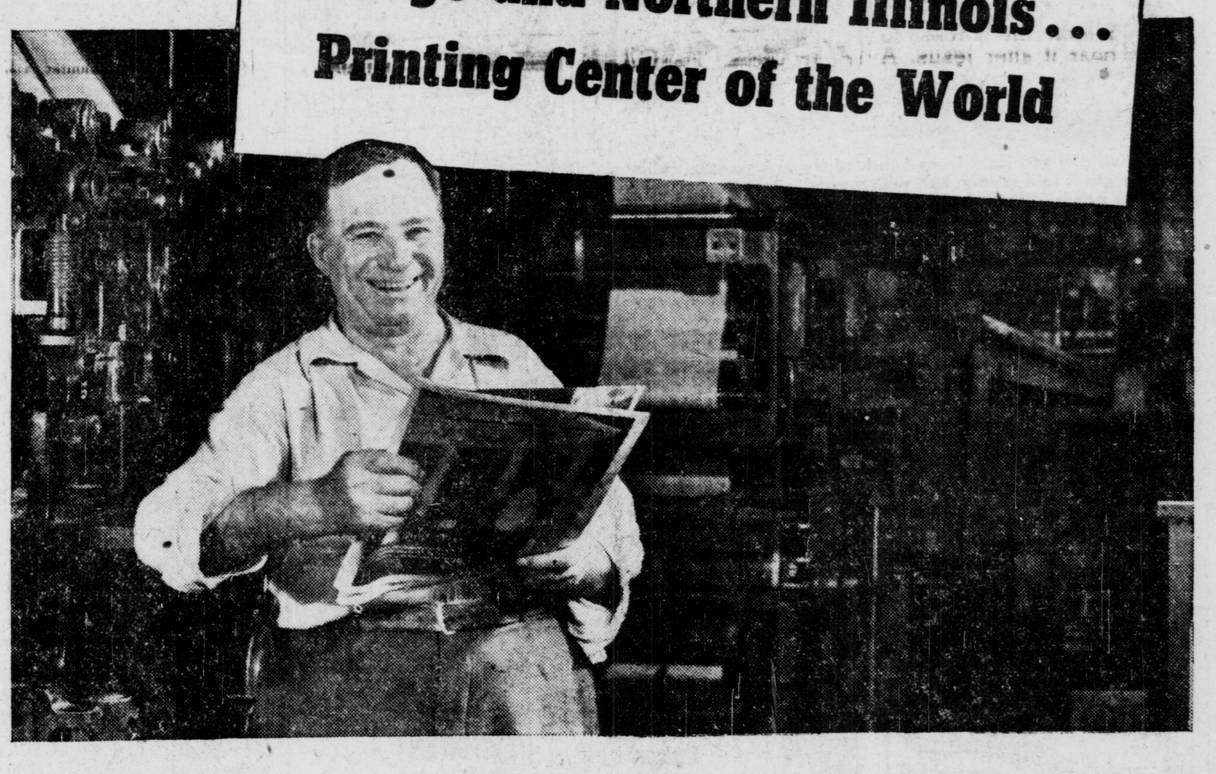
Chicago and Northern Illinois... Printing Center of the World



"Working on big printing presses has been my job for 20 years. I help print the millions of books, magazines and catalogs that publishers and mail order houses send every year to readers all over the world. In my lifetime I've seen this area take the lead in printing. The concentration of skilled labor and equipment in the graphic arts industries of this region is today unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Printing is my business, and I'm glad I live and work where opportunities in my line, and many others, are greatest."

This pressman* is one of 70,000 skilled craftsmen who work in the tremendous printing industry in this area. The graphic arts group in this area is the most mechanically complete and widely diversified in the United States. It ranks first in number of employes, wages paid, number of establishments, and is highest in economic value. Located here are the three largest commercial printing plants in the world, as well as hundreds of smaller printing specialists with fine skills and equipment to meet every conceivable requirement as to artistry, economy, and flexibility of processes.

Everything from mail order catalogs to technical books is run off in the 3,100 printing plants in this region. Annually they produce a greater volume than any comparable area in the world. And today, to meet the ever-increasing needs of industries here, Northern Illinois is rapidly expanding in every field of commercial printing.

The postal zoning laws for second-class mailings passed in 1918 made Northern Illinois the most economical and strategic location for the printing of national publications. Within a radius of 500 miles are more than a third of the nation's readers and buyers and 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns. Magazines and catalogs, as well as products from manufacturers in this area, reach their destinations quickly and on time because of the unexcelled shipping facilities of Northern Illinois . . . the greatest transportation center in the world.

To industries seeking locations, skilled workers and strategic location are only two of the many advantages offered by the Northern Illinois territory. As an aid to those considering relocation, our Territorial Information Department will supply factual data concerning this area and pertinent to your business. This department will supply studies in as great detail as is required, confidentially and without charge.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Say, did you know that a professional circus is coming to Arlington Heights on November 9th? That's right, a real circus with lions, trick dogs, acrobats, knife throwing acts, yes sir, everything that makes the coming of a circus a glamorous and exciting event.

The Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus is being sponsored by the Arlington Youth Center on November 9th. They will put on two shows, one at 3:30 and the other at 7:30. This circus is a well known group and the brilliance of their routine is greatly appreciated by lovers of the old-time, big top, three-ring circus.

Remember this circus is indoors. So you needn't worry about snow, rain, fog, or cold dulling or distracting this thrilling spectacle. The Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus will be held in the gymnasium of Arlington Heights Township High School this Sunday.

The prices for this night of thrills is 50c for children and 76c for adults. You may get your tickets at the door. Parents, there will be a committee that will go to the different grade schools to ask the students to attend. If your child comes home asking to go, let him! It will be great fun for him. And say, you adults are cordially invited too. If you're still young in heart you'll get a big kick out of the proceedings.

—Y. C.—

What a night! What a party! What a brilliant success. That sums up the Hallowe'en Party held at the Arlington Field House last Friday night. Yessirree, there were about 800 students and alumni dancing, playing, talking and generally enjoying themselves.

We'd like to take this occasion to thank those adults who really took over the reins of running the party. They took a big load off the shoulders of the officers. Mr. Blackburn and Mrs. Kennedy head the list of hard workers for the kids of Arlington Heights. It was their planning and able direction that helped to put the party over. Along with them we must not forget Max Warson, Robert Carney, Mrs. Carney, Mrs. Jean Hefner, Mr. Ragland, Mrs. A. Mason Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Hauff, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hermesdorf, Beatrice Boiles, and Wally Leutschwager. We really appreciate all that you did on Hallowe'en. Ooops, we almost forgot one couple that really knitted the party together. That couple is, you guessed it, our able directors, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

Say, did you hear that there was no Hallowe'en damage done in Arlington. That makes two years in a row now. It is a record and a real reflection on the complete cooperation of the kids. It looks like we, through acting right, have insured the Hallowe'en Party's becoming an annual event. Good news!

Neath many white crosses in many lands
In unmarked graves deep in the sea
Neath grassy meadows and shifting sands
Lie the men who've kept us free.
Yes, there's much for us to think about
As Armistice day draws near.
There is much cause for cynical doubt.
But must we give way to fear?
Let us rather strive and fight
With all our might and main
That those that died for truth and right
Shall not have died in vain.

Life Span of Patent

Invention is the embodiment of an idea, a product of a man's mind. It is not like a mineral deposit or a piece of land which has been available since the beginning of time. In return for a complete disclosure of his idea, the inventor is granted a patent—a limited "competitive monopoly." During this 17-year period of its existence the owner is given exclusive right to make, use and sell his invention. During that period anyone is free to make and to patent improvements on the invention. It may be produced by anyone at the end of the 17-year exclusive period.

Mt. Prospect PTA fun fair opens next week

The Mt. Prospect P. T. A. Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. Eugene F Martin, and co-chairman, Russell Smith, announce that plans are close to completion as the date, November 14, draws near for the staging of the annual P. T. A. Bazaar and Fun Fair Carnival in the public school basement, Central road and Main street.

Mrs. Martin has been in charge of the bazaar plans with many mothers working with her in various phases. Mothers and friends of P. T. A. all over Mt. Prospect have worked all summer to make this project a huge success.

The doll section, which was so popular last year, has received much attention this year and there will be great variety to make a little girl's Christmas very happy. Rubber dolls and magic skin dolls with handmade layettes, composition dolls and little girl dolls with handmade wardrobes and adorable sock dolls will be available.

TOYS that may be used in play with the dolls such as bassinettes, cradles, doll beds and swings will also be for sale. The little boys on the Christmas list have also been remembered and there are clowns, hand puppets, pandas and teddy bears for them.

The "wee one" has not been forgotten and knitted boottees, sweaters, mittens, soakers and bibs will be found on the baby gift table.

There will be a booth with a large selection of aprons of every type, utility, fancy and many gift aprons which are copies of some seen in fashionable shops.

A GIFT table will display for sale many lovely and practical gifts to settle other problems on the Christmas gift list. The selection includes children's and ladies' purses, knitting bags, tea towels, hot pads, handmade Christmas tree ornaments, potted plants and many other gift articles. The Mt. Prospect Girl Scouts have also made some handicraft items for this table.

The Mt. Prospect Camp Fire Girls will conduct a booth of jams, jellies and home canned goods, which have been donated by friends and neighbors.

The bazaar will begin at 2:30 p. m. Friday, November 14, and will continue through the afternoon, closing at 5:00 p. m. for the dinner hour, and reopening at 7:00 p. m. in the evening at which time the Fun Fair Carnival will open.

THE FUN FAIR is also an annual project and provides funway to fantasy with a puppet and entertainment for the whole family. Mr. Russell Smith heads the project with a large staff of fathers and mothers helping him. Mr. Smith promises all the fun events of the past years with some new ones added. There will be aa "Meller Drammer" under the direction of Mr. Rudy Zepp and also an old fashioned "Cake Walk." Fortune Tellers will take one into the future, Horizon Club girls will show the Girl Scouts will add an air of mystery with their Fish Pond project where children may fish for a surprise package, as will the "White Elephant" booth where any one may take a chance on buying a wrapped package. Two parent-fathers will bring a note of reality with their portrait sketching in the modern manner.

A great artist once said that little things are required to achieve perfection, and that perfection itself is not a little thing.

So with good health. The heart itself rests between each beat and thus provides a rule for living.

Relax when you can. Do better than that; provide in your daily living, a time for relaxation, for recreation.

Provide, moreover, a regular time to see your doctor for a systematic check-up of how you are doing. Is your heart performing without a murmur? Are your red corpuscles holding their own? That little cough! What does it mean?

Regular attention to your good health pays dividends. Carefully compounded physician's prescriptions are good investments too.

Here's Post-war Power for Pre-war Buicks

A brand-new 1947 Fireball engine puts today's Sparkling Zip into your 1937-1942 Buick

IF you've been itching to get the thrill of a power-packed 1947 Buick engine under your treadle toe, here's the quick and happy solution.

It's a factory-fresh Fireball engine right off the 1947 production line. It's exactly the same mighty package of power that goes into the flashing new Buicks. You can get it now to repower any Buick built in the last ten years.

How can we do it—when new cars are so hard to get? Here's the answer:

While shortages of bodies and other parts slow up completed cars, Buick engine production has forged ahead. So engines are available now—ready to go into your car and step it up with today's up-to-the-minute power performance.

And it's as simple as this: We take out the old engine—put this new one in its place—and your car's young again, rarin' to go, with a new lease on life and headed for thousands and thousands of miles of smooth, spirited service.

It doesn't take long—far less time than a thorough overhaul—and often at less cost. Convenient payments can be arranged, if you like.

It's the next best thing to getting a new Buick—and a good investment because it makes your car worth so much more.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Say, did you know that a professional circus is coming to Arlington Heights on November 9th? That's right, a real circus with lions, trick dogs, acrobats, knife throwing acts, yes sir, everything that makes the coming of a circus a glamorous and exciting event.

The Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus is being sponsored by the Arlington Youth Center on November 9th. They will put on two shows, one at 3:30 and the other at 7:30. This circus is a well known group and the brilliance of their routine is greatly appreciated by lovers of the old-time, big top, three-ring circus.

Remember this circus is indoors. So you needn't worry about snow, rain, fog, or cold dulling or distracting this thrilling spectacle. The Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus will be held in the gymnasium of Arlington Heights Township High School this Sunday.

The prices for this night of thrills is 50c for children and 76c for adults. You may get your tickets at the door. Parents, there will be a committee that will go to the different grade schools to ask the students to attend. If your child comes home asking to go, let him! It will be great fun for him. How to save half the winter fuel bill told by University

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point to information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one half the winter fuel bill — one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, 4 inches of insulation between ceiling joist and 3 5/8 inches between wall studding is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

Stone Age Stronghold

In the interior of northeast New Guinea — called Kaiser Wilhelm's Land before it fell to Australian authority — the headhunter and the cannibal are still to be reckoned with. The big Pacific island has been called the last stronghold of the stone age, with its bushy-haired tattooed natives, its tree dwellers and its fighters with stone clubs among the more advanced bow-and-arrow champions. Fortunes in gold, shipped by air, have come out of the territory. Petroleum and other wealth is indicated. Plantations of rubber, coffee and similar tropical products were thriving before the Japanese occupation in 1942.

How to save half the winter fuel bill told by University

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point to information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one half the winter fuel bill — one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, 4 inches of insulation between ceiling joist and 3 5/8 inches between wall studding is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

First U. S. Savings Banks

The first savings banks in the United States were non-profit institutions, founded for charitable purposes, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The original savings bank was the Provident Institution for Savings of Boston, which received its charter in December, 1816.

Local insulation manager leads national sales

Ernest C. Andres local district manager for Johns-Manville "Blown In" home insulation is again for the second straight year leading the entire United States in sales volume of "Blown In" home insulation. This is a very outstanding record for Mr. Andreas. Yet he says that the home owners in Cook and Lake counties are the ones who are up to date on their knowledge of the benefits of Johns-Manville "Blown In" home insulation.

Stone Age Stronghold

In the interior of northeast New Guinea — called Kaiser Wilhelm's Land before it fell to Australian authority — the headhunter and the cannibal are still to be reckoned with. The big Pacific island has been called the last stronghold o the stone age, with its bushy-haired tattooed natives, its tree dwellers and its fighters with stone clubs among the more advanced bow-and-arrow champions. Fortunes in gold, shipped by air, have come out of the territory. Petroleum and other wealth is indicated. Plantations of rubber, coffee and similar tropical products were thriving before the Japanese occupation in 1942.

Your floors are the most important single item to consider when decorating your house. Fresh paint and fine furnishings are wasted on worn out floors.

Floor finishing is not a dirty job when done by good mechanics. We make old dingy floors as smooth and beautiful as new. It is less expensive per room than other decorating. For an estimate today without obligation, Call

Your floors are the most important single item to consider when decorating your house. Fresh paint and fine furnishings are wasted on worn out floors.

Floor finishing is not a dirty job when done by good mechanics. We make old dingy floors as smooth and beautiful as new. It is less expensive per room than other decorating. For an estimate today without obligation, Call

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

Words often misused

Do not say, "It is just exactly as I told you." Omit just or exactly. One might as well say, "It is just just (or, exactly exactly) as I told you."

Do not say, "He handled it skillful like," or, "He went about the work awkward like." Say, "He handled it skillfully," and, "He went about the work somewhat awkwardly."

Do not say, "I have no hopes of going." Say, "I have no hope of going."

The impersonal pronoun one should be followed by one, and not by he, she, you, etc. "To keep one's health, one should be careful of one's diet."

Do not say, "The whole of the congregation sang." "The entire congregation" is preferable.

Do not say, "I did not see no papers on the dsek." Not and no form a double negative. Say, "I did not see any papers."

Words often mispronounced

Honolulu. Pronounce ho-no-loo-loo, first and second o's as in no (second o unstressed,) both oo's as in too, principal accent on third syllable.

Cement. Pronounce first e as in see unstressed, and accent second syllable, not the first.

Meliorate. Pronounce mel-yo-rat, e as in me, o as in no unstressed, a as in rate, accent first syllable.

Long. Pronounce the o as in loss, not as in on.

Jocund. Pronounce jok-und, o as in of, accent first syllable.

Motif. Pronounce mo-tef, o as in more unstressed, e as in tea, accent second syllable.

Words often misspelled

Canal; one n and al. Channel; two n's and el. Zoology; three o's. Palatable; three a's. Waist (part of the human body; also a garment). Waste (a desert; also to squander). Grievous; not grievious). Scrupulously; three u's.

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesons:

Oracle; an infallible authority; a divine command or communication. "Man's conscience is the oracle of God." — Byron.

Rebellious; opposing lawful or constituted authority. "It was a rash act of rebellious youth."

Petulance; temporary peevishness; ill-humor. (Pronounce the tu as in picture, accent first syllable). "The child's petulance was due to illness."

Approbation; approval; sanction; commendation. "There cannot be a greater satisfaction to an honest mind, than to see these approbations which it gives itself." — Addison.

Promontory; a high point of land or rock projecting into the sea. "A forked mountain, or blue promontory, with trees upon it." — Shakespeare.

Incidental; liable to happen as a chance; without design; casual. "These trials are incidental to married life."

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it customary for a woman to shake hands when she is being introduced to another woman?

2. What should the guests at a dinner do while the host is carving.

3. What size stationery should a woman use?

4. Should a child be permitted to leave the table before the rest of the family have finished eating?

5. Is there a stereotyped phrase that is accepted by the best society for acknowledging an introduction?

6. What is the preferable time for one to make a chance call?

7. What is a faux pas, and how is it pronounced?

8. How is it determined whether one should have a church wedding or not?

9. Should a woman guest remove all her wraps at a bridge party?

10. When should the guests arrive at the church for a wedding ceremony?

11. When passing in front of someone seated in the theater, is it proper to say, "Pardon"?

12. Should a man ever wear a morning coat with striped trousers at six o'clock in the evening?

Answers

1. This is optional, but she can show more sincere pleasure over the introduction if she does offer her hand. Under no circumstances must she show hesitation if the other woman offers her hand first. 2. Keep up a conversation. Do not watch the host or comment on his carving. 3. A popular size is 4½ by 6 inches. 4. No; he should sit quietly until the others have finished. Of course, he may be excused if the grown-ups linger over after-dinner coffee and conversation. 5. Yes; the only stereotyped phrase acceptable seems to be, "How do you do." 6. Sunday afternoon or evening. 7. This is a French phrase meaning a false step, especially an offense against social convention. Pronounce fo-pa, o as in no, a as in ah, with the principal accent on the last syllable. 8. This is altogether a matter of preference and whether one can afford the expense. 9. Certainly. She would look very much out of place at the bridge table, wearing a hat, coat, and gloves. 10. From a half hour to not later than five minutes before the ceremony. The guests should be seated before the parents of the bride and bridegroom arrive. 11. No; the correct phrase is, "I beg your pardon." 12. No.

2. What should the guests at a dinner do while the host is carving.

3. What size stationery should a woman use?

4. Should a child be permitted to leave the table before the rest of the family have finished eating?

5. Is there a stereotyped phrase that is accepted by the best society for acknowledging an introduction?

6. What is the preferable time for one to make a chance call?

7. What is a faux pas, and how is it pronounced?

8. How is it determined whether one should have a church wedding or not?

9. Should a woman guest remove all her wraps at a bridge party?

11. When passing in front of someone seated in the theater, is it proper to say, "Pardon"?

12. Should a man ever wear a morning coat with striped trousers at six o'clock in the evening?

Answers

1. This is optional, but she can show more sincere pleasure over the introduction if she does offer her hand. Under no circumstances must she show hesitation if the other woman offers her hand first. 2. Keep up a conversation. Do not watch the host or comment on his carving. 3. A popular size is 4½ by 6 inches. 4. No; he should sit quietly until the others have finished. Of course, he may be excused if the grown-ups linger over after-dinner coffee and conversation. 5. Yes; the only stereotyped phrase acceptable seems to be, "How do you do." 6. Sunday afternoon or evening. 7. This is a French phrase meaning a false step, especially an offense against social convention. Pronounce fo-pa, o as in no, a as in ah, with the principal accent on the last syllable. 8. This is altogether a matter of preference and whether one can afford the expense. 9. Certainly. She would look very much out of place at the bridge table, wearing a hat, coat, and gloves. 10. No; the correct phrase is, "I beg your pardon." 12. No.

Four cars in collisions Sunday

L. W. Roehler's auto hospital, Arlington Heights, has a big run of repairing these days. He pulled in four cars that were wrecked Sunday. An Overland going south on State road struck a Ford going west on Euclid at Kaiser's corner and the heavier car got the worst of the collision.

Two cars met on Chicago ave. in front of Fred Meier's place and locked front wheels. Neither would give half the road to the other.

Palatine gets new fire truck

Palatine's new fire truck has arrived just in time for the Thanksgiving dance. We do not blame the fire boys for asking to take their big "baby" out for a trial spin and to give that fire horn a spin or two. It is all worth the admiring glances and words of praise that it draws from all who have seen the machine.

The firemen dug down deep in their pockets to get that truck and likewise a lot of our citizens and they can be pardoned for having a decided interest in the new truck. A trial spin will be given within a few days.

High schools should serve all, not just college-to-be

High schools should not be primarily college preparatory. Each should have a curriculum relating to the needs of youth in its own community, according to Pres. George D. Stoddard of the University of Illinois.

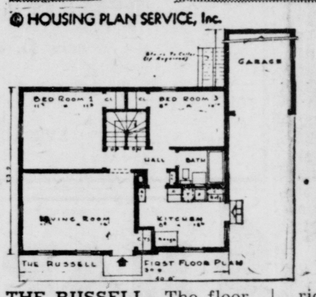
Commenting on the proposal that all inspecting and accrediting of Illinois high schools be taken over by the state superintendent of public instruction, the U. of I. president today expressed the opinion that colleges should not dictate what high schools should teach, even though college preparation is the need of a large proportion of the students.

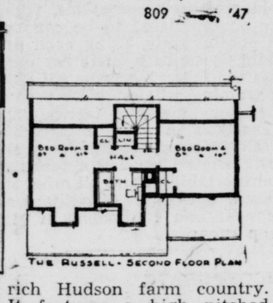
High schools should have the best possible program for all students, he said, and the colleges should be prepared to build on that program.

If the University withdraws from all accrediting activities, he explained, it would leave the U. of I. in the position of making "strictly professional" contacts with the high schools.

Under these circumstances, it was pointed out that the University could study the comparative success in engineering, for example, of students who had or had not taken certain courses in high school mathematics. Results of such a study would be reported to the secondary schools. This would be quite different from telling the high schools they "have to teach certain courses," President Stoddard said.

New ideas in homes





THE RUSSELL—The floor plan of the Adams, one of the earliest of the small houses of our present Housing Series, received wide popular acclaim. It seemed to have most of the practical features that so many homebuilders are seeking today. First it was an expandable house that might start off as a four room bungalow and later grow naturally into a two story, three bedroom, six room home. It's simple lines made it not only attractive but economical to build. Its style was early American, which remains probably the favorite architectural style of most home building families. It could have a basement or not, depending on personal preference and climatic conditions. It could be built with or without an attached garage. It would fit on a small lot. There wasn't an inch of wasted space. It was a home anyone might be proud to own.

This week in the Russell, pictured above, we publish by request another house with practically the same floor plan as the popular Adams. In outside appearance it is entirely different, but equally charming. The Russell shows the influence of early Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam and of the rich Hudson farm country. It features a high pitched roof and a wide front overhang, both characteristic of the Dutch Colonial style.

The inside room arrangement is practically the same except that the house is turned differently on the lot and the plan is reversed. Living room and kitchen are to the front, the two bedrooms in the rear. It is the simplest and cheapest type of expandable house. It provides all needed first stage accommodations for the small family on the ground floor. As the family grows two additional rooms and a second bath are pre-planned for the second folor. It is derived from a proven floor plan used by many professional builders who are always on the alert for good, practical plans that permit low cost construction.

Of course it meets Federal Housing Administration requirements and its electrical plan was checked and approved by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Complete architect's blueprints and specifications — everything needed to build the Russell — may be had by readers of this newspaper for $7.50 per set by writing Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

INTOLERANCE

I deem it necessary that a reply be written to a letter concerning the "intolerance racket" published in the Palatine Enterprise of October 31 and penned by a gentleman residing in Arlington Heights. First of all our gentleman confused the subject under discussion. The objectionable term being considered was "nigger" as it is used in the phrase, "a nigger in the wood pile." Instead of sticking to this term the fellow attempted to influence the reader's mind by appealing to his emotions with such terms as "wop," "dago," and "sheeny" which had no bearing on the subject at hand. Also he relied upon a rather unnecessary injection of subtle humor. Such substitutional devices seem to indicate a lack of facts and logical persuasion which would have appealed to sound reasoning.

Secondly this individual indicated that it was not unlawful or unconstitutional to loosely use the term "nigger" which reference he appears to condone. Neither is it against the law for one to refrain from voting, but this doesn't necessarily mean that such a practice would be favorable to our country.

On America's Town Meeting of the Air of October 8, Walter White, longtime secretary of the Society for the Advancement of Colored People, insinuated that Negoes were deeply hurt and insulted by such derogatory terms as "nigger." Mr. White, himself a very brilliant and outstanding Negro, is one individual I consider an authority.

No intelligent person would for a moment deny that there is a racial difference between the whiteman and the Negro. But color of skin is not an indication of inferiority. If the American Negro were given the proper intellectual and social education as well as an opportunity to exercise those freedoms put forth in the Bill of Rights, our nation would have no cause to hold an intolerant attitude against the Negro. I am willing to acknowledge the facts that Negroes often exhibit undesirable attitudes.

However, Negro belligerance is an outlet for a strong feeling of inferiority impressed upon him by his white oppressors. Furthermore so called occupational shiftlessness among Negroes is caused through lack of opportunity. The Negro realizes that no matter how hard he works he can not get ahead. He is the "last hired, and the first fired." Therefore why should he work hard when there is no chance of betterment and when he is able to find similar jobs to the one he holds?

In conclusion I would like to ask the writer of the previous letter and all persons, for that matter, to depend on facts and not false generalization and shallow prejudice as basis for conclusions.

It Happened Here

October is idling her way off of the calendar; in a few more days she will be gone to join her sister Octobers, feeling that perhaps she has put the final golden clasps on a richly golden casket; but she has been so prodigal of her wares, she cannot gather all to be stored nor crowd the remnants into her chest; trinkets and bits and tatters of gold are left here and there, willy-nilly; branches from her golden wain have caught on bushes and low shrubs and still hang there, an aftermath of glory; low on the talk of evening primroe gleam a few cream colored blossoms as the some maid had snagged her cap there and hurried on. And here is this tree, etched against the sky, tall, slim and vibrant with light; it is plain from the gold of her vestments that she is a king's daughter and has not long to stay, but she wraps her rich gauze around and seems loath to leave the scene of October's revels, she may even be October's self, taking a last look.

Entitlement basis of social security

"Entitlement not need is the basis for applying for Social Security benefits," Miss Ellen McGuire, Manager of the Evanston office of the Social Security Administration stated today. "Many people are still suffering loss of benefits due to delayed filing. despite the cooperation of local outlets of press and radio because they confuse old-age and survivors insurance with other programs based on need. The people of this community who are over 65 should contact this field office and find out their status under the Social Security Act."

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Children are often the unfortunate victims of the divorce courts. Often they are unwanted children, brought into the world with little forethought, and a constant reminder to their parents of a moment's uncontrolled passion. Perhaps they are left behind by parents cut down by death before they have even begun to live. Whatever the cause of these children's misfortune, there is something that can be done about it—and I honor the sort of folks who are willing to do it.

Children such as these want homes. They crave the love and affection that their circumstances have denied them. And the men and women who open their hearts and their homes to these innocent victims of circumstance are deserving of all the love and affection that these homeless youngsters will lavish upon them. No home is complete without children. If your home is too quiet, monotonous and dreary, brighten it up with the innocent prattle, mischievious pranks and merry laughter of these youngsters. Soon you will find that they are as necessary as the furniture, the refrigerator and the kitchen stove — even more so, for they bring the warmth of love and affection into what otherwise is but furniture, walls and ceiling. They make home really home.

I know a man and wife who, two years ago, adopted a little boy. These people, friends of mine, are not wealthy in a material sense. But, they are wealthy in possessing a deep love for each other, and the comfort and security of a good home, plus the common sense to realize that the valuable possessions of life are the affairs of the heart — neighborliness, generosity, simplicity of taste, and a love for family and fellow men.

Just recently these friends adopted another child—a little girl. These two children are to be given a real chance in life. They will go to schools as normal boys and girls do, in their own neighborhood. Saturdays and Sundays they will be free to play with other children their ages, out in the open, unhampered by institutional regulations, where their characters and personalities can develop along their natural bent.

I take my hat off to a man and woman like that. No tribute is too great to pay them.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

The strangest and nicest thing has happened!

Early of a Sunday morning recently, a car came into our driveway. Rob answered the door, and a young man asked permission to pick mushrooms in the woods. He said that years ago his father used to come to this farm for such purpose. Since it is the woods of our neighbor he wished to enter, Rob pointed out the entrance around the bend north of our farm, and suggested he see the rightful owner of the woods.

After the young man left, we noticed a large and beautifully marked collie standing near the barn. Our first thought was that the man had driven off without his dog, but on coming up to the animal we saw that he was pitifully thin, thickly matted with burrs, and had obviously been walking. He stood quietly and the pose of his head clearly indicated the question he could ask only with his eyes: "Are you going to welcome me?"

He wagged his tail when we patted his head, and followed us uncertainly when we said, "come boy." We brought warm milk to him and he drank as though he hadn't had food for a long time. He was so eager and drank so fast his stomach rebelled and he immediately regurgitated. He was extremely weak. We stroked him and assured him of our interest. He laid down on the terrace in the sun, exhausted, with his head on his paws.

Most of that day and the next he took small portions of food, rested, and slept. We were convinced from his condition that he had come from a great distance, and we wondered at his plight.

Two weeks have passed. No "ads" have appeared in the "lost" section of our local paper, and no one in the vicinity has reported a lost collie.

He hasn't left the farm since his arrival. He appears to love children, and is overcome with joy when the boys come home from school in the afternoons. We have addressed him by every name we can think of, but he shows no sign of recognition. He comes directly to us if we say, "come boy," and we know it is because he expects food. He resembles the Lassie of movie fame so much, we have decided on calling him, Laddie — thus, we now have our little Lassie, the mongrel, and Laddie, the thoroughbred.

He looks every bit a thoroughbred, though his fur is matted thickly in places under and along his tail. George succeeded in clipping out the large burrs around his head and shoulders. He has a white "collar" encircling his neck, and all the legs and paws are white. His head is massive and his nose, long and pointed. His ears stand up stiffly. He looks, and is, intelligent.

Rob keeps warning me not to become too attached to him, for he may be merely a tramp at heart, and might just as well walk away from here as suddenly as he came.

Cousin Georgia says it is considered "good luck" when a dog comes to one's home un-announced, and remains.

Now that the pheasant season is almost at hand, I imagine Rob wishes we owned a cocker spaniel. They are marvelous for hunting small game, but I have a hunch he'll give Laddie a try at flushing the birds in our corn fields next week.

For several days now we've noticed many cock pheasants strutting about the place. A week or two before the season opens they appear in large numbers, but after the first few shots are fired early of the opening day, they disappear like magic. They seem to sense danger, and cunningly remain quiet in the corn rows. Without a dog to "flush" them out in the open, one has a difficult time to bag any.

And aren't they delicious eating? If they weren't such beautiful birds, I wouldn't feel as badly as I do when we sit down to our annual pheasant meals in November. We like to stuff them with wild rice and roast them. How about you? Have you a favorite recipe for "stuffing" this bird? Or an unusually good menu for this kind of dinner? If you have, I'd appreciate ahving a copy.

With love, Mary.

Four cars in collisions Sunday

L. W. Roehler's auto hospital, Arlington Heights, has a big run of repairing these days. He pulled in four cars that were wrecked Sunday. An Overland going south on State road struck a Ford going west on Euclid at Kaiser's corner and the heavier car got the worst of the collision.

Two cars met on Chicago ave. in front of Fred Meier's place and locked front wheels. Neither would give half the road to the other.

Palatine's new fire truck has arrived just in time for the Thanksgiving dance. We do not blame the fire boys for asking to take their big "baby" out for a trial spin and to give that fire horn a spin or two. It is all worth the admiring glances and words of praise that it draws from all who have seen the machine.

The firemen dug down deep in their pockets to get that truck and likewise a lot of our citizens and they can be pardoned for having a decided interest in the new truck. A trial spin will be given within a few days.

Louis Hinrichs kicked by horse

Louis Hinrichs, while bedding his horses Thursday evening, received a kick from one of them. As luck would have it, the horse struck the fork handle first, then glanced off and struck Louis in the abdomen.

He was unconscious and the doctor who came at once found him in bad shape. At this writing his condition is somewhat improved.

High schools should serve all, not just college-to-be

High schools should not be primarily college preparatory. Each should have a curriculum relating to the needs of youth in its own community, according to Pres. George D. Stoddard of the University of Illinois.

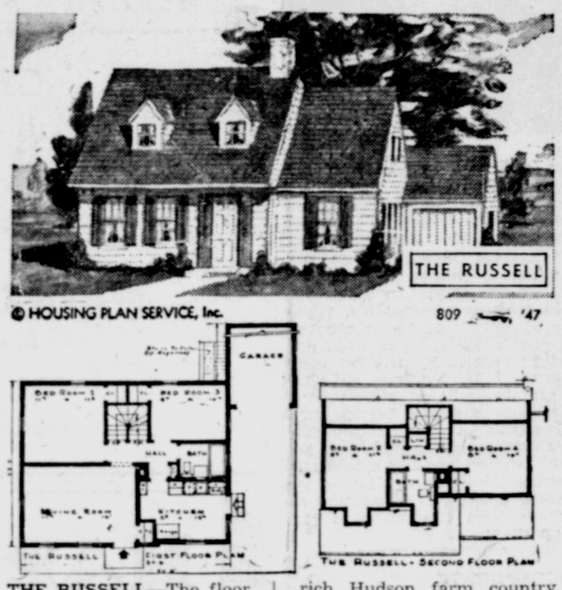
Commenting on the proposal that all inspecting and accrediting of Illinois high schools be taken over by the state superintendent of public instruction, the U. of I. president today expressed the opinion that colleges should not dictate what high schools should teach, even though college preparation is the need of a large proportion of the students.

High schools should have the best possible program for all students, he said, and the colleges should be prepared to build on that program.

If the University withdraws from all accrediting activities, he explained, it would leave the U. of I. in the position of making "strictly professional" contacts with the high schools.

Under these circumstances, it was pointed out that the University could study the comparative success in engineering, for example, of students who had or had not taken certain courses in high school mathematics. Results of such a study would be reported to the secondary schools. This would be quite different from telling the high schools they "have to teach certain courses," President Stoddard said.

New ideas in homes



THE RUSSELL—The floor plan of the Adams, one of the earliest of the small houses of our present Housing Series, received wide popular acclaim. It seemed to have most of the practical features that so many homebuilders are seeking today. First it was an expandable house that might start off as a four room bungalow and later grow naturally into a two story, three bedroom, six room home. It's simple lines made it not only attractive but economical to build. Its style was early American, which remains probably the favorite architectural style of most home building families. It could have a basement or not, depending on personal preference and climatic conditions. It could be built with or without an attached garage. It would fit on a small lot. There wasn't an inch of wasted space. It was a home anyone might be proud to own.

This week in the Russell, pictured above, we publish by request another house with practically the same floor plan as the popular Adams. In outside appearance it is entirely different, but equally charming. The Russell shows the influence of early Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam and of the rich Hudson farm country. It features a high pitched roof and a wide front overhang, both characteristic of the Dutch Colonial style.

The inside room arrangement is practically the same except that the house is turned differently on the lot and the plan is reversed. Living room and kitchen are to the front, the two bedrooms in the rear. It is the simplest and cheapest type of expandable house. It provides all needed first stage accommodations for the small family on the ground floor. As the family grows two additional rooms and a second bath are pre-planned for the second folor. It is derived from a proven floor plan used by many professional builders who are always on the alert for good, practical plans that permit low cost construction.

Of course it meets Federal Housing Administration requirements and its electrical plan was checked and approved by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Complete architect's blueprints and specifications — everything needed to build the Russell — may be had by readers of this newspaper for $7.50 per set by writing Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

A kitchen gadget that will open new vacuum jars without bending the cap. All those containers that say "Open With Back of Knife" yield quickly to this new invention, it is claimed . . . You can now clean and wax floors standing up. The new replaceable pad attached to a long-handled device will do away with housemaid's knee . . . A thermos bottle that does its own heating. The bottle has an extension cord that you can plug in at home or office to bring your tea or coffee to a quick heat . . . A steel indoor drying rack that sets up in the bathtub or any convenient spot . . . A new kind of motor heater to get your engine warm before starting comes on the market this week . . . A new waffle cooking gadget features castings of aluminum. Makers claim the unit will take all the guesswork out of waffle making . . . From England come some real predictions of things to come including car airplanes, typewriters without ribons, movable walls in the home and cigarette lighters with glass wicks. So far, however, these products are only in a book called "Your World Tomorrow."

INTOLERANCE

I deem it necessary that a reply be written to a letter concerning the "intolerance racket" published in the Palatine Enterprise of October 31 and penned by a gentleman residing in Arlington Heights. First of all our gentleman confused the subject under discussion. The objectionable term being considered was "nigger" as it is used in the phrase, "a nigger in the wood pile." Instead of sticking to this term the fellow attempted to influence the reader's mind by appealing to his emotions with such terms as "wop," "dago," and "sheeny" which had no bearing on the subject at hand. Also he relied upon a rather unnecessary injection of subtle humor. Such substitutional devices seem to indicate a lack of facts and logical persuasion which would have appealed to sound reasoning.

Secondly this individual indicated that it was not unlawful or unconstitutional to loosely use the term "nigger" which reference he appears to condone. Neither is it against the law for one to refrain from voting, but this doesn't necessarily mean that such a practice would be favorable to our country.

On America's Town Meeting of the Air of October 8, Walter White, longtime secretary of the Society for the Advancement of Colored People, insinuated that Negoes were deeply hurt and insulted by such derogatory terms as "nigger." Mr. White, himself a very brilliant and outstanding Negro, is one individual I consider an authority.

No intelligent person would for a moment deny that there is a racial difference between the whiteman and the Negro. But color of skin is not an indication of inferiority. If the American Negro were given the proper intellectual and social education as well as an opportunity to exercise those freedoms put forth in the Bill of Rights, our nation would have no cause to hold an intolerant attitude against the Negro. I am willing to acknowledge the facts that Negroes often exhibit undesirable attitudes.

However, Negro belligerance is an outlet for a strong feeling of inferiority impressed upon him by his white oppressors. Furthermore so called occupational shiftlessness among Negroes is caused through lack of opportunity. The Negro realizes that no matter how hard he works he can not get ahead. He is the "last hired, and the first fired." Therefore why should he work hard when there is no chance of betterment and when he is able to find similar jobs to the one he holds?

In conclusion I would like to ask the writer of the previous letter and all persons, for that matter, to depend on facts and not false generalization and shallow prejudice as basis for conclusions.

It Happened Here

October is idling her way off of the calendar; in a few more days she will be gone to join her sister Octobers, feeling that perhaps she has put the final golden clasps on a richly golden casket; but she has been so prodigal of her wares, she cannot gather all to be stored nor crowd the remnants into her chest; trinkets and bits and tatters of gold are left here and there, willy-nilly; branches from her golden wain have caught on bushes and low shrubs and still hang there, an aftermath of glory; low on the talk of evening primroe gleam a few cream colored blossoms as the some maid had snagged her cap there and hurried on. And here is this tree, etched against the sky, tall, slim and vibrant with light; it is plain from the gold of her vestments that she is a king's daughter and has not long to stay, but she wraps her rich gauze around and seems loath to leave the scene of October's revels, she may even be October's self, taking a last look.

Entitlement basis of social security

"Entitlement not need is the basis for applying for Social Security benefits," Miss Ellen McGuire, Manager of the Evanston office of the Social Security Administration stated today. "Many people are still suffering loss of benefits due to delayed filing, despite the cooperation of local outlets of press and radio because they confuse old-age and survivors insurance with other programs based on need. The people of this community who are over 65 should contact this field office and find out their status under the Social Security Act."

The Evanston office, 1603 Orrington is open Monday through Friday, from 9 to 5. In Des Plaines, office hours in Room 6 of the Des Plaines post office are from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon every 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of the month. Due to Armistice Day falling on the 2nd Tuesday of November, office hours will be shifted to Wednesday, November 12 from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon for the convenience of people in Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Arlington Heights and surrounding towns.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Children are often the unfortunate victims of the divorce courts. Often they are unwanted children, brought into the world with little forethought, and a constant reminder to their parents of a moment's uncontrolled passion. Perhaps they are left behind by parents cut down by death before they have even begun to live. Whatever the cause of these children's misfortune, there is something that can be done about it—and I honor the sort of folks who are willing to do it.

Children such as these want homes. They crave the love and affection that their circumstances have denied them. And the men and women who open their hearts and their homes to these innocent victims of circumstance are deserving of all the love and affection that these homeless youngsters will lavish upon them. No home is complete without children. If your home is too quiet, monotonous and dreary, brighten it up with the innocent prattle, mischievious pranks and merry laughter of these youngsters. Soon you will find that they are as necessary as the furniture, the refrigerator and the kitchen stove — even more so, for they bring the warmth of love and affection into what otherwise is but furniture, walls and ceiling. They make home really home.

I know a man and wife who, two years ago, adopted a little boy. These people, friends of mine, are not wealthy in a material sense. But, they are wealthy in possessing a deep love for each other, and the comfort and security of a good home, plus the common sense to realize that the valuable possessions of life are the affairs of the heart — neighborliness, generosity, simplicity of taste, and a love for family and fellow men.

Just recently these friends adopted another child—a little girl. These two children are to be given a real chance in life. They will go to schools as normal boys and girls do, in their own neighborhood. Saturdays and Sundays they will be free to play with other children their ages, out in the open, unhampered by institutional regulations, where their characters and personalities can develop along their natural bent.

I take my hat off to a man and woman like that. No tribute is too great to pay them.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

The strangest and nicest thing has happened!

Early of a Sunday morning recently, a car came into our driveway. Rob answered the door, and a young man asked permission to pick mushrooms in the woods. He said that years ago his father used to come to this farm for such purpose. Since it is the woods of our neighbor he wished to enter, Rob pointed out the entrance around the bend north of our farm, and suggested he see the rightful owner of the woods.

After the young man left, we noticed a large and beautifully marked collie standing near the barn. Our first thought was that the man had driven off without his dog, but on coming up to the animal we saw that he was pitifully thin, thickly matted with burrs, and had obviously been walking. He stood quietly and the pose of his head clearly indicated the question he could ask only with his eyes: "Are you going to welcome me?"

He wagged his tail when we patted his head, and followed us uncertainly when we said, "come boy." We brought warm milk to him and he drank as though he hadn't had food for a long time. He was so eager and drank so fast his stomach rebelled and he immediately regurgitated. He was extremely weak. We stroked him and assured him of our interest. He laid down on the terrace in the sun, exhausted, with his head on his paws.

Most of that day and the next he took small portions of food, rested, and slept. We were convinced from his condition that he had come from a great distance, and we wondered at his plight.

Two weeks have passed. No "ads" have appeared in the "lost" section of our local paper, and no one in the vicinity has reported a lost collie.

He hasn't left the farm since his arrival. He appears to love children, and is overcome with joy when the boys come home from school in the afternoons. We have addressed him by every name we can think of, but he shows no sign of recognition. He comes directly to us if we say, "come boy," and we know it is because he expects food. He resembles the Lassie of movie fame so much, we have decided on calling him, Laddie — thus, we now have our little Lassie, the mongrel, and Laddie, the thoroughbred.

He looks every bit a thoroughbred, though his fur is matted thickly in places under and along his tail. George succeeded in clipping out the large burrs around his head and shoulders. He has a white "collar" encircling his neck, and all the legs and paws are white. His head is massive and his nose, long and pointed. His ears stand up stiffly. He looks, and is, intelligent.

Rob keeps warning me not to become too attached to him, for he may be merely a tramp at heart, and might just as well walk away from here as suddenly as he came.

Cousin Georgia says it is considered "good luck" when a dog comes to one's home un-announced, and remains.

Now that the pheasant season is almost at hand, I imagine Rob wishes we owned a cocker spaniel. They are marvelous for hunting small game, but I have a hunch he'll give Laddie a try at flushing the birds in our corn fields next week.

For several days now we've noticed many cock pheasants strutting about the place. A week or two before the season opens they appear in large numbers, but after the first few shots are fired early of the opening day, they disappear like magic. They seem to sense danger, and cunningly remain quiet in the corn rows. Without a dog to "flush" them out in the open, one has a difficult time to bag any.

And aren't they delicious eating? If they weren't such beautiful birds, I wouldn't feel as badly as I do when we sit down to our annual pheasant meals in November. We like to stuff them with wild rice and roast them. How about you? Have you a favorite recipe for "stuffing" this bird? Or an unusually good menu for this kind of dinner? If you have, I'd appreciate ahving a copy.

With love, Mary.

Barrington man steps in hole, breaks leg

In a freak accident at his home Saturday morning, Wilson T. Herren of Barrington suffered a broken left leg. Herren, who has a position with a Chicago engineering firm, was helping workmen construct new basement steps at his home at 314 W. Gems of Thought

PRIDE

Pride, the most dangerous of all faults, proceeds from want of sense, or want of thought.
—Dillon.

Pride is seldom delicate; it will please itself with very mean advantages.
—Samuel Johnson.

Pride is to the character, like the attic to the house—the highest part, and generally the most empty.
—John Gay.

Pride is ignorance; those assume most who have the least wisdom or experience; and they steal from their neighbor, because they have so little of their own.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

Men are sometimes accused of pride merely because their accusers would be proud themselves if they were in their places.
—Shenstone.

If a man has a right to be proud of anything, it is of a good action don as it ought to be, without any base interest lurking at the bottom of it.
—Sterne.

New York

Paratrooper Albert W. Toeppel Jr., arrived at Pine Camp, New York, last week, to participate in the cold weather "Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by the 500 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Teppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Toeppel of Palatine, has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shooing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in the deep snow.

Gems of Thought

PRIDE

Pride, the most dangerous of all faults, proceeds from want of sense, or want of thought.
—Dillon.

Pride is seldom delicate; it will please itself with very mean advantages.
—Samuel Johnson.

Pride is to the character, like the attic to the house—the highest part, and generally the most empty.
—John Gay.

Pride is ignorance; those assume most who have the least wisdom or experience; and they steal from their neighbor, because they have so little of their own.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

Men are sometimes accused of pride merely because their accusers would be proud themselves if they were in their places.
—Shenstone.

If a man has a right to be proud of anything, it is of a good action don as it ought to be, without any base interest lurking at the bottom of it.
—Sterne.

FIJI MEASLES

An attack of measles wiped out one-fourth of the population of Fiji in 1875, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. When a community has long been immune from outbreaks, introduction of the infection is often followed by a serious epidemic.

New York

Paratrooper Albert W. Toeppel Jr., arrived at Pine Camp, New York, last week, to participate in the cold weather "Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by the 500 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Teppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Toeppel of Palatine, has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shooing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in the deep snow.

School districts to be reduced

Reports from 65 counties after a series of ten rural school reorganization conferences held in Illinois during September indicate that the number of districts in these counties will be reduced from 7,755 to 473, says D. This means that there will be one-sixteenth as many districts in 1948 as there were in 1945 if the recommendations of the county survey committees are accepted.

"This revolutionary change in number of school districts in the state has been made possible by the enactment of the new community unit law passed by the 65th General Assembly," Lindstrom said. "This law provides for the organization of school administrative districts with a minimum population of 2,000 and valuation of six million dollars.

"The enactment of the law has encouraged an increasing number of county survey committees to consider the community unit or 12-grade system, which would place all schools within the new district under one administrative board of seven members."

In 20 of the counties reporting, the county survey committees are either considering or have already approved the setting up of a county unit district. In 36 others, 184 community unit districts will be recommended, leaving only 9 recommending the dual system of elementary consolidated schools and high school districts. Thus more than 85 percent of the committees are planning to recommend or have already recommended county or community unit districts.

Reports from representatives of the 65 counties indicate that there is a growing desire on the part of rural people to organize the larger community unit district in order to provide better educational opportunities for their children. Such organization will also make it possible for attendance units within the administrative district to be changed as roads and building conditions improve.

LOOKING PRETTY

Elastic is concealed at the waistline of this maternity dinner dress with metallic bodice, black crepe skirt.

Every woman, including the expectant mother, feels and looks prettier in the right clothes for the occasion. A long dinner dress of the kind that is simple enough for wear at home and yet dressy enough for going out is worth its investment. And there are plenty of such dresses, once more, in maternity styles shown by New York's designers for Fall and Winter.

The dress shown above is light-topped for flattery, its bodice made of chartreuse metallic cloth in oversized coin dot pattern. The black crepe skirt has this season's extra fullness, and is neatly adjusted at the waist under the narrow sash. Another becoming maternity dinner dress is all black crepe with touches of sequin embroidery on the shoulders.

FRIEDERICKA VON GORDER

Three children will share the estimated $5,250 estate of Mrs. Friedericka Van Gorder, Arlington Heights State Road, Arlington Heights, it was disclosed in a petition for letters of administration filed late last week with John W. Tauchen, clerk of Probate court. Mrs. Van Gorder died July 6, 1946, without leaving a will. Her holdings consisted largely of real estate.

The children are Mrs. Edna Scharringhausen, of the State Road address, Harvey Blohm, of Los Angeles, and Ferdinand Blohm, of 305 North Pine st., Arlington Heights.

Farm family award judges are announced

Five prominent state agricultural and home economics authorities have accepted invitations to act as judges in the program to name the outstanding "Farm Family of the Year" in each of twenty-nine Illinois counties, it was announced here today by the Illinois Agricultural Extension Service.

Those who will act as state judges are H. P. Rusk, Dean, University of Illinois College of Agriculture; Arnold P. Benson, Director, State Department of Agriculture, Springfield, Illinois; Miss Pearl Barnes, President, Illinois Home Bureau Federation, Preemption, Illinois; Charles B. Shuman, President, Illinois Agricultural Association, Sullivan, Illinois; and S. A. Robert, Director of Agriculture and Forestry, Gulf Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

Nominations to select the outstanding farm husband and wife will be made by the farmers themselves, and the winning couples will be given a five-day all-expense trip through the Deep South by the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, which is sponsoring the project in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Winners are to be chosen on a basis of citizenship, efficient farm operation and elements of home life. Dean Rusk emphasized that the program was designed to encourage farm and community enterprise in agricultural endeavor.

The program is being conducted through the County Farm Adviser's office in the twenty-nine Illinois counties served by the railroad.

"We have nomination blanks in either Farm Bureau, the Truck Grower's Association and Home Bureau," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes "for this awards. The award committee will consist of a representative appointed by the Cook County Farm Bureau, Home Bureau, Truck Growers Association, Ministerial Association, P. T. A., Medical and Banker's Association. County awards will be made the last of November. Nominations should be made at once and sent to C. A. Hughes, Farm Adviser, Arlington Heights, Ill."

To enlarge hospital at Libertyville

Conditions which make it imperative that an extension program be started as soon as possible, and which ultimately may see the doubling of the size of the present institution, were revealed at a meeting of Condell-Memorial hospital directors and the medical staff last week in Libertyville.

Figures obtained from other hospitals show that the Libertyville hospital is the busiest in Lake county. Increase in population within the next few years will prove an additional burden to Condell, and with this in mind the board will undertake an enlargement program.

First Settlement

Elastic is concealed at the waistline of this maternity dinner dress with metallic bodice, black crepe skirt.

Every woman, including the expectant mother, feels and looks prettier in the right clothes for the occasion. A long dinner dress of the kind that is simple enough for wear at home and yet dressy enough for going out is worth its investment. And there are plenty of such dresses, once more, in maternity styles shown by New York's designers for Fall and Winter.

The dress shown above is light-topped for flattery, its bodice made of chartreuse metallic cloth in oversized coin dot pattern. The black crepe skirt has this season's extra fullness, and is neatly adjusted at the waist under the narrow sash. Another becoming maternity dinner dress is all black crepe with touches of sequin embroidery on the shoulders.

FRIEDERICKA VON GORDER

Three children will share the estimated $5,250 estate of Mrs. Friedericka Van Gorder, Arlington Heights State Road, Arlington Heights, it was disclosed in a petition for letters of administration filed late last week with John W. Tauchen, clerk of Probate court. Mrs. Van Gorder died July 6, 1946, without leaving a will. Her holdings consisted largely of real estate.

The children are Mrs. Edna Scharringhausen, of the State Road address, Harvey Blohm, of Los Angeles, and Ferdinand Blohm, of 305 North Pine st., Arlington Heights.

Farm family award judges are announced

Five prominent state agricultural and home economics authorities have accepted invitations to act as judges in the program to name the outstanding "Farm Family of the Year" in each of twenty-nine Illinois counties, it was announced here today by the Illinois Agricultural Extension Service.

Those who will act as state judges are H. P. Rusk, Dean, University of Illinois College of Agriculture; Arnold P. Benson, Director, State Department of Agriculture, Springfield, Illinois; Miss Pearl Barnes, President, Illinois Home Bureau Federation, Preemption, Illinois; Charles B. Shuman, President, Illinois Agricultural Association, Sullivan, Illinois; and S. A. Robert, Director of Agriculture and Forestry, Gulf Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

Nominations to select the outstanding farm husband and wife will be made by the farmers themselves, and the winning couples will be given a five-day all-expense trip through the Deep South by the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, which is sponsoring the project in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Winners are to be chosen on a basis of citizenship, efficient farm operation and elements of home life. Dean Rusk emphasized that the program was designed to encourage farm and community enterprise in agricultural endeavor.

The program is being conducted through the County Farm Adviser's office in the twenty-nine Illinois counties served by the railroad.

"We have nomination blanks in either Farm Bureau, the Truck Grower's Association and Home Bureau," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes "for this awards. The award committee will consist of a representative appointed by the Cook County Farm Bureau, Home Bureau, Truck Growers Association, Ministerial Association, P. T. A., Medical and Banker's Association. County awards will be made the last of November. Nominations should be made at once and sent to C. A. Hughes, Farm Adviser, Arlington Heights, Ill."

First Settlement

The first Spanish mainland settlement in South America was founded in 1509 by Alonso de Ojeda on the Gulf of Uraba, Colombia.

To enlarge hospital at Libertyville

Conditions which make it imperative that an extension program be started as soon as possible, and which ultimately may see the doubling of the size of the present institution, were revealed at a meeting of Condell-Memorial hospital directors and the medical staff last week in Libertyville.

Figures obtained from other hospitals show that the Libertyville hospital is the busiest in Lake county. Increase in population within the next few years will prove an additional burden to Condell, and with this in mind the board will undertake an enlargement program.

Committeemen elections to be held by mail

Mr. Carl M. Bormet, Chairman of the Cook County AAA Committee, announced today that farmers would vote by mail in this year's annual community elections. Ballots will be cast during the period of November 15th and November 22nd.

This new method of holding elections was tried out last year in a couple of counties with very excellent results. It was proven not only economical but also a practical way of making it easy for every eligible voted to participate.

"In fact," said Mr. Bormet, "all the voter has to do is mark the ballot which will be sent to him and return it to the county office on or before the 22nd of November. That should be a lot easier than attending a regular election meeting, and the procedure to be followed is just as fair and secret as we know how to make it. The name which appears on the ballot for each of the positions to be filled —3 community committeemen, 2 alternates and a delegate and alternate to the county convention —represents the selection of a specially constituted nominating committee from which all present office holders are excluded. If the voter isn't satisfied with any listed candidate he has the privilege of writing in a selection of his own. In addition to this, there is nothing whatsoever either on the ballot or return envelope that would in any way identify the voter."

A few comments were also made by the committeeman relative to the importance of the election. "Sometimes," he said, "we get to the point where we take things for granted, and that's something we shouldn't do with regard to our farm program. I, for one, well remember that our present farm program was established only after a long and hard struggle. I remember, too, that it was born in a time of great need and adversity, and I am not so optimistic to believe that it won't be needed in the future. Therefore, I personally think it very important for every eligible person to register a vote in this election — a vote in favor of a strong farm program to carry on present activities and to engage in more extensive activities as the need arises — a vote, too, in favor of a program administered, at least locally, by elected farmers."

Northfield high school furthered

At a meeting recently the Northfield Township High School Board of Education approved the program outlined by its Superintendent, Dr. N. E. Watson, for proceeding with the planning of the educational program of the new school. Although certain matters of litigation must of necessity be resolved before actual construction can begin, many months of educational planning must take place before architects may receive the proposals around which they plan a building.

Dr. Watson has proposed a three lane approach to the problem. He and his present staff of high school teachers will approach the problem from one point of view, a state committee has been invited to participate, and a large group of lay people is desired.

RFD has birthday this month; farmers rely on better roads

This month, Rural Free Delivery Service embarks on its fifty-second year of service to rural America. Rural mail carriers, 32,189 of them, travel 1,441,994 miles each day. They serve 29,641,722 patrons along their routes. Yet half the mileage they cover each day through rain and mud and blizzard is over dirt roads.

Access to market has meant increased production and income. Better roads have brought mail delivery, consolidated schools, churches, medical care, fire protection, and trips to town. These add up to better and happier life on the farm.

Transportation problems still handicap much of the rural population. For years, the farmer has been asking for better roads. Good or bad, he depends upon them. He is the nation's number one road-user. He uses a third of all the trucks that are built and more than four million of the passenger cars. When he makes a trip over a muddy or dusty road, it's usually a business trip.

State may look to small farms to boost output

Illinois' small acreage farmers, operating 24 per cent of the state's farms, can prove a major factor in filling the world's food basket through adoption of new tillage methods which increases yields up to 22 per cent, a study of farm production methods just made public indicates.

In addition to saving an average of 34 wark days each year, the state's approximately 24,400 truck gardeners, specialty growers and subsistence farmers can add substantially to ehe state's $1,481,000,000 1946 crop yield through new tilling and cultivating methods, reports Joseph W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige Motors Corp., which made the survey.

"America has nearly 2,300,000 farms of 50 acres or less and practically all of these can expect to benefit from methods of improving seed beds," he said. "Soil has been shown to become better aerated and more moisture-retaining with new tillage methods such as that employed by the rototiller which plows, discs and harrows in a single operation."

Destructive Female

In one year a female moth and her descendants can destroy as much wool as 13 sheep can produce in the same period.

Dedicate new school

Representatives of the national, state, county and township governments took part Saturday in the dedication of the ultra-modern $100,000 North Barrington Elementary School on Rte. 59, near Miller road.

Following brief addresses there was an inspection tour of the $100,000 plant, with pupils of the eighth grade serving as ushers and guides.

Milk payments

Dr. D. B. Peck, President of Bowman Dairy Company announced that for September, dairy farmers of Cook-DuPage County received $17,739.97 for milk delivered to Bowman plants. These figures let people of your county know how much dairy farmers add to the financial stability of your community.

Committeemen elections to be held by mail

Mr. Carl M. Bormet, Chairman of the Cook County AAA Committee, announced today that farmers would vote by mail in this year's annual community elections. Ballots will be cast during the period of November 15th and November 22nd.

This new method of holding elections was tried out last year in a couple of counties with very excellent results. It was proven not only economical but also a practical way of making it easy for every eligible voted to participate.

"In fact," said Mr. Bormet, "all the voter has to do is mark the ballot which will be sent to him and return it to the county office on or before the 22nd of November. That should be a lot easier than attending a regular election meeting, and the procedure to be followed is just as fair and secret as we know how to make it. The name which appears on the ballot for each of the positions to be filled —3 community committeemen, 2 alternates and a delegate and alternate to the county convention —represents the selection of a specially constituted nominating committee from which all present office holders are excluded. If the voter isn't satisfied with any listed candidate he has the privilege of writing in a selection of his own. In addition to this, there is nothing whatsoever either on the ballot or return envelope that would in any way identify the voter."

A few comments were also made by the committeeman relative to the importance of the election. "Sometimes," he said, "we get to the point where we take things for granted, and that's something we shouldn't do with regard to our farm program. I, for one, well remember that our present farm program was established only after a long and hard struggle. I remember, too, that it was born in a time of great need and adversity, and I am not so optimistic to believe that it won't be needed in the future. Therefore, I personally think it very important for every eligible person to register a vote in this election — a vote in favor of a strong farm program to carry on present activities and to engage in more extensive activities as the need arises — a vote, too, in favor of a program administered, at least locally, by elected farmers."

Northfield high school furthered

At a meeting recently the Northfield Township High School Board of Education approved the program outlined by its Superintendent, Dr. N. E. Watson, for proceeding with the planning of the educational program of the new school. Although certain matters of litigation must of necessity be resolved before actual construction can begin, many months of educational planning must take place before architects may receive the proposals around which they plan a building.

Dr. Watson has proposed a three lane approach to the problem. He and his present staff of high school teachers will approach the problem from one point of view, a state committee has been invited to participate, and a large group of lay people is desired.

RFD has birthday this month; farmers rely on better roads

This month, Rural Free Delivery Service embarks on its fifty-second year of service to rural America. Rural mail carriers, 32,189 of them, travel 1,441,994 miles each day. They serve 29,641,722 patrons along their routes. Yet half the mileage they cover each day through rain and mud and blizzard is over dirt roads.

Access to market has meant increased production and income. Better roads have brought mail delivery, consolidated schools, churches, medical care, fire protection, and trips to town. These add up to better and happier life on the farm.

Transportation problems still handicap much of the rural population. For years, the farmer has been asking for better roads. Good or bad, he depends upon them. He is the nation's number one road-user. He uses a third of all the trucks that are built and more than four million of the passenger cars. When he makes a trip over a muddy or dusty road, it's usually a business trip.

State may look to small farms to boost output

Illinois' small acreage farmers, operating 24 per cent of the state's farms, can prove a major factor in filling the world's food basket through adoption of new tillage methods which increases yields up to 22 per cent, a study of farm production methods just made public indicates.

In addition to saving an average of 34 wark days each year, the state's approximately 24,400 truck gardeners, specialty growers and subsistence farmers can add substantially to ehe state's $1,481,000,000 1946 crop yield through new tilling and cultivating methods, reports Joseph W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige Motors Corp., which made the survey.

"America has nearly 2,300,000 farms of 50 acres or less and practically all of these can expect to benefit from methods of improving seed beds," he said. "Soil has been shown to become better aerated and more moisture-retaining with new tillage methods such as that employed by the rototiller which plows, discs and harrows in a single operation."

Destructive Female

In one year a female moth and her descendants can destroy as much wool as 13 sheep can produce in the same period.

Milk prices to remain high says survey

Milk prices will remain at a fairly high level during the next six months, although continuing to be somewhat lower than last year. Seasonally they are likely to reach their peak in November and fall off month by month from then until next May.

Last year the meat shortage caused a sharp increase in the demand for cheese. Higher prices for milk used as cheese, in turn, bid up the prices for milk used at condenseries and for market milk. Cream prices were also forced sharply upward. This competition plus seasonal shortages bid up the Chicago blend price of milk to the all-time high of $5.11 per 100 pounds in November, 1946.

While there are now some seasonal shortages of market milk, there is no meat shortage this year. This is one reason why milk prices this year are at a lower level than last year.

Consumption of milk and cream has been running about 5 percent below last year and is likely to continue at this lower level. This factor combined with a 2 percent increase in total production, has forced more milk into manufactured uses. This is another reason why milk prices have been somewhat lower than last year.

Seasonal variation in milk production widened in most markets in the United States during the war years. This has been one factor contributing to shortages of milk in the late summer and fall months. Milk prices in the late summer and fall months are now much higher than those in May and June. Every producer should give careful thought to the production of more milk in the shortage period from August to November and less milk in the surplus months of May and June. In most cases this will return more money per cow.

Feed prices are likely to continue at a high level during the next few months. Last year 3.3 billion bushels of corn were produced. This year it is estimated that the corn production will be 2.4 billions, or 27 percent less than last year. This is one factor causing high feed prices.

This summer western Europe had the worst drought in over 20 years. Peoples in many of these countries have been living on subsistence rations for many years. Exports of foods from the United States must be increased to provide even subsistence rations during the next few months for the people in these countries.

Production Line Comes To Farm As Feed Handling Goes Automatic

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

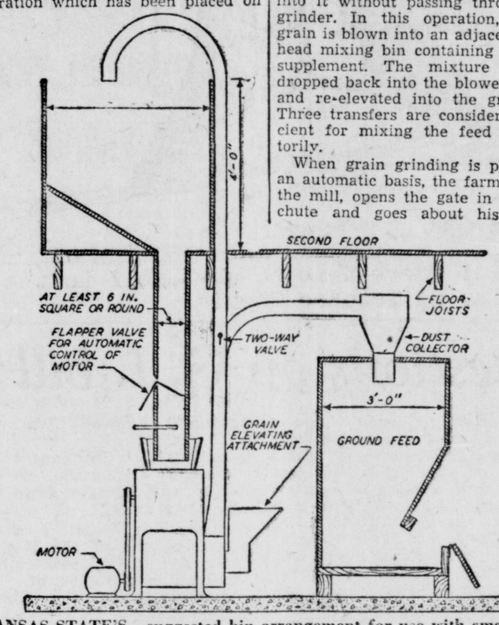
The time hasn't arrived as yet when a farmer can do all of his work by manipulating a few "machines of tomorrow" with push buttons — but don't bet that it never will happen. He's already made a good start with electric milkers, elevators, barn cleaners and similar power equipment.

A typical example of a farming operation which has been placed on practically an automatic basis is the handling and processing of feed. There are several advantages apparent when this job is done on the farm. It saves the farmer the cost and inconvenience of hauling whole grain to a commercial mill, allows him to make a spare-time job of grinding and eliminates the necessity for storing large quantities of ground grain, thus preventing feed spoilage losses. By mixing his own feed, the farmer also can follow his particular feeding formulas.

It is not difficult to construct an automatic feed handling setup. However, power supplies should be consulted to determine the proper size of grinder to be installed and the capacity and design of suitable grain hoppers. In a simple and efficient feed handling arrangement, hoppers or bins are located over the grinder and whole grain flows into it by gravity. Ground feed either is blown into a feed bin or drops into a box under the grinder. If a mechanical mixer is used, the feed bin should be built over the mixer so that ground grain can drop into it through a chute. Mixing also can be done in overhead bins with the aid of a blower-equipped mill, having an extra hopper which permits grain to be fed into it without passing through the grinder. In this operation, ground grain is blown into an adjacent overhead mixing bin containing the feed supplement. The mixture then is dropped back into the blower hopper and re-elevated into the grain bin. Three transfers are considered sufficient for mixing the feed satisfactorily.

When grain grinding is placed on an automatic basis, the farmer starts the mill, opens the gate in the feed chute and goes about his chores. When they are finished, he turns off the mill. Grinders are built to operate safely under all conditions even when no grain flows into them, and the electric motors, by which they may be operated, are equipped with overload protective devices which prevent them from handling excessively heavy loads.

Mills, operated by motors of from 3 to 7½ horsepower, can grind 100 pounds of grain at an electrical cost of from 1/10 to 3 kilowatt hours of power, depending on the fineness desired. Some electrical mixers, operated by motors as small as ¾ horsepower, can handle 500 pounds of feed at a cost of ½ cent. On this basis, expenses involved in handling and processing feed on the farm will average but a few cents per 100 bushels and will require only a minimum amount of labor.



KANSAS STATE'S—suggested bin arrangement for use with small mill. Blower elevator can be used to elevate grain to be ground and to remove ground grain.

Would you pay $400 a ton or more for tankage to feed pigs under drylot conditions? Probably not, but it would be worth it if you couldn't get a satisfactory supplement at less money. There is probably no more common error than the failure of hog producers to provide adequate supplement for a part or perhaps all of the feeding period because they think it costs too much.

A summary of feeding trials with 69-pound pigs shows that feeding 100 pounds of tankage saved 607 pounds of corn compared with feeding a ration of corn alone. For 136-pound pigs, 100 pounds of tankage saved 538 pounds of corn. With corn valued at $2.25 a bushel, the tankage would be worth $485 a ton in the former case and $430 a ton in the latter case.

Tankage alone is definitely not the best protein supplement for pigs in drylot. The old trinity mixture of two parts tankage or meat scraps, 1 part linseed or soybean meal, and 1 part alfalfa meal, by weight, is far superior. Figure the cost of such a protein supplement at present and use it as standard in buying commercial mixed supplements. We recommend that you use a high-protein (35 to 40 percent) swine supplement. Below 35 percent, the lower the protein content, the less value it will have for balancing farm grains and the larger will be the amount needed.

Machine harvesting aided by uniform beet spacings

A good uniform stand of sugar beets makes for efficiency in machine harvesting and helps the yield. This is borne out by this year's operation, just as in past years, according to observation of agriculturists in the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association who have worked with lift-top mechanical harvesters since their introduction several years ago.

Where beets are unevenly and thinly spaced, wide variations in size and height of beets occur making it difficult to properly adjust the sugar beet harvester. The beets feed into the belts unevenly and there is a tendency toward poorer topping. On some beets there are stringers and tops from too-high topping, with others merchantable beet tissue is left in the field from too-low topping. In the latter case the yield is adversely affected.

A good stand of beets properly spaced can help yields in another way, the best experts point out. Growing space is more uniformly allocated, making for beets of heavier average weight, which adds to the tonnage.

Preparation of good seed beds, careful planting on ground of high productivity, adequate fertilization and closer supervision of labor in the spring are the keys, they say.

Thirteen Horse Shows are on the eight day schedule of this event — every evening and on five afternoons.

An opening day feature will be the International Junior Livestock Feeding Contest in which boys and girls from Midwest farms will exhibit upwards of 1000 baby beeves of their own raising as well as lambs and hogs. The exhibitors are 4-H and Vocational Agricultural Club members and are all between the ages of 10 and 21.

The country's largest annual crops show, the International Grain and Hay Show, will mark its 25th anniversary this year as a department of the Exposition. A 50 per cent increase in cash premiums is announced for this department of the show. Entries may be made until November 10.

Two national sheep shearing contests are to be featured at the Exposition. One is for 4-H Club boys in which the contestants, all state champions, will compete for the national title. The other is the winner will be named national champion for adult contestants. Here also

Milk prices will remain at a fairly high level during the next six months, although continuing to be somewhat lower than last year. Seasonally they are likely to reach their peak in November and fall off month by month from then until next May.

Last year the meat shortage caused a sharp increase in the demand for cheese. Higher prices for milk used as cheese, in turn, bid up the prices for milk used at condenseries and for market milk. Cream prices were also forced sharply upward. This competition plus seasonal shortages bid up the Chicago blend price of milk to the all-time high of $5.11 per 100 pounds in November, 1946.

While there are now some seasonal shortages of market milk, there is no meat shortage this year. This is one reason why milk prices this year are at a lower level than last year.

Consumption of milk and cream has been running about 5 percent below last year and is likely to continue at this lower level. This factor combined with a 2 percent increase in total production, has forced more milk into manufactured uses. This is another reason why milk prices have been somewhat lower than last year.

Seasonal variation in milk production widened in most markets in the United States during the war years. This has been one factor contributing to shortages of milk in the late summer and fall months. Milk prices in the late summer and fall months are now much higher than those in May and June. Every producer should give careful thought to the production of more milk in the shortage period from August to November and less milk in the surplus months of May and June. In most cases this will return more money per cow.

Feed prices are likely to continue at a high level during the next few months. Last year 3.3 billion bushels of corn were produced. This year it is estimated that the corn production will be 2.4 billions, or 27 percent less than last year. This is one factor causing high feed prices.

This summer western Europe had the worst drought in over 20 years. Peoples in many of these countries have been living on subsistence rations for many years. Exports of foods from the United States must be increased to provide even subsistence rations during the next few months for the people in these countries.

Production Line Comes To Farm As Feed Handling Goes Automatic

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The time hasn't arrived as yet when a farmer can do all of his work by manipulating a few "machines of tomorrow" with push buttons — but don't bet that it never will happen. He's already made a good start with electric milkers, elevators, barn cleaners and similar power equipment.

A typical example of a farming operation which has been placed on practically an automatic basis is the handling and processing of feed. There are several advantages apparent when this job is done on the farm. It saves the farmer the cost and inconvenience of hauling whole grain to a commercial mill, allows him to make a spare-time job of grinding and eliminates the necessity for storing large quantities of ground grain, thus preventing feed spoilage losses. By mixing his own feed, the farmer also can follow his particular feeding formulas.

It is not difficult to construct an automatic feed handling setup. However, power supplies should be consulted to determine the proper size of grinder to be installed and the capacity and design of suitable grain hoppers. In a simple and efficient feed handling arrangement, hoppers or bins are located over the grinder and whole grain flows into it by gravity. Ground feed either is blown into a feed bin or drops into a box under the grinder. If a mechanical mixer is used, the feed bin should be built over the mixer so that ground grain can drop into it through a chute. Mixing also can be done in overhead bins with the aid of a blower-equipped mill, having an extra hopper which permits grain to be fed into it without passing through the grinder. In this operation, ground grain is blown into an adjacent overhead mixing bin containing the feed supplement. The mixture then is dropped back into the blower hopper and re-elevated into the grain bin. Three transfers are considered sufficient for mixing the feed satisfactorily.

When grain grinding is placed on an automatic basis, the farmer starts the mill, opens the gate in the feed chute and goes about his chores. When they are finished, he turns off the mill. Grinders are built to operate safely under all conditions even when no grain flows into them, and the electric motors, by which they may be operated, are equipped with overload protective devices which prevent them from handling excessively heavy loads.

Mills, operated by motors of from 3 to 7½ horsepower, can grind 100 pounds of grain at an electrical cost of from 1/10 to 3 kilowatt hours of power, depending on the fineness desired. Some electrical mixers, operated by motors as small as ¾ horsepower, can handle 500 pounds of feed at a cost of ½ cent. On this basis, expenses involved in handling and processing feed on the farm will average but a few cents per 100 bushels and will require only a minimum amount of labor.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Have 'til December 1 to get old number back for license

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett said today that his office had completed shipment of 1948 automobile license applications to 30,000 points throughout the State.

He said the deadline for applying for reassignment of numbers currently held by motorists is midnight Monday, December 1.

Motorists wishing to retain their present numbers were cautioned to note their request for reassignment in the "Remarks" space on the application form. Unless this notation appears, Mr. Barrett explained, the staff handling the application has no way of knowing if an applicant desires reassignment, and the application is processed routinely.

To expedite handling of applications, Mr. Barrett also urged motorists to (1) fill out the form completely and correctly, (2) attach their 1947 registration card, (3) send the correct fee, and (4) have the completed form properly notarize.

Application forms are available from daily and weekly newspapers, notaries public, currency exchanges, automobile dealers, banks, farm bureaus, automobile clubs, local police and other local centers.

Answer: Yes. Regulations provide for on-the-farm training and place this program on a par with regular vocational training programs.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

Iowa's township assessment system will be replaced January 1, 1948 by a county assessor system. A report from Kansas indicates a 1945 law has reduced the number of school districts from 8,000 to 6,000 and a 1947 revision may reduce the numebr to 3,000.

All full-time teachers and school employees now will be granted sick leaves of not less than five days at full pay and five days at half pay if they are ill during the school term. These days, if not used, can be accumulated over three school terms not to exceed 15 days at full pay and 15 days at half pay.

By placing non-teaching employees of school districts, such as office help, custodians and janitors, under the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund Act as of January 1, 1948, these people will be assured of retirement benefits. To cover this increased cost the school board must levy an additional tax not to exceed 2½c per $100 of value to pay its contribution to the fund.

Citizens serving on either the grand or petit juries can now be paid a sum not to exceed $7.50 a day, if the county board authorizes it. This is an increase over the former payment. Each juror is also allowed 5c per mile for all travel during the time he serves.

The undertaker is to get more money too. The recent General Assembly increased the amount sembly increased the amount which a county may pay for the burial expenses of indigent deceased soldiers, sailors and marines from $100 to $150.

For information concerning your tax problems or those of your community, write the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and addressed envelope.

Sheriff asks more deputy sheriffs to combat gambling

An increase of twenty highway deputy sheriffs so that the drive against gambling can be continued, was requested by Elmer M. Walsh, sheriff of Cook county, in a petition to the judges of the Circuit court.

The petition was filed in answer to interrogatories issued by the court Oct. 6, 1947.

In his request for additional deputy sheriffs, Walsh stated: "In order that I may continue my drive against organized crime and gambling it is essential that the highway deputy sheriff's force be increased. At present there are never in excess of nine highway deputy sheriffs on duty at a district station at any one time."

Sheriff Walsh also asked for six additional Deputy Sheriff Sergeants. The petition stated that: "In order that the highway department have adequate supervision it is essential that the number of sergeants be increased."

"So I simply made a telephone call..."

FEW things are more simple than making a telephone call. Few are more complex than making that call possible.

There are 316 separate parts in the manual type telephone alone; 433 parts in the dial type. But the telephone itself is only 1/17th of all the equipment Illinois Bell needs to put your calls through — wires, cables, batteries, switchboards with millions of connections. All kinds of apparatus and buildings to house it.

As more telephones are added, the equipment needed per telephone multiplies. Today, every time you make a telephone call, you set in motion a system which grows more and more complex for us to operate as it becomes easier and faster for you to use.

A $250,000,000 improvement program is bringing better telephone service your way.

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Have 'til December 1 to get old number back for license

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett said today that his office had completed shipment of 1948 automobile license applications to 30,000 points throughout the State.

He said the deadline for applying for reassignment of numbers currently held by motorists is midnight Monday, December 1.

Motorists wishing to retain their present numbers were cautioned to note their request for reassignment in the "Remarks" space on the application form. Unless this notation appears, Mr. Barrett explained, the staff handling the application has no way of knowing if an applicant desires reassignment, and the application is processed routinely.

To expedite handling of applications, Mr. Barrett also urged motorists to (1) fill out the form completely and correctly, (2) attach their 1947 registration card, (3) send the correct fee, and (4) have the completed form properly notarize.

Application forms are available from daily and weekly newspapers, notaries public, currency exchanges, automobile dealers, banks, farm bureaus, automobile clubs, local police and other local centers.

VOLUME 76, NUMBER 14 Published Every Friday by H. C. PADDOCK SONS Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at Arlington Heights, Ill. ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILL. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1947 3 SECTIONS — 22 PAGES $3.00 PER YEAR

The Editor's Column

HEARD A DISCUSSION over the radio Saturday from Northwestern University on the question, "Do we have a free press in this country?" One group claimed that the big dailies are not free because their news stories are controlled by the policies of the publishers.

THE AFFIRMATIVE took the stand that it is the publisher's investment that makes possible the newspaper and the fact that he is free to control the policies of his newspaper is proof that American newspapers are free.

NEWSPAPERS of today were criticised because they publish what the public wants to read, not what the public should read. The debaters contradicted themselves when they stated that editorial opinion should be strictly reserved for the editorial page and only facts should appear in the news stories. The next moment they stated that newspapers should censor the bad happenings that are occuring all around the world and publish more of the cultural events.

THIS EDITOR is not taking sides on the question, but he does know that readers of this paper enjoy reading complimentary words and sentences in news stories about their favorite charity and about their friends. We believe that every newspaper has a civic obligation to advance the welfare of the community and whatever is helpful to the community even if it takes news stories with a tinge of editorialism.

DO PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS come into the category of the free press, or do the policies of its publishers place it with the "controlled" press? The debaters at Northwestern University could not agree on the status of the metropolitan press and we leave the status of our papers up to our readers.

WE HEAR A LOT about the cause of juvenile delinquency. The blame is usually placed on parents. Too many parents think that as soon as a son gets his first date he is on his own and as soon as the girl learns how to use lipstick her future is up to her.

For the benefit of those parents who are so busy that they have adopted the above policy, one speaker at Sunday's N. U. roundtable stated that the future of the child depends upon the training that he receives during the first six years of his life.

SO, PARENTS, your responsibility for the future of your boy or girl ends when he or she is six years old. You do not have to wait until the daughter has learned to use lipstick or the boy discovers it is fun holding a girl's hand. The future of your offspring is up to the schools and society.

"TRICKS OR TREATS" was their demand at the first house visited. The lady of the house tried to explain that she had purchased candy for the young children of the neighborhood that she had expected to call that evening, but she had nothing else. The boys grew loud in their demands and the woman produced the candy. The big boys deny to the police that they got even the next night by wrecking some of the landscaping that had just been completed.

THREE YEARS AGO boys of similar age would have been facing army draft and about to become acquainted the hard way with their obligations to society and their government. Evidently the 1947 budding crop of manhood are still only kids. If a universal draft or World War III arrives, it will at least introduce our 1947 teeners to their responsibilities.

RICHARD TONNE, 7223 Palatine ave., Chicago, called at our office this week, renewing his paper for the 49th time. He has been reading Paddock Publications ever since H. C. Paddock with his horse and buggy called at his farm near Devon ave., Elk Grove township.

Mr. Tonne is of the Busse clan, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary of arrival in America next July. Referring to the large number of descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Johann Busse, Mr. Tonne said, "we are as numerous as the stars in heaven."

WE HAVE HEARD over the radio many invitations from Aunt Jemima to enjoy pancakes. We are not only going to eat pancakes, but watch Aunt Jemima make them Monday night at the Methodist church. It is the annual pancake and sausage supper of Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts. Service will be in order of arrival, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Arlington Heights Herald

The title, Miss Arlington Heights Herald, was given Elaine Duenn of Arlington Heights when she wore last week's Herald to the 7th-8th grade Hallowe'en dance at the North school. Proofs of pages of the Herald had been taken on cloth for the affair. Community Camera

E. J. Krause business man dies suddenly

A second Arlington Heights business man died within a week. E. J. Krause, familiarly called "Jake," passed away suddenly Monday morning. His death is attributed to acute coronary occlusion. He had made a delivery with his truck and was on his way home when stricken.

AS HE PASSED Vail street, on Campbell, he waved to Max Warson. The attack must have come immediately afterwards, but he had the presence of mind to shut off his motor and drive to the side of the road. The car had sufficient headway to crash into an obstruction.

Discovery of his condition was made by employees of Knaack Motor Sales, who, driving out of the service road, found their way obstructed by Mr. Krause's truck. Jake was slumped to the side of the car. Dr. Carr, who was immediately called, stated that he had been dead about ten minutes.

MR. KRAUSE conducted a meat market on Campbell street from 1928 to 1943 when, due to rationing restrictions, he sold to his uncle, Otto Krause. He has since that time dealt in the purchase of cattle, following the footsteps of his father, the late Waldemar Krause. His home was at the west end of Campbell street.

Deceased enjoyed hunting. He was one of the organizers of the Arlington Sportsmen's Club. He cooperated with the state conservation department and for a time raised pheasants.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home with interment in Randhill cemetery. Rev. Kossack, a life-long friend of Jake and himself an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman, will conduct the services and say the last words over the remains of his friend.

All is well

Hallowe'en no longer means a night of deviltry and fear in Arlington Heights. The younger generation has shown that they really enjoy a sane celebration. No one can tell us that the coming generation is going to the dogs—not Arlington Heights young people.

The majority of the celebrations that replaced the old-time deviltry were planned by the young people themselves.

Radio commentators and writers may spread new war rumors, but all is peaceful in Arlington Heights.

Adults as happy as the children over Hallowe'en festivities

All residents, adults and children alike, enjoyed Hallowe'en. The children because of the parties planned for them and the adults because of respect of private property shown by the younger generation. Even windows in the business district escaped their periodical "soaping."

The police report that it was an uneventful night. "We had divided the town into districts and were prepared to act promptly in cases of wanton destruction," states Chief Skoog, "but the evening was quieter than usual."

Pupils of the lower grades of the schools had their party Friday afternoon. The parades at the south and north school were very colorful. The sixth grade held their party Thursday from four o'clock until seven, each pupil bringing his own supper. The upper grades celebrated Friday evening.

Brownies, girl scouts and cub scouts all had parties Friday evening. The Brownies and Girl Scouts, with witches, goblins, and ghosts in great array of pumpkins and other Hallowe'en colors made merry at the Presbyterian church. The Cub Scouts celebrated at their various den meetings.

The largest Hallowe'en party was at the Youth Center, which was an even greater success than a year ago. Story appears elsewhere.

Indoor circus at high school in two performances Sunday

The circus is coming! The calliope will whistle its merry tunes. There will be popcorn, peanuts, and big red ballons. The clowns will cavort in the sawdust ring, aerialists will thrill the crowd. Trained horses, monkeys, dogs, ponies and lions will prance and leap on an especially designed protective ring pad which covers highly polished floors. The cowboys and cowgirls will spin ropes, crack their whips and throw knives.

IT IS THE Ayres and Kathryn Davies Indoor Circus, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Youth Center at the high school gym Sunday, November 9, for two performances, 3:30 and 7:30.

Tickets at 76c for adults and 50c for children and students, will be on sale at the public elementary schools and the Lutheran school Thursday and Friday, from 3:00 to 4:15, and at the St. James Thursday and Friday from 12 noon to 12:30. Tickets are also available at the public schools of Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights, and at the high school and youth center.

Bake sale Nov. 12 at Higgins-Canfield

November 12 the Dorcas Society of St. Paul's Ev. Luth. church, Higgins, are holding their annual bake and fancy goods sale. The sale begins at 1 p. m. until 5 p. m. Luncheon will be served. Come early and visit with the ladies.

Home of seven badly damaged by Sunday fire

The family of Vernon Koepke, who reside southwest of Central and Arlington Heights road, Arlington Heights, were driven from their home at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. When a door to the garage-utility room was opened by a member of the family, a mass of flames entered the living room. The family made no attempt to save anything, except their lives.

The youngest of the five children is only 16 months old. Others are three boys, 4, 10 and 13 years and a girl of eight years.

MT. PROSPECT and Prospect Heights rural fire departments answered the call for help and were able to save the residence, but the interior is greatly damaged. Included in the loss is the refrigerator, a new electric stove, household furniture, bedding and considerable clothing.

Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary has announced a benefit dance to be held in the Legion Hall Saturday, November 15. Donations of 50c will be accepted. Persons who have clothing suitable for the years mentioned should call 1769-W.

The cause of the fire is unknown, except that a hot water heater was burning. The family is residing with a relative until their home can be made habitable.

A call to Arlington Heights was unanswered because that village has no effective equipment for fighting rural fires.

Open bids on northside well improvement

The village of Arlington Hgts. has heavy investments in its water system. A substantial part of the operating profits must frequently be used for major investments on new improvement. Bids opened by the board Monday evening for new equipment and building alterations total over $12,000, an amount which more than equals the normal profits of the water department over a number of years.

ACCUMULATED PROFITS make possible such a major improvement without the issuance of a special bond issue, but it is only a question of time before it will be necessary to raise water rates to the larger consumers, who are at present receiving water on a non-profit basis to the village.

The base bids opened Monday evening are:

Weisenbach & Bach (building only), $1,680.

J. P. Miller Artesian Well Co., pump, $8,695; building, $1,600; electric, $3,525.

Standard Power and Equipment Co., pump, $8,150; electric, $3,440.

A special meeting will be held Monday to receive recommendation of engineers.

FIVE TRUCK BIDS were also opened Monday night. They are:

Evanston Mack Truck, EFS model, $4,690; EES $4,373.

Diamond T, 2 ton truck, $3,027.67.

Geo. C. Poole, $2,533.30; $3,045.95.

Lattof Motor Sales, $2,834 (without sales tax).

Reiland & Bree, International, $3,952.80.

Delivery dates varied from three weeks to 45 days. Bids were taken under advisement.

TWENTY-FOUR PUPILS, members of the eighth grade of the north school with their instructor, Miss Lucile Hagman, got an insight in municipal government by attending the earlier part of Monday night's session.

Hunting season opens at noon next Tuesday

Illinois Department of Conservation has asked newspapers to warn hunters that the 1947 season does not open until 12:00 o'clock noon, November 11—not at daylight. After the opening day hunting can start at sunrise. The restriction until noon on opening day applies to hunting all kinds of game and is not restricted to pheasants. The season extends to Nov. 25th.

Local game wardens have been appointed and have authority to make arrests.

Elk Grove fire league gives ample protection, say farmers

Nearly fifty of the people from rural areas who were present Monday evening at the farm bureau auditorium to discuss the organization of a fire protection district, were members of the Elk Grove rural fire league. They had only to explain the manner in which their organization operated to convince proponents of the proposed fire protection district that Elk Grove township and parts of the rural areas of Wheeling township have fire protection services that rival those of districts supported by a direct tax. Albert Kraemer was their spokesman.

AT THE conclusion of Kraemer's talk and with a study of a map prepared by E. A. Carncross it was found that with the exception of a few areas, all of northwestern Cook county has excellent fire protection. It is served by four legally organized districts, five voluntary districts and departments of adjoining municipalities.

The tax districts are Barrington operating in that township; Palatine district that extends from the county line to the northern part of Schaumburg on the south and Rand road on the east; Long Grove, including a strip along the northern part of Palatine and Wheeling townships and Prospect Heights, covering that village.

THE VOLUNTEER districts are Bartlett, Elk Grove, Bensenville and Glenview. The city of Des Plaines will answer all rural calls whose owners have reported that they carry insurance policies guaranteeing payment of $100 for each call answered. Arlington Heights makes no attempt to provide rural fire protection and its equipment does not include water storage tanks.

The Elk Grove Rural Fire League is self supporting. An original assessment is levied of $15 for farms and $7 for residences in subdivisions. There has been no other direct assessment during the eleven years of its existence. There are between 400 and 500 members.

THE AREA covered is divided into seven districts, four south of Central road and three north. The area of influence extends to Devon ave. on the south with a west line at Arlington Hts. and Tonne roads, extending beyond Salt Creek on Higgins road; east line is Mt. Prospect road, or City of Des Plaines. The north boundary is Palatine road between Rand and Wolf roads.

In addition to the regular officers, each district has seven chairmen, each of whom has three assistants. In case of fire these chairmen and assistants are responsible for the hauling of water to the scene of the fire. Working agreements with neighboring municipal departments insure their aid in time of need. The regular officers are: Alfred Landmeier, president; Arthur Busse, secretary; Edwin Meyer, treasurer; Albert Kraemer, vice-president.

BESIDES THE membership fee, funds are derived from yearly celebrations held in cooperation with the Mt. Prospect village department and an independent picnic. Rural fire equipment is manned by members of the Mt. Prospect department who receive remuneration for attendance at rural fires.

Plans are in the making for the purchase of an auxiliary 1,000 to 1,500 mobile water tank as soon as such equipment is available.

OTHER FARMERS present at Monday night's meeting admitted that Elk Grove has an excellent set-up and that the unprotected territory in the Arlington area is too small to organize a district on its own. The Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural departments have never refused to answer any fire call, within or without their districts.

An effort will be made to have the board of underwriters give the same rating to the Mt. Prospect area that is now enjoyed by property owners in the Palatine, Barrington and Long Grove districts.

Businessmen join aldermen in side-stepping parking solution

Members of the village board elected last spring are not the only ones who are side-stepping the parking problem. Secretary Doug. Brown of the Chamber of Commerce advertised a meeting for last Monday night when parking meters were to be discussed. Only 18 businessmen were sufficiently interested to show up and some of them were unfavorable to meters.

A village board meeting kept its members away. With such a small number in attendance no vote was taken and no recommendation was made to the village board.

The speaker, Robt. Hardman, knew all the answers and had all the "pros" and "cons" at his finger tips.

Fred W. Gieseke, Heights' foremost business man, dies

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road.

His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church. Remains are resting at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

MR. GIESEKE'S activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road, south of Euclid road, also the area south of South street, west of State road.

Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter church. The present chimes in that church were given by him as a memorial. He was a devoted husband and father.

THE DECEASED was one of the organizers, directors and later president of the Peoples State Bank. He had a wide acquaintance, especially among the farmers of adjoining townships who not only accorded him their business, but also looked upon him as their friend and counselor whose advice could be asked at any time.

Mr. Gieseke was one of eleven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gieseke of Schaumburg and and is the first one of them to pass away.

He leaves his wife, Emma, nee Pfingsten. Children are Mrs. Helen Winkelman, Mrs. Henrietta Lemke and Fred Jr., of Arlington Heights; Miss Loretta Fenz and John W. Fenz and eight grandchildren.

FRED HAD lived his entire life in Cook county. Born March 16, 1883, in Schaumburg, he came to Arlington following his marriage to Miss Hermine Fenz. She passed away Sept. 28, 1942. He married Emma Pfingsten July 8, 1945.

Local banks to close Tuesday

All local banks will be closed Tuesday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

Arlington to ask for its share of sales tax

Attorney Hugo J. Thal was instructed Monday evening by the village of Arlington Heights to join other cities in asking that a part of the state sales tax be turned back to the municipalities in which it is collected.

Petitions will be circulated in Arlington asking the state commerce commission to direct the Northwestern R. R. to issue 46-ride monthly tickets, selling them at $9.70, the price charged prior to Nov. 1 for the 54-ride tickets.

Mother killed on way home from visit to daughter

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, 1812 Sherman ave., Evanston, mother of Mrs. E. C. Bussert, 8. So. Louis, Mt. Prospect, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, a short time after she had been hit by a car driven by Mrs. Mary Glaeser, 618½ Sheridan road, Evanston.

Mrs. Russell had taken care of her grandchildren in Mt. Prospect while her daughter, Mrs. Bussert spent the day in Chicago. She was crossing Northwest Highway to wait for the east bound Evanston bus when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time.

Chief Whittenberg was on the scene almost as soon as the accident occurred. While on his way to the station to call for an ambulance, word of the accident came over the radio. Death from a broken neck came a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Deceased was the widow of Dr. W. B. Russell, who was a missonary in China many years. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Bussert, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Kapsy Webster and Boyd Russell.

The coroner' jury gave a verdict of accidental death at the inquest held Wednesday.

Mrs. Russell will lie in state at Oehler's funeral chapel in Des Plaines on Thursday and Friday evening and in Evanston from 12:30 until 2:30, the hour of the funeral at First Methodist church, Church street and Hinman ave., Evanston, where the services will be concluded. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle will officiate.

Burial will be by cremation and the ashes will be sent to China where they will lie beside the remains of Dr. W. B. Russell.

Friends are asked to omit flowers. If they desire, contributions in memoriam can be given for missionary work in China. Mrs. Russell spent nearly 20 years there and was desirous of returning to that country to resume her missionary work.

Few go to polls

Only 500 of the registered voters in Wheeling township went to the polls Tuesday. So little interest was shown that no record of local voting was retained by the election officials.

There was an average of 38 votes to a precinct. All of the bond propositions were carried and the Coalition ticket was successful, although only 25,000 votes separate Wilbert F. Crowley, low man on that ticket and Prof. Homer F. Carey, who made one of the greatest independent runs for the judiciary in Cook county.

Return home to find garage razed by fire

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Immerman, who reside northeast of Arlington Heights, returned home near midnight the other evening, they discovered that not only had their garage burned down, but all of the material collected to complete the interior finishing of their home had also been destroyed. One corner of their house was badly scorched.

The fire, cause unknown, was discovered by neighbors who stated that the garage seemed to be a mass of flames at one time. They called several fire companies and Palatine rural league responded, although the place was outside of its regular district.

WHEN THE FIREMEN arrived neighbors had removed all furnishings of the house, expecting the residence would also be destroyed. Firemen soon had the blaze under control, completing the job after taking water from one of the Arlington fire hydrants.

The subdivision in which the Immerman home is located is without any fire protection. The willingness of Palatine to answer their call saved their house.

Public invited to visit schools during observance

The Arlington Heights Township High School and the Public Elementary Schools will observe American Education Week during the week of Nov. 9-15. American Education Week is sponsored jointly by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Both school systems extend a special invitation to the patrons to visit their schools during this week.

EDUCATIONAL exhibits will be placed in some of the windows in the business section of Arlington Heights by the various departments of the high school. These displays are being exhibited in order that the persons in the community who cannot visit the school may learn the nature of the high school activities. Following is a list of the departments represented and the business concerns where these exhibits are located:

Agriculture: Krause and Kehe; Social Science, Smith's Tailor Shop; English, Suburban Cleaners; Commercial. Hartmann's Shoe Store; Mathematics, Warson Beauty Shop; Machine Shop and Mechanical Drawing, Reese Hardware; Athletics, Millay Ice Cream; Library, Rodewald's News Agency; Home Economics, Silhouette Shop.

Art, Emery Cole and Co.; Latin and Spanish, Gieseke's Department Store; Dramatics Department (Class Play), Krause's Meat Market; Audio Visual Education, Electronics; Journalism, Arlington Restaurant.

THROUGH the courtesy of the local theater, a two minute trailer entitled, "The Schools Are Yours," will be shown during this period. This film features the importance of teaching and is narrated by Lowell Thomas.

The local schools are making a continuous effort to bring about the participation of the members of the community in the program of the schools.

THESE PUBLIC schools belong to the people and every citizen is a shareholder in the enterprise. School buildings are built and equipped in response to ballot-box directions. Teachers are employed by boards of education elected by the voters. The schools are financed from public funds. American Education Week provides opportunities for planning together to build a better world through education for all.

The theme of this year's observance is "The Schools Are Yours." The Boards of Education and the staff of the two local public school systems urge the people of this community to join with them in providing good schools to meet the needs of this atomic age.

THE AFFIRMATIVE took the nd that it is the publisher's vestment that makes possible e newspaper and the fact that is free to control the policies his newspaper is proof that nerican newspapers are free.

NEWSPAPERS of today were iticised because they publish h a t the public wants to a d, not what the public ould read. The debaters con-dicted themselves when they ated that editorial opinion ould be strictly reserved for e editorial page and only facts ould appear in the news stor-s. The next moment they stat-that newspapers should cen-r the bad happenings that are curing all around the world d publish more of the cultural ents.

THIS EDITOR is not taking les on the question, but he es know that readers of this per enjoy reading complimen-ry words and sentences in ws stories about their favorite arity and about their friends. e believe that every newspa-r has a civic obligation to vance the welfare of the com-unity and whatever is helpful the community even if it kes news stories with a tinge editorialism.

DO PADDOCK PUBLICA-ONS come into the category the free press, or do the poli-s of its publishers place it th the "controlled" press? The baters at Northwestern Uni-rsity could not agree on the tus of the metropolitan press d we leave the status of our pers up to our readers.

Public invited to visit schools during observance

The Arlington Heights Township High School and Mount Prospect Lutheran school will observe American Education Week during the week of Nov. 9-15. American Education Week is sponsored jointly by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

EDUCATIONAL exhibits will be placed in some of the windows in the business section of Arlington Heights by the various departments of the high school. These displays are being exhibited in order that the persons in the community who cannot visit the school may learn the nature of the high school activities. Following is a list of the departments represented and the business concerns where these exhibits are located:

Agriculture: Krause and Kehe; Social Science, Smith's Tailor Shop; English, Suburban Cleaners; Commercial, Hartmann's Shoe Store; Mathematics, Warson Beauty Shop; Machine Shop and Mechanical Drawing, Reese Hardware; Athletics, Millay Ice Cream; Library, Rodewald's News Agency; Home Economics, Silhouette Shop.

Art, Emery Cole and Co.; Latin and Spanish, Gieseke's Department Store; Dramatics Department (Class Play), Krause's Meat Market; Audio Visual Education, Electronics; Journalism Arlington Restaurant.

Through the courtesy of Arlington theater a 2 minute trailer entitled, "The Schools Are Yours," will be shown during this period. This film features the importance of teaching and is narrated by Lowell Thomas.

The local schools are making a continuous effort to bring about the participation of the members of the community in the program of the schools.

While patrons of Mt. Prospect elementary will be welcomed as visitors during American Education Week, the open house has been postponed until such time as the building is completed.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS belong to the people and every citizen is a shareholder in the enterprise. School buildings are built and equipped in response to ballot-box directions. Teachers are employed by boards of education elected by the voters. The schools are financed from public funds. American Education Week provides opportunities for planning together to build a better world through education for all.

St. Paul's pupils to give educational program Sunday

St. Paul's Lutheran school, Mt. Prospect, will observe National Education week with a special program Sunday morning that will take the place of the usual English sermon. The pupils themselves in dialogues and special numbers will demonstrate the importance of Christian education.

Believing that "the soul of education is education of the soul', the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, has always placed great emphasis on Christian education. It therefore also maintains a farflung system of Christian day schools at high cost because it is convinced that only through constant and careful instruction and training in a Christian atmosphere can one avoid the fearful pitfalls of juvenile delinquency and build a noble Christian character, equipped to render useful service in both church and state.

Girl scout fund drive on now

The Mt. Prospect Girl Scout Council announces its annual drive for funds beginning November 3rd and ending on November 15th.

This year funds will be raised by a door to door canvass instead of by mail.

All money donated is used solely for the Mt. Prospect Girl Scouts, and as the organization does not receive funds from any other source, the girls need local support.

Richard Catoni speaks Wednesday night, November 12, at 8 p. m. to Mt. Prospect Men's Club. His subject will be, "A Taxpayer Looks at Europe."

Mr. Catoni is a specialist for Pan American World Airlines, and has just returned from an eight weeks trip to England and the continent.

Fred W. Gieseke, Heights' foremost business man, dies

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road.

His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church. Remains are resting at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

MR. GIESEKE'S activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road, south of Euclid road, also the area south of South street, west of State road.

Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter church. The present chimes in that church were given by him as a memorial. He was a devoted husband and father.

THE DECEASED was one of the organizers, directors and later president of the Peoples State Bank. He had a wide acquaintance, especially among the farmers of adjoining townships who not only accorded him their business, but also looked upon him as their friend and counselor whose advice could be asked at any time.

Mr. Gieseke was one of eleven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gieseke of Schaumburg and and is the first one of them to pass away.

He leaves his wife, Emma, nee Pfingsten. Children are Mrs. Helen Winkelman, Mrs. Henrietta Lemke and Fred Jr., of Arlington Heights; Miss Loretta Fenz and John W. Fenz and eight grandchildren.

FRED HAD lived his entire life in Cook county. Born March 16, 1883, in Schaumburg, he came to Arlington following his marriage to Miss Hermine Fenz. She passed away Sept. 28, 1942. He married Emma Pfingsten July 8, 1945.

Remains to be taken to China

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, 1812 Sherman ave., Evanston, mother of Mrs. E. C. Bussert, 8. So. Louis, Mt. Prospect, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, a short time after she had been hit by a car driven by Mrs. Mary Glaeser, 618½ Sheridan road, Evanston.

Mrs. Russell had taken care of her grandchildren in Mt. Prospect while her daughter, Mrs. Bussert spent the day in Chicago. She was crossing Northwest Highway to wait for the east bound Evanston bus when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time.

Chief Whittenberg was on the scene almost as soon as the accident occurred. While on his way to the station to call for an ambulance, word of the accident came over the radio. Death from a broken neck came a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Deceased was the widow of Dr. W. B. Russell, who was a missonary in China many years. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Bussert, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Kapsy Webster and Boyd Russell.

The coroner' jury gave a verdict of accidental death at the inquest held Wednesday.

Mrs. Russell will lie in state at Oehler's funeral chapel in Des Plaines on Thursday and Friday evening and in Evanston from 12:30 until 2:30, the hour of the funeral at First Methodist church, Church street and Hinman ave., Evanston, where the services will be concluded. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle will officiate.

Burial will be by cremation and the ashes will be sent to China where they will lie beside the remains of Dr. W. B. Russell.

Friends are asked to omit flowers. If they desire, contributions in memoriam can be given for missionary work in China. Mrs. Russell spent nearly 20 years there and was desirous of returning to that country to resume her missionary work.

Home of seven badly damaged by Sunday fire

The family of Vernon Koepke, who reside southwest of Central and Arlington Heights road, Arlington Heights, were driven from their home at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. When a door to the garage-utility room was opened by a member of the family, a mass of flames entered the living room. The family made no attempt to save anything, except their lives.

The youngest of the five children is only 16 months old. Others are three boys, 4, 10 and 13 years and a girl of eight years.

MT. PROSPECT and Prospect Heights rural fire departments answered the call for help and were able to save the residence, but the interior is greatly damaged. Included in the loss is the refrigerator, a new electric stove, household furniture, bedding and considerable clothing.

Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary has announced a benefit dance to be held in the Legion Hall Saturday, November 15. Donations of 50c will be accepted. Persons who have clothing suitable for the years mentioned should call 1769-W.

The cause of the fire is unknown, except that a hot water heater was burning. The family is residing with a relative until their home can be made habitable.

A call to Arlington Heights was unanswered because that village has no effective equipment for fighting rural fires.

Bake sale November 15

A bake sale will be held November 15 in Mt. Prospect at the Electric Construction Co. corner of Northwest Highway and Main street. This sale will begin at 1:30 p. m. and is sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church of Mt. Prospect.

Elk Grove fire league gives ample protection, say farmers

Nearly fifty of the people from rural areas who were present Monday evening at the farm bureau auditorium to discuss the organization of a fire protection district, were members of the Elk Grove rural fire league. They had only to explain the manner in which their organization operated to convince proponents of the proposed fire protection district that Elk Grove township and parts of the rural areas of Wheeling township have fire protection services that rival those of districts supported by a direct tax. Albert Kraemer was their spokesman.

AT THE conclusion of Kraemer's talk and with a study of a map prepared by E. A. Carncross it was found that with the exception of a few areas, all of northwestern Cook county has excellent fire protection. It is served by four legally organized districts, five voluntary districts and departments of adjoining municipalities.

The tax districts are Barrington operating in that township; Palatine district that extends from the county line to the northern part of Schaumburg on the south and Rand road on the east; Long Grove, including a strip along the northern part of Palatine and Wheeling townships and Prospect Heights, covering that village.

THE VOLUNTEER districts are Bartlett, Elk Grove, Bensenville and Glenview. The city of Des Plaines will [illegible] for all rural calls whose [illegible] have reported that they [illegible] insurance policies guaranteeing payment of $100 for each call answered. Arlington Heights makes no attempt to provide rural fire protection and its equipment does not include water storage tanks.

The Elk Grove Rural Fire League is self supporting. An original assessment is levied of $15 for farms and $7 for residences in subdivisions. There has been no other direct assessment during the eleven years of its existence. There are between 400 and 500 members.

THE AREA covered is divided into seven districts, four south of Central road and three north. The area of influence extends to Devon ave. on the south with a west line at Arlington Hts. and Tonne roads, extending beyond Salt Creek on Higgins road; east line is Mt. Prospect

Local women to teach hospital GIs floral work

The Mt. Prospect Woman's Club will send members to Vaughn Hospital the second Tuesday of each month to teach patients the basic elements of floral work. Any member who wishes to give one day out of the year to Veteran's Service may attend a class conducted by Mrs. Edwin Haberkamp, Thursday, Nov. 20, at 8:00 p. m. in the Haberkamp Greenhouse, 15 N. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect.

Mrs. Haberkamp is a member of Allied Florists, Inc., the organization giving a great deal of time to instructing women in the basic elements of making floral centerpieces, wiring corsages and funeral pieces.

Miss Jane Downs, in charge of this program at Vaughn Greenhouse, says that already some veterans are earning a living as florists and others have gained enough incentive to go on to school to learn more about the work.

Any woman desiring further information on this service work should call the Veteran's Service chairman, Mrs. R. P. Smeby, 930-J.

Return home to find garage razed by fire

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Immerman, who reside northeast of Arlington Heights, returned home near midnight the other evening, they discovered that not only had their garage burned down, but all of the material collected to complete the interior finishing of their home had also been destroyed. One corner of their house was badly scorched.

The fire, cause unknown, was discovered by neighbors who stated that the garage seemed to be a mass of flames at one time. They called several fire companies and Palatine rural league responded, although the place was outside of its regular district.

WHEN THE FIREMEN arrived neighbors had removed all furnishings of the house, expecting the residence would also be destroyed. Firemen soon had the blaze under control, completing the job after taking water from one of the Arlington fire hydrants.

The subdivision in which the Immerman home is located is without any fire protection. The willingness of Palatine to answer their call saved their house.

Prospect Heights Lions to eat steak or beans

The Prospect Heights Lions Club members will hold their unique "Steak or Beans" dinner Wednesday evening, November 12. The feature will precede the regular business session and a smart evening's entertainment is anticipated.

Under the rules of the "Steak or Beans" contest the membership carried on an individual man-to-man Hallowe'en party ticket sales campaign. Each member was given his allotment of tickets, and now that the sales have been reported the winning fifty percent will enjoy a steak dinner with French fries and all the trimmings while the losing fifty percent must eat beans.

Byron Larson, the insurance man, ranked number one in the salesmanship campaign with a score of 80 books. S. B. Brown captured second place with a score of 68 books. Other members will learn their position in the contest prior to the dinner. Cards announcing the time and place of this dinner will be sent to all members this week.

Mrs. Martin has been in charge of the bazaar plans with many mothers working with her in various phases. Mothers and friends of P. T. A. all over Mt. Prospect have worked all summer to make this project a huge success.

The doll section, which was so popular last year, has received much attention this year and there will be great variety to make a little girl's Christmas very happy. Rubber dolls and magic skin dolls with handmade layettes, composition dolls and little girl dolls with handmade wardrobes and adorable sock dolls will be available.

TOYS that may be used in play with the dolls such as bassinettes, cradles, doll beds and swings will also be for sale. The little boys on the Christmas list have also been remembered and there are clowns, hand puppets, pandas and teddy bears for them.

Church night program at South church November 12

The South Church will hold a full evening Church Night program Wednesday, November 12.

At 6:30 p. m. members and friends of the church will gather in the Fellowship Room for a family potluck supper. These events are of a social nature, affording opportunity for neighborly visiting and getting acquainted. Each family brings food adequate for its numbers present. Each family brings its own table service. The church social life committee, Mrs. A. R. Holmes, chairman, provides coffee, cream, sugar and milk, for which an offering is received. The Board of Trustees, of which Mr. R. F. LaMar is chairman, is arranging to provide helpers for serving and cleaning up. Community singing will make up a part of the brief supper program.

Immediately following the supper, at 7:20 p. m., the smaller children will be shown movies for their entertainment while parents participate in the Fall Business Meeting of the Church. Here brief reports from all officers and Board chairmen and organizational presidents will be heard and six months financial reports received. Both members and friends of the Church are invited to be present for this meeting.

Promptly at 8:00 p. m. the senior choir will begin its regular weekly rehearsal in the sanctuary of the church.

This is the church's first attempt to schedule a full evening's program, embracing three different activities, and it is expected that a good number will be present.

Few go to polls

Only 500 of the registered voters in Wheeling township went to the polls Tuesday. So little interest was shown that no record of local voting was retained by the election officials.

There was an average of 38 votes to a precinct.

Election machinery for Palatine township cost the county over $500 for Tuesday's election, about $2.50 for every vote cast. The five precincts cast an average of 40 votes each.

Better quarters for appliance store

Ever increasing business is the reason that the Prospect Heights Appliances has moved to larger quarters. Although Max Rhodes' handy appliance store is rather new in the Prospect Heights business block it has shown an excellent volume of business.

The new showroom is the former Smith and Dawson tearoom on the far north of the Elmhurst road side of the business block. Because it has windows on two sides it provides a greater amount of natural light than was possible in the original display room. The possibilities of attractive arrangement have been increased. Max Rhodes, the owner of Prospect Heights Appliances says, "Visit us and see for yourself."

The original store will be temporarily available for civic meetings and functions.

'Movies at eight-walk in' fools you at 214 S. Elmhurst

by ARNOLD HATCH

So read the illuminated sign on the front door at 214 S. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect Friday evening, October 31. What a night, black as pitch, ideal for the thousands of spooks, ghosts, gobblins and witches that were prowling about in glee. You guessed it right, it was Hallowe'en.

Inside at 214 S. Elmhurst were the things youngsters and teenagers like most, movies with magic, games, special entertainers and refreshments. At 8:00 o'clock the lights slowly dimmed and there on the screen was that "Bad Little Kid," "The Broken Down Lizzie," "The Three Little Bears," "A trip to the Zoo," and many other favorites.

Slowly the lights came on again and Naomi Brossart, a promising youngster, amused the audience very much by singing over the "mike," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart, I'm in love with your automobile."

A real live impersonation of "Tony at the Ballgame" by Don Rash added much to the hilarity and glee of the impromptu Hallowe'en party.

At nine o'clock Mrs. Hatch served refreshments that all agreed rounded out an evening of real joy and judging from the many happy faces, they really had fun.

Among those present were Jimmie Mott, Bobbie LeMay, Donald Hortberg, Allen Ragland, Tom Sawyer, Janet Perry, Frit Snider, Ann Snider.

Legion auxilary opens season with party at Hines hospital

Rehabilitation work in veterans' hospitals being the Legion Auxiliary's foremost project, they opened their 1947-48 season's activities with a party at Hines Hospital.

Mr. H. E. Edmondson, Rehab. Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Russell Ford, made a visit Wednesday, October 29 and presented flowers, cigarettes, comic books, current magazines, and individual Hallowe'en decorated bags of candy and chewing gum for distribution. Five out of use overcoats were also given.

The regular second October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. D. Blocksom. Being a semi-social affair, the Hallowe'en spirit was carried out and most members came in costume. After a short business session Mrs. Carl G. Berlin was accepted as a member, the evening was spent playing bingo. An appetizing Hallowe'en buffet course served by the hostess finished the evening.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Walter Hotz's, 2301 Archer ave., Chicago, Ill., November 10th. All members will meet at the Northwestern Station and are to be on hand not later than 7:30 p. m.

Little Things Are Important

by HERBERT A. VAN DRIEL of Van Driel's Drug Store

A great artist once said that little things are required to achieve perfection, and that perfection itself is not a little thing.

So with good health. The heart itself rests between each beat and thus provides a rule for living.

Relax when you can. Do better than that; provide in your daily living, a time for relaxation, for recreation.

Provide, moreover, a regular time to see your doctor for a systematic check-up of how you are doing. Is your heart performing without a murmur? Are your red corpuscles holding their own? That little cough! What does it mean?

Regular attention to your good health pays dividends. Carefully compounded physician's prescriptions are good investments too.

Here's Post-war Power for Pre-war Buicks

IF you've been itching to get the thrill of a power-packed 1947 Buick engine under your treadle toe, here's the quick and happy solution.

It's a factory-fresh Fireball engine right off the 1947 production line. It's exactly the same mighty package of power that goes into the flashing new Buicks. You can get it now to repower any Buick built in the last ten years.

How can we do it—when new cars are so hard to get? Here's the answer:

While shortages of bodies and other parts slow up completed cars, Buick engine production has forged ahead. So engines are available now—ready to go into your car and step it up with today's up-to-the-minute power performance.

And it's as simple as this: We take out the old engine—put this new one in its place—and your car's young again, rarin' to go, with a new lease on life and headed for thousands and thousands of miles of smooth, spirited service.

It doesn't take long—far less time than a thorough overhaul—and often at less cost. Convenient payments can be arranged, if you like.

It's the next best thing to getting a new Buick—and a good investment because it makes your car worth so much more.

Certainly well worth while looking into, isn't it? Come in and let's talk it over.

Parade of fashions more than parade of gowns

"Down through the Years Parade of Fashions" which highlights the showy entertainment at "Ye Old Fashioned Box Social" to be held at the Prospect Heights schoolhouse Saturday morning, November 15, is to be more than just a parade of gowns. It's to be an intimate glance into the peculiarities back of man's desire for masculinity in a man's world and women's transformation from an emphasis of femininity and physical helplessness to equality of the sexes.

The complete picture of this romantic and historic change over will be told in story synchronized with popular melodies of the many periods, and interest intensified by a parade of the gowns which men have stared at don through the years.

Some of the interesting facts which the Parade of Fashions will disclose about men are: that the early American best dresser had shoulder length artifically curled hair, wore dropping plume on hats and his clothes were effeminate and ornate; that he got his first long trousers early in the 1800's; that men allowed hair to grow on their faces after a century of close shaving and artificially broadened their shoulders to emphasize their strength; carried canes and wore high buttoned shoes and spats and stiffly starched shirts for looks, but smoked black cigars, chewed tobacco and insisted on cuspidors in the parlor to affirm that this was a man's world.

The woman's transformation from the wide hooped bottom skirt and tall built up powdered head of the Colonial period, down thru the centuries to the modern debutante will be pictured by gowns worn by local modelettes. These pictures include: The hoopskirt and steel-ribbed corset era; the bustle back with its wasp waist and sweeping train; the pioneer and homesteader; the gay nineties' skirts which literally "swept" the ground; the Gibson girl era; the long skirts of the 'teens, before the hem began its retreat to the knee; the sloping-shouldered and shapeless gowns of the late teens; the bobbed hair and flapper stage; and the swing and jitterbugging era.

Interesting sidelights on the feminine angle, which are bound to please the men, are the reasons behind the necessity for the Colonial girl's use of fan and lacey handkerchief; the necessity for ear decorations; the use of corsets; and the sharing of what was considered men's vices in the day of the Model T Ford.

Mrs. William H. Spears will serve as the narrator in the Parade of Fashions feature. Mrs. Willliam K. Andrew will be in charge of the musical arrangements and be the accompanist for the running romantic story.

Interwoven into the word picture and pantomime presentation will be such musical novelties and melodies as the Minuet, the old reel tunes, the wagon trail Oh Susanna's, the gay nineties' Ta-Ra-Ra-Bom De Ay," A Bicycle Built for Two, Sweet Rosie O'Grady; still later favorities such as in the Shade of the Old Apple Tree, and 3 o'clock in the Morning; jazz, and the swing music of the modern day.

The fashion parade will vie with the age-old auction of the ladies boxes for top entertainment honors. In addition the committee will offer other entertainment features including introduction and pastime games as well as such old fashioned dances as the quadrille.

Mrs. Curtiss A. Dahl is general chairman of the social; Mrs. Edward E. Warwick and Mrs. S. B. Brown are program chairmen; Mrs. H. C. Torreyson and Mrs. Grover Jungbluth are chairmen of the box reception committee; Mrs. William K. Andrew will be in charge of music; decorations chairmen are Mrs. William H. Cooper and Mrs. Howard Spenks; Mrs. John G. Spillar and Mrs. Kurt M. Krebs will be in charge of refreshments and tables; Mrs. John G. Hane, publicity; Mrs. George H. Sheppard, posters; with Mrs. J. Earle Smith and Mrs. Lewis Wills in charge of the children's auction of boxes and entertainment program.

There is no admittance fee or other charges in connection with this community feature which is sponsored by the Community Church Women's Guild. However all ladies attending with their escort are requested to bring a box luncheon for two. The luncheon may be packed in a plain box, a novelty box or a decorated box. Prizes will be awarded to the two most attractive boxes.

PTA book fair next Tuesday

Prospect Heights PTA annual Book Fair will be combined with the regular monthly meeting at Prospect Heights schoolhouse Tuesday evening, November 11. Miss Olive Flaherty will be the guest speaker and also in charge of the book display preceding the meeting.

In past years the Book Fair has proved an excellent medium for parents to examine books for each age school group. Attendants will be happy to recommend type of reading material best suited to the personality of the child.

Residents of the community contemplating Christmas purchases of books for children are invited to attend both the Book Fair and the PTA meeting.

Don Payne to participate in 'Exercise Snowdrop'

Prospect Heights Paratrooper, Donald J. Payne, arrived at Pine Camp, New York, this week, to participate in the cold weather

"Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Payne, son of Wm. Payne, 709 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Hgts., Ill., has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shoeing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in deep snow.

The 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team will climax their maneuvers in February of 1948, with an unprecedented sub-zero weather airhead attack, proceded by a mass battalion parachute drop. The rugged paratroopers will then deploy and operate independently, for a 72-hour duration.

"Exercise Snowdrop" is a progressive step by the Army Ground Forces to improve airborne technique, and stabilize the modern army.

Unions in United States

There are twenty-one so-called "standard" railway labor unions and brotherhoods in the United States. Nineteen of them belong to the Railway Labor Executives' association.

Prospector's Gleanings

The crips tang of a belated autumn added zest to the round of Hallowe'en parties which began Monday evening October 27 with the Choral Group and terminated with the Young People's party last Saturday night. Next in the order of excitement will be the Old Fashioned Box Social, Saturday evening, November 15. Then comes the annual tussle with Tom Turkey on November 27, followed immediately by the onslought of preparations known as the Christmas rush.

In keeping with the traditions which have been handed down through the years, hobgoblins, spooks, elves and witches took this mortal world for their Hallowe'en reign of fun and merriment right after the sun went down on Friday. There was a premature celebration on Thursday while the little folks were carrying on their "trick or treat" and other harmless and welcome pranks. The youngsters were of little worry to anyone but the drove of obnoxious goblins, or the Hallowe'en goons, followed their usual insane trend, and made it a Howl-o-ween for many of our residents. As they roamed the streets under the cover of this otherwise pleasant event, off came street sign markers, which the Lion's recently installed, and several of the cute family name plate boards which had been erected in front of homes. Other deviltry included uprooting sign posts, throwing of tomatoes and destruction of Hallowe'en displays. At the W. C. Danielson residence the storm door glass was broken and flower pots cast on driveway. At the Nels Rundgren home a hand made bird bath, constructed from stones gathered from all over the country, was destroyed.

The 3rd and 4th party which included games and grades held a jack-o-lantern carving project in which Roy Kumnick won first prize. In the costume contest John Sheppard dressed as a girl, and Rose Mary Duetsch, a fairy, won first prizes. In grade 2 Robert Eckardt's ghost costume took first place. In the 5th and 6th grades Bruce Ronk, as John L. Lewis, and Jean Smith, in a party dress, captured top honors. Hallowe'en party

Thirty-eight young people gathered in the basement of the Prospect Heights Schoolhouse last Saturday evening at s:00 o'clock to attend the Bible Church Young People's Hallowe'en party with its four hours of hilarious fun and merriment.

The majority of young people were masked, and promptly at 7:30 they marched, bowed, and curtsied before the four judges, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Philander, who were also masked. Prizes were given to the two best dressed; these turned out to be Pastor and Mrs. Burns. Mrs. Burns was dressed in a "gay Nineties" costume, long skirts and high toned shoes, while Mr. Burns wore a beggar-man's suit composed of torn strips of the comic paper.

Many interesting games were played, much to the amusement and amazement of the guests. Through the splendid efforts of the game committee, Ethel Moss, Shelby Stewart and James Cameron, there was not a dull moment throughout the evening's entertainment.

Following a ten minute devotional service conducted by Pastor Burns, refreshments consisting of cup cakes, cider, apples, cookies and sandwiches were served by the refreshment committee: Ruth Moss, Janet Stewart and Marilyn Gronfeldt.

The evening of frolic and fun was climaxed as the guests were conducted through a "spook room." Traps, planks, weird noises, shots, falling bodies, coffins, and water sprinklers contributed to the literal howling success of the spook room. "Victims" removed their shoes and found many toe-stubbing obstacles: wet towels slapping their faces had its effect also.

Witches and flying broomsticks, dunking apples, gay decorations and the usual spooky costumes featured the many Hallowe'en parties held in Prospect Heights last week.

Choral Group Celebrates

The Choral Group set the pace for the week, following its short practice period Monday evening, October 27. It was a costume affair and most all of the members brought their wives or husbands. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin H. Kritsch, together with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters, were co-hosts and hostesses for the evening. Coffee, cider and doughnuts were served.

Mrs. Phyllis D. Snetsinger won first prize with a clever Aunt Jemima costume. Mrs. William K. Andrew topped everyone in completing the longest list of popular superstitions. Going to Jerusalem, Find the Murderer and Scratch the Cat were among the games played by the 28 attending.

Brownies

Thursday afternoon, October 30, the Brownies held their Hallowe'en party at the Community Church. Games, cup cakes and candy featured the afternoon's frolic attended by 32 children.

Hallowe'en hats made by the girls for their special party were worn by the Brownies.

The pledge, salute and pin presentations all took place during the regular business session. Newcomers who had attended four meetings were presented with their Brownie pins. Sandra and Glori Ann Allison, Midge Koenig, Judy Procunier, Barbara Stehman, Gail Wiltshire, Barbara Gay and Ann Brown were the recipients of the award pins.

The Brownie leaders are Mrs. Arthur Dundy, Mrs. G. H. Sigwart, Mrs. Anthony Koske and Mrs. Carson Brown. Committee members are Mrs. Ralph Olson, chairman, Mrs. Carl Stehman, Mrs. Robert L. Gay, Mrs. William Lucke and Mr. C. L. Wiltshire.

Bohrer gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dudly Day on Friday, October 24. There they held a basement Hallowe'en party with all the usual novelties of the Hallowe'en frolic.

On Wednesday, October 29, the senior scouts met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Kertcher for a costume party. The basement had been gaily decorated with Hallowe'en novelties and a number of games were played. Delicious refreshments were served and the boys attending hope to be invited again to such entertaining affairs.

Chicago and Northern Illinois... Printing Center of the World

"Working on big printing presses has been my job for 20 years. I help print the millions of books, magazines and catalogs that publishers and mail order houses send every year to readers all over the world. In my lifetime I've seen this area take the lead in printing. The concentration of skilled labor and equipment in the graphic arts industries of this region is today unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Printing is my business, and I'm glad I live and work where opportunities in my line, and many others, are greatest."

This pressman* is one of 70,000 skilled craftsmen who work in the tremendous printing industry in this area. The graphic arts group in this area is the most mechanically complete and widely diversified in the United States. It ranks first in number of employes, wages paid, number of establishments, and is highest in economic value. Located here are the three largest commercial printing plants in the world, as well as hundreds of smaller printing specialists with fine skills and equipment to meet every conceivable requirement as to artistry, economy, and flexibility of processes.

Everything from mail order catalogs to technical books is run off in the 3,100 printing plants in this region. Annually they produce a greater volume than any comparable area in the world. And today, to meet the ever-increasing needs of industries here, Northern Illinois is rapidly expanding in every field of commercial printing.

The postal zoning laws for second-class mailings passed in 1918 made Northern Illinois the most economical and strategic location for the printing of national publications. Within a radius of 500 miles are more than a third of the nation's readers and buyers and 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns. Magazines and catalogs, as well as products from manufacturers in this area, reach their destinations quickly and on time because of the unexcelled shipping facilities of Northern Illinois . . . the greatest transportation center in the world.

To industries seeking locations, skilled workers and strategic location are only two of the many advantages offered by the Northern Illinois territory. As an aid to those considering relocation, our Territorial Information Department will supply factual data concerning this area and pertinent to your business. This department will supply studies in as great detail as is required, confidentially and without charge.

road, or City of Des Plaines. The north boundary is Palatine road between Rand and Wolf roads.

In addition to the regular officers, each district has seven chairmen, each of whom has three assistants. In case of fire these chairmen and assistants are responsible for the hauling of water to the scene of the fire. Working agreements with neighboring municipal departments insure their aid in time of need. The regular officers are: Alfred Landmeier, president; Arthur Busse, secretary; Edwin Meyer, treasurer; Albert Kraemer, vice-president.

BESIDES THE membership fee, funds are derived from yearly celebrations held in cooperation with the Mt. Prospect village department and an independent picnic. Rural fire equipment is manned by members of the Mt. Prospect department who receive remuneration for attendance at rural fires.

Plans are in the making for the purchase of an auxiliary 1,000 to 1,500 mobile water tank as soon as such equipment is available.

OTHER FARMERS present at Monday night's meeting admitted that Elk Grove has an excellent set-up and that the unprotected territory in the Arlington area is too small to organize a district on its own. The Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural departments have never refused to answer any fire call, within or without their districts.

An effort will be made to have the board of underwriters give the same rating to the Mt. Prospect area that is now enjoyed by property owners in the Palatine, Barrington and Long Grove districts.

Barbed wire to protect high school fence

There are a lot of knot holes in a wire fence, but they do not keep some people from climbing the one surrounding the football field in order to get a closer view of the game. The high school board have nothing against those who want to see the games from the outside, but they do object to damages to the fence caused by those who climb over it. They requested permission from the village board Monday night to install a barbed wire at its top. The board gave its consent.

E. J. Krause dies suddenly

A second Arlington Heights business man died within a week. E. J. Krause, familiarly called "Jake," passed away suddenly Monday morning. His death is attributed to acute coronary occlusion. He had made a delivery with his truck and was on his way home when stricken.

AS HE PASSED Vail street, on Campbell, he waved to Max Warson. The attack must have come immediately afterwards, but he had the presence of mind to shut off his motor and drive to the side of the road. The car had sufficient headway to crash into an obstruction.

Discovery of his condition was made by employees of Knaack Motor Sales, who, driving out of the service road, found their way obstructed by Mr. Krause truck. Jake was slumped to th side of the car. Dr. Carr, wh was immediately called, state that he had been dead about te minutes.

MR. KRAUSE conducted meat market on Campbell stree from 1928 to 1943 when, due t rationing restrictions, he sold his uncle, Otto Krause. He h since that time dealt in the pu chase of cattle, following th footsteps of his father, the lat Waldemar Krause. His hom was at the west end of Campbe street.

Deceased enjoyed hunting. H was one of the organizers of th Arlington Sportsmen's Club. H cooperated with the state conse vation department and for time raised pheasants.

PARK PLANS PROVIDE FOR FUTURE GROWTH

The Editor's Column

HEARD A DISCUSSION over he radio Saturday from Northwestern University on the question, "Do we have a free press n this country?" One group laimed that the big dailies are ot free because their news stor-s are controlled by the policies f the publishers.

THE AFFIRMATIVE took the tand that it is the publisher's nvestment that makes possible he newspaper and the fact that e is free to control the policies f his newspaper is proof that merican newspapers are free.

NEWSPAPERS of today were riticised because they publish what the public wants to ead, not what the public hould read. The debaters conradicted themselves when they tated that editorial opinion hould be strictly reserved for he editorial page and only facts hould appear in the news stor-es. The next moment they statd that newspapers should cenor the bad happenings that are ccuring all around the world nd publish more of the cultural vents.

THIS EDITOR is not taking ides on the question, but he oes know that readers of this aper enjoy reading complimenary words and sentences in ews stories about their favorite harity and about their friends. We believe that every newspa-er has a civic obligation to dvance the welfare of the comunity and whatever is helpful o the community even if it akes news stories with a tinge f editorialism.

DO PADDOCK PUBLICA-IONS come into the category f the free press, or do the polies of its publishers place it ith the "controlled" press? The ebaters at Northwestern Uniersity could not agree on the tatus of the metropolitan press nd we leave the status of our apers up to our readers.

WE HEAR A LOT about the ause of juvenile delinquency. he blame is usually placed on arents. Too many parents think hat as soon as a son gets his irst date he is on his own and s soon as the girl learns how o use lipstick her future is up o her.

For the benefit of those parnts who are so busy that they ave adopted the above policy, ne speaker at Sunday's N. U. oundtable stated that the future f the child depends upon the raining that he receives during he first six years of his life.

SO, PARENTS, your responibility for the future of your oy or girl ends when he or she s six years old. You do not ave to wait until the daughter as learned to use lipstick or ne boy discovers it is fun holdng a girl's hand. The future of our offspring is up to the chools and society.

THREE YEARS AGO boys of imilar age would have been acing army draft and about to ecome acquainted the hard way with their obligations to ociety and their government. vidently the 1947 budding crop f manhood are still only kids. f a universal draft or World War III arrives, it will at least ntroduce our 1947 teeners to heir responsibilities.

Mother killed on way home from visit to daughter

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, 1812 Sherman ave., Evanston, mother of Mrs. E. C. Bussert, 8. So. Louis, Mt. Prospect, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, a short time after she had been hit by a car driven by Mrs. Mary Glaeser, 618½ Sheridan road, Evanston.

Mrs. Russell had taken care of her grandchildren in Mt. Prospect while her daughter, Mrs. Bussert spent the day in Chicago. She was crossing Northwest Highway to wait for the east bound Evanston bus when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time.

Chief Whittenberg was on the scene almost as soon as the accident occurred. While on his way to the station to call for an ambulance, word of the accident came over the radio. Death from a broken neck came a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Deceased was the widow of Dr. W. B. Russell, who was a missonary in China many years. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Bussert, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Kapsy Webster and Boyd Russell.

The coroner' jury gave a verdict of accidental death at the inquest held Wednesday.

Mrs. Russell will lie in state at Oehler's funeral chapel in Des Plaines on Thursday and Friday evening and in Evanston from 12:30 until 2:30, the hour of the funeral at First Methodist church, Church street and Hinman ave., Evanston, where the services will be concluded. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle will officiate.

Hunting season opens at noon next Tuesday

Illinois Department of Conservation has asked newspapers to warn hunters that the 1947 season does not open until 12:00 o'clock noon, November 11—not at daylight. After the opening day hunting can start at sunrise. The restriction until noon on opening day applies to hunting all kinds of game and is not restricted to pheasants. The season extends to Nov. 25th.

Local game wardens have been appointed and have authority to make arrests.

Few go to polls

Only 500 of the registered voters in Wheeling township went to the polls Tuesday. So little interest was shown that no record of local voting was retained by the election officials.

There was an average of 38 votes to a precinct.

Election machinery for Palatine township cost the county over $500 for Tuesday's election, about $2.50 for every vote cast. The five precincts cast an average of 40 votes each.

ELK GROVE township again came to the front Tuesday with a total of 303 votes, a higher percentage of its residents going to the polls than in other northwest townships.

Palatine Lutheran school to hold open house Nov. 21

Palatine Lutheran school building is in use so many evenings of the week by various organizations that a "date" had to be made for its open house in the observance of National Education Week. The date is Friday, Nov. 21, starting at eight o'clock. Rev. Koester will direct a general discussion for the first half hour, after which the parents will be invited to visit the various rooms, confer with teachers and inspect the work that their children are doing.

Since the fall opening of school with the departure of Teacher Zimdahl, George Beyer has been acting principal. A second call has been forwarded to W. C. Marten of the Zion Lutheran school, Milwaukee, who is taking the matter up with his congregation the coming Sunday.

Mrs. Clare Highbarger is teaching the third and fourth grades. Miss Runge again has the first and second grades. Mrs. Elga Magnussen is the other teacher.

Believing that "the soul of education is education of the soul', the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, has always placed great emphasis on Christian education. It therefore also maintains a farflung system of Christian day schools at high cost because it is convinced that only through constant and careful instruction and training in a Christian atmosphere can one avoid the fearful pitfalls of juvenile delinquency and build a noble Christian character, equipped to render useful service in both church and state.

Return home to find garage razed by fire

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Immerman, who reside northeast of Arlington Heights, returned home near midnight the other evening, they discovered that not only had their garage burned down, but all of the material collected to complete the interior finishing of their home had also been destroyed. One corner of their house was badly scorched.

The fire, cause unknown, was discovered by neighbors who stated that the garage seemed to be a mass of flames at one time. They called several fire companies and Palatine rural league responded, although the place was outside of its regular district.

WHEN THE FIREMEN arrived neighbors had removed all furnishings of the house, expecting the residence would also be destroyed. Firemen soon had the blaze under control, completing the job after taking water from one of the Arlington fire hydrants.

The subdivision in which the Immerman home is located is without any fire protection. The willingness of Palatine to answer their call saved their house.

Home of seven badly damaged by Sunday fire

The family of Vernon Koepke, who reside southwest of Central and Arlington Heights road, Arlington Heights, were driven from their home at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. When a door to the garage-utility room was opened by a member of the family, a mass of flames entered the living room. The family made no attempt to save anything, except their lives.

The youngest of the five children is only 16 months old. Others are three boys, 4, 10 and 13 years and a girl of eight years.

MT. PROSPECT and Prospect Heights rural fire departments answered the call for help and were able to save the residence, but the interior is greatly damaged. Included in the loss is the refrigerator, a new electric stove, household furniture, bedding and considerable clothing.

Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary has announced a benefit dance to be held in the Legion Hall Saturday, November 15. Donations of 50c will be accepted. Persons who have clothing suitable for the years mentioned should call 1769-W.

The cause of the fire is unknown, except that a hot water heater was burning. The family is residing with a relative until their home can be made habitable.

A call to Arlington Heights was unanswered because that village has no effective equipment for fighting rural fires.

Tales of the Street

by T. C. HART

The Palatine Community club held another of their tax meetings Monday evening when they heard village clerk E. P. Steinbrinck give an instructive and informative talk of village finances and taxation.

Mr. Steinbrinck had a blackboard chart showing the total tax breakdown and also showed what part of that break down went for various village purposes.

President Frank Hartman of the park board gave a history of the formation of the park district and then instead of talking about park taxation introduced a member of the park engineering outfit that is planning the new park for the local park board.

The audience was then taken up on the mountain and shown the promised land, with a utopian crystal ball glance into the future of a village of 15,000 or 20,000 population with an assessed valuation of from twenty-five to thirty million dollars within the next few years.

The park planner showed the plans for the new park far into the future including the layout of the school grounds, park grounds and property south of the park not yet acquired and not needed for years to come.

When asked what all this would cost the planner took to the woods and would give no estimates of cost.

In fact the subject of park taxes and park costs were brushed aside as of no consequence, yet the public is interested in those costs and those taxes.

The information was gathered that $40,000 remain of the park bond issue and that it is planned to grade and seed the park, lay out areas for baseball, football tennis, etc., next spring and possibly light one area if agreement can be made with the high school about the playing of football on the park grounds.

Town clerk George W. Howes who was to speak on township taxation was washed off the program until some future date by the length of the park planner's discussion.

Local banks to close Tuesday

All local banks will be closed Tuesday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

'Those Websters' Senior play Friday night

The Palatine township high school senior class will present their play, "Those Websters," Friday night of this week in Cutting Hall at the high school at 8:00 p. m. A cast of twelve, under the direction of Miss Verna Jumps, has been working for the past five weeks on the production which is adapted from the popular radio program of the same name.

The new cyclorama purchased this past month will be the stage setting for the play. The Dramatic Club and the classes of 1946 and 47 contributed toward the purchase. An assessment of $25.00 against the gate receipts of every production staged in Cutting Hall is a school policy adopted last year with the money to go toward equipment for the stage. The board of education authorized purchase of steel tracks so that the cyclorama may be pulled out of the way as needed and so that the stage setting may be adjustable in size.

Mc Intosh to build 11 more homes in Palatine Ridge

The McIntosh organization is not allowing the coming of winter to slow up building construction. Permits were taken out by that company during October for eleven new homes in Palatine Ridge, the construction costs of which are given as $11,000.

McClark Construction Co. will construct five homes in the $7,-390 class in Southwest Plum Grove area. No private individual has taken out permits for new construction but there are two $4,000 remodeling jobs and five garages.

THE PERMIT for the construction of the new elementary school calls for a fee of $354 of which $250 will be for a three-inch water meter. The cost of the building is given as $318,-000.

Martin Plate, superintendent of the water department orders meters in anticipation of the new building. He has been able to keep ahead of the demand, but he has plenty of troubles with the old meters which are wearing out.

Students net $945 on magazine drive

Students of Palatine Township High School sold enough magazine subscriptions the past 10 days to total a net profit of $945.00 which will be used to finance the school paper and the school yearbook. This exceeded any previous mark made at Palatine High. Close competition between home room groups for the room prize of an all day Chicago tour along with individual awards brought a great volume of sales over the final week end. Total sales exceeded $2,500.00 with 50% profit on the Saturday Evening Post and Ladies Home Journal and 30% on about 40 other magazines.

Bonnie LaLonde, junior, who brought in a profit of $33.30 took first place. Betty Nebel, sophomore, was second with $31.20 profit. Nancy Malody, sophomore, was third and Shirley Davidson, senior, fourth.

Prizes of $12.50, $8.50, $5.00, and $3.00 went to the four high salesmen. The high 12 will have the trip along with the winning home room. Others are 5th, Winifred Oswald, freshman; 6th, Darlen Toppel, 7th, Guy Anderson, sophomore; 8th, Sally Miller, sophomore; 9th, Betty Nehrbass, junior, last year's winner; 10th, Joy Williams, senior; 11th, Elwood Huenerberg, senior; 12th, Betty Lou Peterman, sophomore.

Each person bringing in a total profit of $3.00 or more will receive a 1948 yearbook which sells for $1.00. Each day the person high for the day earned $1.00 and the high home room got a box of candy bars.

The high home room for the campaign was Miss Gibb's sophomore group with a total profit of $135.80 secured by 17 students. Miss Lemmon's juniors were second with $105.28. Miss McCue's

Open house in all branches of Consolidated schools next week

The schools of the Community Consolidated School District No. 15 of Palatine will observe National Education Week by having Open House. Members of the Palatine Parent-Teachers Association, through its room mothers, will serve refreshments to the visitors of the outlying schools, as well as to the visitors of the village school. To accommodate parents who have children in more than one building and to enable officials of the Board of Education and the P. T. A. to be present on each occasion, the following schedule of Open House dates has been worked out:

Nov. 10, Bridwell No. 17.
Nov. 13, Village School and Village Hall.
Nov. 17, Hillside No. 16.
Nov. 18, Kitty Corner No. 14.
Nov. 19, Plum Grove No. 19.
Nov. 20, Wittenberg No. 13.

THE TEACHERS are particularly desirous of meeting with parents during educational week—they are welcome, however, to visit school at any time. These friendly visits give all an opportunity to become better acquainted. The Palatine schools are marching ahead and cooperation and understanding are needed now more than ever in order that we may together give our children the educational experiences they need.

Education Week is one of special importance to the teachers and children of the Palatine Schools. The week has been set aside as a time for careful study of needs and values. The teachers and pupils of grades 6-7 and 8, for example, are studying the opportunities offered in school for developing responsibility and a keener sense of self-reliance. The boys and girls have offered many valuable suggestions for this study and the week promises to produce lasting values that will carry over throughout the year.

CHILDREN in all the grades are putting forth their best efforts to prepare for the visits of their parents. Many a father and mother will be surprised to learn what the results of these efforts are.

Open house at grade and high schools next Thursday

Both Palatine public schools, grade and high, are having open house next Thursday evening in observance of American Education Week. People of the community are urged to visit the schools, meet the teachers in their rooms, see the building and equipment, and in general find out more about the educational facilities available for Palatine children.

People need not have children in school in order to be welcome next Thursday. New people in the community are urged to visit the schools and find out what Palatine has to offer and what is needed to improve the schools.

At the high school teachers will be in their rooms to receive guests at 7:30. Student council members will serve as guides to show visitors about the building. Light refreshments will be served in the community room. Make an evening of it and pay a visit to both schools on Thursday.

Authorize grading and drainage work

The plans for Palatine Memorial Park were released to the public this week at a meeting of the Palatine Community Club.

The engineers frankly admit that the completed plans are too rich for Palatine of today, but they do show plans for future development "when" and "if" the town has grown to a size that there will be demand for such recreational facilities.

NEIGHBORING towns which have not yet entered the 10,000 population class have some of those park facilities, but none of those present Monday evening did not warm up to parts of the submitted plans. They wanted to know the cost today of the improvements that would be installed a number of years in the future. The engineers would not even give a guess.

PALATINE PARK BOARD held a three hour session Friday evening and directed the engineers to prepare the profiles to let grading and drainage contracts. The board refused to obligate itself any further.

They did however authorize the attorney to secure data regarding ownership titles, etc. of a tract of land immediately south of the park. It is understood that such data is being secured purely for study purposes and the owners will be consulted before condemnation proceedings are started.

VARIOUS members of the park board have since stated that the acquirement of the additional land will not be completed if the general public thinks it is not needed.

President Hartman of the park board was not present Friday night and Ed. Haseman presided. The discussion over future development of the park waxed warm at times. The board members are in agreement regarding the advisability of immediate grading and drainage if the park is to be used next year, but they do not agree with the engineer on a number of other features of the master plan.

Wm. Mair, in behalf of the high school board, asked that provision be made in the park for a hard ball diamond and a change in arrangement of the proposed softball diamond.

The extent of the flood lighting will depend upon the cooperation of the high school on which there has been only preliminary talks.

RESIDENTS of Palatine will have the opportunity to "see" for themselves next week when the plans appear in the Enterprise.

The editor of the Enterprise herewith passes on to the taxpayers of Palatine assurance that they may have no fear that the park board, as presently constituted, will make any snap decisions. Two of its members, William Mair and Ed. Haseman demonstrated that evening that no engineer or attorney is going to sell the park district a bill of goods that it does not want.

The fact that Bill and Ed do not always agree between themselves is further assurance that the people of Palatine are not going to be sold down the river.

THE STORY of the features of the master plan will be published with the etching in next week's issue.

The board was advised in a letter received this week that the park district can secure $1,-800 as a gift from the state for park planning purposes, provided that such planning is for actual premeditated work, not just an overall picture. The work now being done by the park engineer meets the state requirement.

PTA carnival is next week in high school gym

Palatine Parent-Teacher association will sponsor a carnival at the local high school the evening of Saturday, November 15. The proceeds of this carnival will help to carry on the PTA budget for the year.

Among the projects the PTA promotes for the school during the year are: refreshments for open house during School Education week; a trip to the city for all the members of the fifth grade; a baseball game for the Patrol boys; a treat for each child in the consolidated district at Hallowe'en; a Christmas tree for each school and several for the village school before Christmas.

The PTA also strives constantly to promote a better understanding between parents, teachers and the community that the children of the community might benefit. Interesting speakers are brought to the community from time to time, by the PTA, and delegates are sent to conventions to bring back new and better ideas for the promotion of child welfare and education.

At the carnival this year music for dancing will be provided by Phil Graf's Music Makers of Chicago. Since there will be no admission charge to get into the carnival there will be a small charge for each dance.

Mrs. Ray Schmidt will have charge of the bingo tables and Mrs. Walter Neitz will see that there are plenty of refreshments.

Other chairmen are: Mystery booth, Mrs. William Mason; candy booth, Mrs. Albert Johnson; fancy work, Mrs. Edwin Greenwood; bakery, Mrs. Roy Florey; dancing, Mrs. George Pillsford.

Donations to any of the above booths will be gladly accepted at the high school after 1 p. m. Saturday, November 15.

Tests given high school pupils reveal aptitudes

In February, 1946, G. A. McElroy, principal of Palatine township high school, appointed a committee of three teachers to make a study of the guidance procedures in the high school and to make recommendations for changes.

As a result of this study, the program was changed from a decentralized to a centralized one. The personnel staff consists of Mr. McElroy, who acts as director, and a committee consisting of the four class counselors — all of whom have a master's degree in guidance — and three other faculty members. Miss Lemmon, the junior counselor, is chairman of the committee.

The other members are Mr. Mills, senior counselor; Miss Gibb, sophomore counselor; Miss Jumps, freshman counselor; Miss Francis, Mrs. Gieske, and Miss McCue. Each counselor is relieved of one class daily and is assigned approximately seventy-five students. Members of the office practice class assist in the routine clerical work.

The new plan does not discourage counseling by the other teachers. It merely shifts the responsibility for a specific part of the counseling program to the four counselors. This program provides for the following:

SPRING REGISTRATION. Tests are administered and a spring registration is held for all eighth grade students in the district. The testing program includes the Kuhlmann-Anderson School Aptitude Test, which measures the potentialities of the individual, and the Iowa Every Pupil Test, which measures the language, quantitative, general academic, reading, and written English achievements of the individual.

On the basis of the information furnished by the test scores, recommendation of former teachers, and suggestions from par-

Errors in delinquent list

This year, as always, many errors have cropped up in the delinquent tax list. In the compiling of this list at the county building clerical errors occur which make it appear that people who have paid their taxes are delinquent.

In this year's Palatine township delinquent list Mae Gibbs, Obren Belich and Frank Scharringhausen were shown among the delinquents where, as a matter of fact, all had paid their assessments.

Each year many regular taxpayers get on that delinquent list by mistake, making it embarrassing to the taxpayer, the collectors and everyone concerned.

Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever flourishes best in the north temperate zone. In the United States, as well as in other countries with comparable climates, it is especially prevalent in the winter and spring months. Most of its victims are found among the needy population of our larger cities where overcrowding, undernutrition and unfavorable hygienic surroundings prevail. More than one member of a family often is affected. The disease usually begins in childhood, but it may occur (and often does recur) in adult life.

Learn about work of Travelers Aid Society

Mrs. D. Wendall Fentress, former case worker of the Travellers Aid Society gave a glimpse of the services rendered by this organization at the November 4 meeting of the Palatine Woman's Club.

Mrs. Fentress, whos was presented by the Rehabiliation Department, told ofthe heartaches and joys, drama and comedy that are all in a day's work. To assist the weary traveller is the only object of the aid, whether it be to locate a runaway, find a relative, offer advice to a serviceman, meet a war bride, or feed babies. Mrs. Fentress had an unusual talent fro painting these word pictures which were enjoyed by all the members.

The Traveller's Aid Society is one of the Woman's Club's charities, and a very deserving one indeed.

During the business meeting, which preceded the program, Mrs. George Gschwindt, first vice president of the seventh district, reported having attended several department meetings in the district.

November 18 a voluntary collection for refurnishing the Danville Faculty Chapel and providing Christmas cheer in Palatine will be taken.

During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Fred Shermer, assisted by: Miss Nellie Munn, Mrs. John Senne, Mrs. Herman Strandberg, Mrs. Ernest Wiehrdt, Mrs. John Wente and Mrs. Lisle McKowen.

Display Company Flags

Super time had at Lions Hallowe'en party

Hallowe'en pranks were forgotten last Friday night as the youngsters of Palatine enjoyed a party staged in the park near the Honor Roll. A parade led by Kenneth Mangels and Jerry Herrmann to furnish the music opened the festivities. Goblins, ghosts, cowboys and many other strange costumes competed for the many prizes.

Judges of the costumes were Mesdames George Gschwindt, Harry Tharp, and Carl Scharninghousen. First prize went to Raymond Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis; and second place was tied for by the two McElroy girls, Roberta and Suzanne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McElroy. Many other prizes were awarded and the judges found it difficult to choose the winners as all the costumes were so cleverly made.

Magician Jimmy Thompson kept the crowd of children and grown-ups amused and confused with a bag full of tricks. At the height of the hub-dub in order to keep the small fry quiet, he threatened to turn some of the noisier ones into elephants and there were some who were quite disappointed that this trick was not completed.

Ice cream cones, apples and doughnuts were passed out by Carl Scharninghousen, Roy La Londe, Gray Sanborn, Gerald McElroy, Paul Manning, George Gschwindt, and Leighton Mangels of the Palatine Lions club, under whose sponsorship the party was staged.

Grecian Cherries

The Greeks cultivated cherry trees as early as 300 B. C.

Bazaar and food sale

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of The First Methodist Church of Palatine cordially invites everyone to attend their bazaar and food sale to be held at the church Wednesday, November 19, from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Among the items of interest will be a "Food Emporium," featuring the favorite dishes of various nations, with the sales ladies dressed in native costume. There will also be a "General Store" offering fresh country eggs and other interesting and useful articles. This "Store" will have the old time "cracker barrel" but instead of crackers there will be found in it mysterious packages for sale at small prices. Homemade bakery goods and handmade fancy work will also be available.

A barbecue lunch and other refreshments will be served at a reasonable price. School teachers and children are invited to take advantage of this luncheon opportunity.

Protection for Mortgage

A life insurance policy that will pay off the balance of the mortgage in case of death is highly desirable for any home buyer. The premium is relatively low and most lenders encourage the idea.

Don Payne to participate in 'Exercise Snowdrop'

Prospect Heights Paratrooper, Donald J. Payne, arrived at Pine Camp, New York, this week, to participate in the cold weather

"Exercise Snowdrop," being conducted by 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team, of the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Pfc. Payne, son of Wm. Payne, 709 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Hgts., Ill., has been training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, preparing for the over-snow exercise. Extensive cold weather experiments, featuring personnel and equipment reaction to unusually cold weather will outline the training plans for the winter maneuver.

"Exercise Snowdrop," as the maneuvers have been labeled, will be the second in a series of cold weather operations, which are contemplated to be conducted continuously, using each preceding year as a basis for progress the following year. All types of training will establish precedence for airborne tactics and techniques in the future. The crack paratroopers will learn skiing, snow shoeing, toboggan transportability, and all other necessary operations of military armament and equipment in deep snow.

The 505 Airborne Battalion Combat Team will climax their maneuvers in February of 1948, with an unprecedented sub-zero weather airhead attack, proceded by a mass battalion parachute drop. The rugged paratroopers will then deploy and operate independently, for a 72-hour duration.

"Exercise Snowdrop" is a progressive step by the Army Ground Forces to improve airborne technique, and stabilize the modern army.

Methodist pastor in special work for church group

Special honors and duties have recently come tothe Rev. William Harry Fetz, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Palatine. The most recent honor was the assigning to him of the task of preparing an auditory and visual aids demonstration at a Methodist Northern sub-district church school crusade conference to be held at the Park Ridge Methodist church November 18, at 8:00 p. m. Rev. Fetz has pioneered for several years in the use of visual and auditory aids in worship and teaching, and as a consequence, was selected to arrange for the demonstration mentioned.

Another important honor and task came to Rev. Fetz a few weeks ago when the Commission on Study of the Methodist Rock River conference, meeting at Elgin, elected him chairman of a committee on church publicity, which is to be charged with the responsibility of collecting samples of local church publicity from the nearly 400 churches in Rock River conference and preparing them for display at the annual conference next June, and at a Seminar in church publicity to he held soon for the churches of the conference.

Rev. Fetz's publicity, used in his own churches, has attracted wide-spread attention throughout the Rock River Conference, and has earned him a recognized position of leadership in this field.

Women's Guild thankoffering at St. Paul church

Sunday, November 9 the members of the Women's Guild of St. Paul church are asked to bring in their special Thankoffering boxes. These boxes were distributed to all members for special gifts to be deposited in the boxes whenever some special blessing has come to them or their homes and loved ones. They are an expression of thanksgiving for every day of the year.

The proceeds of these special gifts are used for special projects supported by the Women's Guilds of the Evangelical and Reformed churches. They are used in the field of Missions, the erection of new buildings for Mission churches, and the appointment of special workers in these fields of the church. A sum of $18,000 is to be raised by the Women's Guilds of the Evangelical and Reformed churches. These ventures of sharing are possible because the individual women have been grateful for specific blessings. Much is done with the power of the Widow's Mite when God adds his blessing of united and cooperative Church Women.

Boxes not brought in on Sunday are to be brought in on Thursday, November 13th at the Women's Guild meeting.

Chicago and Northern Illinois... Printing Center of the World

"Working on big printing presses has been my job for 20 years. I help print the millions of books, magazines and catalogs that publishers and mail order houses send every year to readers all over the world. In my lifetime I've seen this area take the lead in printing. The concentration of skilled labor and equipment in the graphic arts industries of this region is today unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Printing is my business, and I'm glad I live and work where opportunities in my line, and many others, are greatest."

This pressman* is one of 70,000 skilled craftsmen who work in the tremendous printing industry in this area. The graphic arts group in this area is the most mechanically complete and widely diversified in the United States. It ranks first in number of employes, wages paid, number of establishments, and is highest in economic value. Located here are the three largest commercial printing plants in the world, as well as hundreds of smaller printing specialists with fine skills and equipment to meet every conceivable requirement as to artistry, economy, and flexibility of processes.

Everything from mail order catalogs to technical books is run off in the 3,100 printing plants in this region. Annually they produce a greater volume than any comparable area in the world. And today, to meet the ever-increasing needs of industries here, Northern Illinois is rapidly expanding in every field of commercial printing.

The postal zoning laws for second-class mailings passed in 1918 made Northern Illinois the most economical and strategic location for the printing of national publications. Within a radius of 500 miles are more than a third of the nation's readers and buyers and 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns. Magazines and catalogs, as well as products from manufacturers in this area, reach their destinations quickly and on time because of the unexcelled shipping facilities of Northern Illinois . . . the greatest transportation center in the world.

To industries seeking locations, skilled workers and strategic location are only two of the many advantages offered by the Northern Illinois territory. As an aid to those considering relocation, our Territorial Information Department will supply factual data concerning this area and pertinent to your business. This department will supply studies in as great detail as is required, confidentially and without charge.

Industries in this area have these outstanding advantages: Railroad Center of the United States • World Airport • Inland Waterways • Geographical Center of U. S. Population • Great Financial Center • The "Great Central Market" • Food Producing and Processing Center • Leader in Iron and Steel Manufacturing • Good Labor Relations Record • Tremendous Coal Reserves • Good Government Good Living • Good Services for Tax Dollars • Send for free booklets containing useful information on these advantages.

Arlington Heights village board unofficially recognizes that the right of a renewal of a liquor license goes to the individual and not to the location. That point was definitely stated Monday night when Mr. Gruppe, original holder of the license at the Town Pump was told that the transfer of said license to his renter, Harold Lamb, gave Mr. Lamb future control over said license.

ents, the program for the first year in high school is planned.

GROUP GUIDANCE in the form of a social science course for all freshmen has as its objective the traing of better citizens of the school, community, is devoted to helping students become oriented to high school life. During the second semester the students study various vocations and take the Kuder Vocational Interest Test to help them choose the vocation for which they are best fitted.

A cumulative folder is on file for every student. In this folder is found significant information concerning health, attendance, school marks, standardized test data, out-of-class activities, work experiences; and personal assets, and daily schedules.

TESTS. Since periodic testing has more predictive value and is more reliable than a group of tests given at any one time, tests are given at different times during the student's four-year high school course.

The SRA Primary Mental Ability Test, given to all sophomores, measures the following areas:

1. Verbal Meaning is the ability to understand ideas expressed in words. High ability in this area is especially useful in such school courses as English, foreign languages, shorthand, history, and science.

2. Space is the ability to think in three dimensions. It is helpful in geometry, mechanical drawing, art, manual training, physics, and geography classes.

3. Reasoning is the ability to solve logical problems — to foresee and plan. The higher a student advances the more reasoning he needs for success.

THE KUDER Preference Record given in the freshman and junior years measures nine major interest fields: mechanical, computational, scientific, persuasive, artistic, literary, musical, social-service, and clerical.

The University of Illinois testing program covers most of the juniors in the state. It includes tests of linguistic and quantitative ability, ability to read both social and physical science material, and ability to express oneself in written English. It is possible to compare a student's abilities in these fields with those of all the other juniors in the state. The University expects students who plan to enter Illinois University to rank at least in the fortieth percental on the total of these tests.

COUNSELING. For the purpose of program planning at least two conferences are scheduled for each student during the freshman, sophomore, and junior years. The information available in the cumulative folder is used in assisting the student in planning his four-year course. Help is given to each senior in selecting a college and in choosing a vocation. Special conferences are scheduled for all students doing unsatisfactory work.

At the present time no organized follow-up services for students who have graduated or dropped out of school are provided, however, incidental follow-up services are in effect. All boys and girls who have been enrolled in the Palatine township high school are encouraged to return at any time for assistance.

The guidance committee is especially interested in having all parents visit the guidance room on Thursday evening, November 13. Samples of permanent record cards, a cumulative folder, and personal data questionnaires will be on display.

October building passes a third of a million dollars

Paul Taege, Arlington Heights building commissioner approved building permits during October that passed a third of a million dollar mark. Thirty-two homes will cost $356,252. Six garages swell the total permits by $6,500. Other permits add an additionalditional $10,250.

One permit was issued to Walter Karstens for an $18,000 residence at 727 N. Chestnut st. Nine homes in the $10,000 class will be erected by A. C. Jacobs in the 700 and 800 block of E. Euclid. Nine additional homes are scheduled for Eastwood, on the opposite side of that street.

Among the individuals who will erect homes is Edward W. Crofoot, who has scheduled a $20,000 residence at the southwest corner of Haddow and Hawthorn. Jacobs & Jacobson have taken out permits for three homes.

Indoor circus at high school in two performances Sunday

The circus is coming! The calliope will whistle its merry tunes. There will be popcorn, peanuts, and big red ballons. The clowns will cavort in the sawdust ring, aerialists will thrill the crowd. Trained horses, monkeys, dogs, ponies and lions will prance and leap on an especially designed protective ring pad which covers highly polished floors. The cowboys and cowgirls will spin ropes, crack their whips and throw knives.

IT IS THE Ayres and Kathryn Davies Indoor Circus, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Youth Center at the high school gym Sunday, November 9, for two performances, 3:30 and 7:30.

Tickets at 76c for adults and 50c for children and students, will be on sale at the public elementary schools and the Lutheran school Thursday and Friday, from 3:00 to 4:15, and at the St. James Thursday and Friday from 12 noon to 12:30. E. J. Krause dies suddenly

A second Arlington Heights business man died within a week. E. J. Krause, familiarly called "Jake," passed away suddenly Monday morning. His death is attributed to acute coronary occlusion. He had made a delivery with his truck and was on his way home when stricken.

AS HE PASSED Vail street, on Campbell, he waved to Max Warson. The attack must have come immediately afterwards, but he had the presence of mind to shut off his motor and drive to the side of the road. The car had sufficient headway to crash into an obstruction.

Discovery of his condition was made by employees of Knaack Motor Sales, who, driving out of the service road, found their way obstructed by Mr. Krause's truck. Jake was slumped to the side of the car. Dr. Carr, who was immediately called, stated that he had been dead about ten minutes.

MR. KRAUSE conducted a meat market on Campbell street from 1928 to 1943 when, due to rationing restrictions, he sold to his uncle, Otto Krause. He has since that time dealt in the purchase of cattle, following the footsteps of his father, the late Waldemar Krause. His home was at the west end of Campbell street.

Deceased enjoyed hunting. He was one of the organizers of the Arlington Sportsmen's Club. He cooperated with the state conservation department and for a time raised pheasants.

Elk Grove fire league gives ample protection, say farmers

Nearly fifty of the people from rural areas who were present Monday evening at the farm bureau auditorium to discuss the organization of a fire protection district, were members of the Elk Grove rural fire league. They had only to explain the manner in which their organization operated to convince proponents of the proposed fire protection district that Elk Grove township and parts of the rural areas of Wheeling township have fire protection services that rival those of districts supported by a direct tax. Albert Kraemer was their spokesman.

AT THE conclusion of Kraemer's talk and with a study of a map prepared by E. A. Carncross it was found that with the exception of a few areas, all of northwestern Cook county has excellent fire protection. It is served by four legally organized districts, five voluntary districts and departments of adjoining municipalities.

The tax districts are Barrington operating in that township; Palatine district that extends from the county line to the northern part of Schaumburg on the south and Rand road on the east; Long Grove, including a strip along the northern part of Palatine and Wheeling townships and Prospect Heights, covering that village.

THE VOLUNTEER districts are Bartlett, Elk Grove, Bensenville and Glenview. The city of Des Plaines will answer all rural calls whose owners have reported that they carry insurance policies guaranteeing payment of $100 for each call answered. Arlington Heights makes no attempt to provide rural fire protection and its equipment does not include water storage tanks.

The Elk Grove Rural Fire League is self supporting. An original assessment is levied of $15 for farms and $7 for residences in subdivisions. There has been no other direct assessment during the eleven years of its existence. There are between 400 and 500 members.

OTHER FARMERS present at Monday night's meeting admitted that Elk Grove has an excellent set-up and that the unprotected territory in the Arlington area is too small to organize a district on its own. The Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural departments have never refused to answer any fire call, within or without their districts.

An effort will be made to have the board of underwriters give the same rating to the Mt. Prospect area that is now enjoyed by property owners in the Palatine, Barrington and Long Grove districts.

Fred W. Gieseke, Heights' foremost business man, dies

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road.

His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church. Remains are resting at the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

MR. GIESEKE'S activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road, south of Euclid road, also the area south of South street, west of State road.

Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter church. The present chimes in tha church were given by him a a memorial. He was a devote husband and father.

THE DECEASED was one o the organizers, directors and la ter president of the Peoples Stat Bank. Iowa Church Growth

From one miniature church built of logs in 1834 to more than 4,000 places of worship in 1947—small wonder that Iowa frequently is referred to as a "Bible Commonwealth." Dominating force behind the building of that first church was Barton Randle, the first circuit rider of the Dubuque region, who went from house to house for contributions ranging from 12½ cents to 25 dollars until he had $250. When completed, it was dedicated by a two-day meeting with a membership of 12 persons.

Name Seven On Roselle Steering Committee

A. J. Richert, Chas. A. Thomas, Amanda Clark, C. J. McLanahan, Howard Turner, A. H. Binneboese and Mary Dunbar have been chosen as the steering committee of the Roselle Community Council. These seven people are responsible for administration of the council's affairs for the coming year.

"We are following a unique pattern here in Roselle," stated Al Richert, "in that we do not have elected offices. This insures a community organization such as ours from becoming dominated by one organ or clique."

AT THE BUSINESS meeting held recently it was decided to ask the village council to work out a detailed plan for street repairs for the next year and submit it not later than January at the next meeting of the council.

Evelyn Haberkamp, K. Hail and Mary Dunbar were appointed to meet with a committee of the library board to plan a "Know Your Library Week." It was agreed that three different members of the community council would attend each meeting of the village council.

THE PARK BOARD reported that approximately an acre had been donated to increase the size of the park. Work on a baseball diamond for next year will be begun this fall.

The Community council then heard talks by Messrs. Krage, Burnsten and Kane of the DuPage County Family Service association. It was decided that the steering committee be authorized to enter into a campaign to raise money for the Family Service association.

Chicago and Northern Illinois... Printing Center of the World

"Working on big printing presses has been my job for 20 years. I help print the millions of books, magazines and catalogs that publishers and mail order houses send every year to readers all over the world. In my lifetime I've seen this area take the lead in printing. The concentration of skilled labor and equipment in the graphic arts industries of this region is today unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Printing is my business, and I'm glad I live and work where opportunities in my line, and many others, are greatest."

This pressman* is one of 70,000 skilled craftsmen who work in the tremendous printing industry in this area. The graphic arts group in this area is the most mechanically complete and widely diversified in the United States. It ranks first in number of employes, wages paid, number of establishments, and is highest in economic value. Located here are the three largest commercial printing plants in the world, as well as hundreds of smaller printing specialists with fine skills and equipment to meet every conceivable requirement as to artistry, economy, and flexibility of processes.

Everything from mail order catalogs to technical books is run off in the 3,100 printing plants in this region. Annually they produce a greater volume than any comparable area in the world. And today, to meet the ever-increasing needs of industries here, Northern Illinois is rapidly expanding in every field of commercial printing.

The postal zoning laws for second-class mailings passed in 1918 made Northern Illinois the most economical and strategic location for the printing of national publications. Within a radius of 500 miles are more than a third of the nation's readers and buyers and 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns. Magazines and catalogs, as well as products from manufacturers in this area, reach their destinations quickly and on time because of the unexcelled shipping facilities of Northern Illinois ... the greatest transportation center in the world.

To industries seeking locations, skilled workers and strategic location are only two of the many advantages offered by the Northern Illinois territory. As an aid to those considering relocation, our Territorial Information Department will supply factual data concerning this area and pertinent to your business. This department will supply studies in as great detail as is required, confidentially and without charge.

Bensenville Lions

Extra! Extra! The Tigers with their new set of teeth tore into the league leaders and made a clean sweep by beating them three games. The Tigers are captained by Bernie Pruyn and sparked by Clinton Pickett.

The Lynx came out on top 2 to 1 in their tussle with the Elephants. Oswald, bowling 20 pins over his average, was the key man. In the first game Martin and Weber each had a good game to help out.

Merle Cummings of the Bears, shooting a 526 series and supplanting Vern Franzen for the individual lead, helped his team win 2 games from the "tough luck" Panda team. The Pandas have always managed to have two or three men with a 500 or over series and still have had the tough luck of only winning one game a night.

The Black Panthers took advantage of Paul Droegemuller's off night and won three games to go into a first place tie with the Giraffes.

Team standing:

Giraffes	14	10
Panthers	14	10
Lynx	13	11
Elephants	12	12
Bears	12	12
Zebras	11	13
Tigers	11	13
Pandas	9	15

500 series: I. Geils 571, Weber 552, Eckert 540, Biehler 535, Cummings 526, Peterson 509, Olhaber 503, Kolze 501.

Threatened Future Wars Must Be Stopped
. . . Before They Start

It is fitting and proper that we should observe November 11th as the 29th anniversary of the great day that ended World War I. But we cannot afford to forget that 23 years after the first Armistice Day we were fighting World War II.

The importance of Armistice Day to us now is as a rallying date for our efforts to stop all wars before they start.

In Women's League At Westby's

Bensenville Hardware Gals, in the Tuesday Night Women's League on the Westby Lanes, Bensenville, after being in the second division for some time, are very much in the running for league honors now that they have moved into a tie with the second place Reids Apparel Shop, three games away from the league leading Hello Girls.

Ethel Forke threw a towering 184-189-194—567 for her Hardware team enabling them to win all three games over the Geils Funeral Home quarter. As a result of this loss the Geils Girls were relegated into the cellar. Katherine Earhart broke loose in two 182 and 168 stick falling for her . . . Litz Leider and Beata Kehoe did not cut into the triangle of pins for big counts . . . they were satisfied with what their playmates were gathering.

Audrey Riley will have her team out of the cellar before long. With Ethel Dehlinger, Ruth Geils and Mary Andresen as helpers they are bound to move upward.

Although the S and S team shuffled their line up the net result was two games lost to the Reids Apparel Shop team. Evelyn Baumgartner, who was always anchored, decided to lead off, leaving the last spot for Eleanor Mensching. When the final counts were in the Gals decided their first choice of position would be best; next week it will again be Eleanor first and Evelyn in the anchor position. Susan Mathews shows the lack of practice, four and five pin spare counts after her first ball hits the sticks. Blanche 'Junior' Dohe, king pin star of the Dress Shop team, dropped her average a few points . . . Dorothy Grobe, of the Bowling Grobe's enjoys a "Coke" after an evening of arm swinging . . . Billy Dunteman, much to her surprise, joined the under 109 club Audrey Wagner's Bankers pushed the Silhouette team aside twice, in a contest that was closely fought all the way, strikes and spares being matched every frame by the bowlerettes, then in the last frame the deciding marks were registered: Irene Stellman started the last game with a turkey, her final count being 175 . . . Lil Kaufman, the "School Mam" bowler, found 183 sticks in her basket . . . Alice 'Lefty' Becker bowls with the well known Elmhurst Bowlerettes match game team . . . Nora Brettman turned her ankle, first time out after the accident she did not reach her average counts . . . Ejay Capoot hit 156 in her high single game . . . Jean Leek was tired before the last game was reached.

Mille Ebert's league leading Hello Girls lost the odd to the Fogiettes, Grace Rusteberg being the only phone girl able to find the right boards for her ball, 156-175-145—476 . . . Betty Benham, Marge Kiewicz and Mille Ebert were not able to bunch their strikes for counts . . . Ralph and Florence Bolling finished second in the Elmhurst Recreation mixed doubles event last week end . . . Grace Grobe had 151 and 143 in her high games.

Replace FRAYED Cords NOW!

Puppies aren't the only ones who can harm themselves with worn-out electric cords. The entire family, from infants to adults, are endangered by worn-out wiring.

Exposed wires are often the cause of blown fuses, wasted electricity and short circuits. Check your home for this common hazard and eliminate it.

Safe, adequate wiring is again possible after wartime shortages.

You no longer have to "get by" with makeshift, inferior wiring—replace every frayed cord with a new one today. Educate each member of the family in this elementary safety rule—never yank an electric cord—handle only the plug when disconnecting from a wall socket.

Evelyn Haberkamp, K. Hail and Mary Dunbar were appointed to meet with a committee of the library board to plan a "Know Your Library Week." It was agreed that three different members of the community council would attend each meeting of the village council.

THE PARK BOARD reported that approximately an acre had been donated to increase the size of the park. Work on a baseball diamond for next year will be begun this fall.
